SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR
Its peculiar efficacy is due to the skill in compounding as to the ingredients themselves. Take it in time. It checks the bile on the outset, or if necessary will prove a potent cure.
It takes the place of a doctor and a costly prescription. All who lead sedentary lives will find the best preventive of indigestion, headache, biliousness, constipation, mental depression, no loss of time, no interference with business, while taking. For children it is most invigorating and harmless. No danger from over-dose. Cures Colic, Diarrhoea, Bowel Complaints, Feverishness, and Febrile Colds. Invalids and delicate persons will find it the mildest and most refreshing sleep taken at night insures refreshing sleep and a natural evacuation of the bowels, and a little taken in the morning sharpens the appetite, cleanses the stomach and sweetens the breath.
A PHYSICIAN'S OPINION.
"I have been practicing medicine for twenty years and have never been able to find a vegetable compound that would, as effectively move the liver to action, and at the same time, (instead of weakening) the digestive and assimilative powers of the system."

It was current rumor in newspaper circles of New York recently that Ex-Mayor E. Oakey Hall had been asked to come back from London and take the chief editorship of the Star as successor to the late Wm. Dowheimer.
A scientific man, after experimenting with an air gun, comes to the conclusion that to drive straws into pine boards and hickory bark, as is often done by tornadoes, a velocity of 150 to 175 miles must be attained by the wind.
Indians in the United States last year cultivated 227,965 acres of land and raised 723,958 bushels of wheat, 684,972 bushels of corn, 512,137 bushels of oats and barley, 524,010 bushels of vegetables and 101,828 tons of hay. A St. Paul man who had wrong notions about the hardness of genuine diamonds, in order to be sure that he wasn't cheated put one of the gems that he proposed to buy on an anvil and struck it a sharp blow with a hammer. He bought the diamond, but he never was able to take possession. There wasn't a piece left big enough to see after the blow was struck.
In Paris, masters and mistresses, as alleged by a correspondent, spreading the criticisms of the servants' hall and desiring comfort in the dining room, have dispensed with the service of waiters; instead, a miniature electric railway is laid down on the dining table and continued on the same level to the kitchen through an aperture in the wall. Dishes come in and after having made the round, go out on a sort of small truck. The truck can be stopped anywhere, and does its work admirably, and any amount of art may be lavished on it to make it beautiful.

An Indiana man, fearing grave robbers, put a lot of dynamite into the coffin containing the body of his daughter, and this fact was well known. The other day his wife died, and the grave diggers had a dangerous job digging a grave beside that of the daughter, and many persons would not go to the cemetery, fearing an explosion.

Mayor Hewitt has been hard at work stirring up things in New York city. He refused to allow the public offices of the city to be closed on Good Friday, as that was not a legal holiday. He has also instituted an investigation into the nationality of the members of the police force, and it was shown that 2,123 of the 3,263 policemen of the city were born in the United States. The Irish had a large per cent. of the number of those born in foreign lands.

Peculiar in medicinal merit and wonderful cures—Hood's Sarsaparilla. Now is the time to take it, for now it will do the most good.

Rock Crystal Spectacles and Eyeglasses.
Advice to old and young: In selecting spectacles you should be cautious not to take more magnifying power than has been lost to the eye as in the same proportion that you pass that point of increase, will cause you further injury to the eye. Using glasses of stronger power than is necessary is the daily cause of premature old age to the sight. You can get the best at Heinsberger's.

The Alarm This Morning.
The alarm of fire this morning about 9.30 o'clock, sent in from box 41, was caused by the burning of a small hole in the roof of a frame building on the corner of Sixth and Church streets, occupied by J. D. Davis, colored. The fire department turned out promptly, the Adrian getting the first stream.

An Incident of the Late War.
The Fayetteville Observer records the death of one of its most honored and esteemed citizens Capt. W. T. Taylor, Cashier of the Fayetteville State Bank and Treasurer of the county of Cumberland. He died on Sunday morning, in the 47th year of his age.

We had not the pleasure of an acquaintance with Capt. Taylor but we have known of him and we are sure that his loss will be seriously and keenly felt by all of the people of Fayetteville, his native town. He was a gallant Confederate soldier and gave one of his limbs, a leg, to the cause he had espoused, and this fact suggests an incident that we are sure has never yet found its way into print. Capt. Taylor was wounded and captured during the war and sent to Fort Warren, in Boston Harbor. He was eventually paroled and while trying to make his way back home he stopped one day at a little town in Connecticut.

He entered the hotel there and was greeted by the proprietor, who bade him cordially welcome, with the remark that the loss of his leg was an honorable wound and should be a passport to the kindness and sympathy of Christian people everywhere. Thinking that he was mistaken for a wounded Federal soldier Capt. Taylor remarked that he was probably ignorant of the side on which the wound had been received and that he was a paroled Confederate soldier. On hearing this the noble-hearted Northerner remarked that that made no difference whatever; that he would not take back one word he had said but would repeat it all and then cordially tendered Capt. Taylor the hospitalities of his house. Further conversation between the two gentlemen developed a pleasing surprise for both for it was found that mine host's name was Parker and that he had a brother who had resided for some years at Fayetteville, N. C., where he had imbibed Southern ideas and had become such a rabid secessionist that he had volunteered his services and had actually, with his company, participated in the first battle of the war. Capt. Taylor then found out that his kind host was none other than the brother of a very dear friend and comrade-in-arms, Capt. Wm. M. Parker, with whom he fought, shoulder to shoulder, at the battle of Bethel.

This is a strange coincidence, but it is a fact. Capt. Parker, who was for so many years previous to his death a resident of this city, where he was greatly beloved and esteemed, himself narrated the circumstances to a friend, from whom he has it.

The C. F. & Y. V. Surveying Party.
We hear frequently, says the Fayetteville Observer, of the surveying party as they wind their way to Wilmington. When last heard from they were about twenty miles from here over the Cape Fear. They made three surveys for crossing the Cape Fear—one where the road stops at the river, one between McNeill & Hall's mill and the mouth of Cross Creek, and another via the Wilson Short Cut bridge. The people along the line seem to be awakened, and meetings are being held at different points to induce the company to locate the road through their section. Doubtless the location will depend much upon the subscription offered.

The Pearson Meetings.
Sixty odd persons made confession of religion last night at the Tabernacle. This afternoon the services were for children and the attendance was very large indeed. To-morrow Mr. Pearson will rest and next services will be on Sunday night.

Merit Wins.
We desire to say to our citizens that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. Wm. H. Green, Druggist.

Gilmore's Band.

One of the most popular, as it certainly is one of the most important, musical events that ever engaged the attention of the people of this city, is the concert to be given at the Opera House on Wednesday evening next, the 11th inst., by Gilmore's famous Band, fortified with anvils and cannons, and made still more attractive by the accession of such noted soloists as Liberati, the cornetist; Madame Annie Louis Tanner, soprano; Signorina Carlotta Maionda, soprano; M'lie Hellene Milline, contralto; Signor Henry Battestini, tenor; Signor Tagliapietra, basso; Fraulein Mina Buhlmeier, pianist.

Bishop Haid's Official Appointment.
The Baltimore Sun of Wednesday says: The Right Rev. Leo Haid, abbot of St. Mary's College, Gaston county, N. C., arrived in Baltimore yesterday morning, and spent the day with Cardinal Gibbons at the archiepiscopal residence, where he received the briefs, which recently arrived from Rome, appointed him vicar apostolic of North Carolina, and Bishop of Messene, a place in Greece, near Corinth. Bishop Haid left this city on the 4.35 p. m., train for Richmond but will return to Baltimore and be ordained bishop in July. He was born in Westmoreland county, Pa., July 15, 1849, near the town of Latrobe. When ten years of age he was sent to St. Vincent's College, then under its founder, Archbishop Boniface Wimmer, with the intention of studying for the priesthood. He made his simple vows in 1869, and was ordained priest in 1872 while teaching at the college. He remained there as professor of the commercial department and chaplain until 1885, when he was elected abbot of St. Mary's College, in Gaston county, N. C. As such he was blessed and ordained on November 13, 1885. On December 7, 1887, he was appointed by Cardinal Gibbons vicar apostolic of North Carolina. His predecessors as vicar apostolic of North Carolina were Cardinal Gibbons, Bishop Keane, of Richmond and Bishop Northrop, of Charleston. The see was erected in 1865.
