Rock Crystal Spectacles and Eyeglasses
Advice to old and young: In selecting spectacles you should be cautious not to take more magnifying power than has been lost to the eye as in the same proportion that you pass that point of increase, will cause you further injury to the eye. Using glasses of stronger power than is necessary is the daily cause of premature old age to the sight. You can get the best at Heinsberger's.

Established Facts.
It is an established fact that I. Shrier sells fine Custom Made Clothing, Hats, Caps, Gent's Furnishing Goods, 25 per cent. lower than any other house in the city. His large increase in sales shows that the public appreciate the same. A saving of 25 per cent. guaranteed.

I. SHRIER,
The Old Reliable Clothier and Hatter, No. 16 North Front street (Purcell House.)
Sign of the Golden Arm.

The Wells and Stallings Families.
We learn from Dr. Potter, City Physician, that the Wells and Stallings families who have been reported as in much destitution at the corner of Brunswick and Eighth streets, are in much easier circumstances, the neighbors having very kindly aided them to the extent of their abilities. One of the parties Mr. William Wells, a young man about grown, died this morning but the others are improving. It has been a pitiable case, calling for the good offices of charitable people.

A Big Fire in Wadesboro.

There was a big fire in Wadesboro yesterday morning. It originated about half past 4 o'clock, in the pantry of the Grand Central Hotel. The loss is very heavy, footing up in all nearly $30,000. We glean the following particulars from the Wadesboro Messenger of yesterday's date:

About half past four o'clock this morning the Grand Central Hotel, D. L. Parker proprietor, was discovered to be burning, the fire having originated in the pantry on second floor.

The entire building was consumed, including Hotel, Williams & Parker's Hall, and the stores on the first floor. The building was owned by Williams & Parker, and cost originally $14,000, and was insured by W. A. Rose, agent, for $5,000. The furniture, owned by D. L. Parker, was valued at $3,000, on which there was an insurance for $500. Besides, Mr. Parker lost a piano worth $400, and insured for $200. The corner store was occupied by Mr. James Duffie, as a saloon. He had no insurance, his policy having expired about two weeks ago. His loss is estimated at $800. The next room was the office of the hotel. Adjoining the office was an unoccupied store room, and then came the store of Dry & Co. They lost in the removal and injury of goods about $200. Next was the book store of Henry Davis. He estimates his loss at about $200. Mr. Henry Williams lost about $150 in the removal of goods.

The fire spread from the hotel to the stable in the rear, which was consumed. It was owned by Williams & Parker and valued at $500, and insured for $200. It was occupied by J. J. Little as a sale stable, and he lost in feed, &c., about $300. His stock was saved.

The flames also reached the wooden building lately occupied as the postoffice, and owned by R. L. Bruner. It was fully insured. The frame building, owned by T. S. Crowson, in which was the grocery store of J. A. Atkinson, was crushed by the falling walls of the hall, and the stable and fencing back of the lot was burned. Mr. Crowson's loss is estimated at $1,000, insured for $400. Mr. Atkinson's loss was very slight. The barber shop, owned by A. G. Bruner, and occupied by Rafe Allen was torn down. Loss estimated at $200.

There was great danger of the fire extending across the street to C. M. Little's store. Many of his goods were removed, and his injury is estimated at about $150, covered by insurance. Mr. J. T. Pinkston was in the same danger; his loss by removal and damage of goods is about $100.

Of the boarders in the hotel W. C. Hardison lost about $400, in watch, money and papers. He was cut off from the stairs and jumped from his window in the third story to the shed in rear of the hotel, severely spraining his ankle. J. E. Horne lost clothing and valuable papers. He was rooming with Mr. Hardison, and came down on the gutter. W. H. Lane lost about $90. A. C. Nicholls about $100, Ben Swinson all his clothing, and Dr. W. E. Gray lost a gold watch and clothing. There were several traveling men in the hotel, but it is believed they lost nothing.

One of the saddest things about the fire is the serious injury of Major T. J. Ingram. He was struck by falling material and is suffering from a scalp wound and severe internal injuries. It is feared that his condition is critical.

Our people rallied readily and worked hard, but we have no fire department, and we were powerless to check the devouring element. Much assistance was rendered in the removal of goods to places of safety.

Williams & Parker are the heaviest individual losers, but the loss to the town is inestimable. The Grand Central was the largest of our houses, and the best hotel in this part of the State.

City Court.

Before the Mayor this morning Nancy Miller was charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct. She was found guilty and fined $20 or 30 days.

J. C. Hill, for assault and battery, was sentenced to 10 days' confinement on one meal a day.

Leva Lane, disorderly, 10 days and 10 meals.

Wm. Finney, disorderly, $20 or 30 days.

Betty Pigford, charged with disorderly conduct, was discharged.

A gentleman who has the time and inclination to notice such things says that the number of horses which drink from the public fountain on Market street, near Front, will average 11 in every 20 minutes during a warm day.

Ex-Sheriff Black showed us this morning a unique coin. It is of copper, about the size of our two-cent piece and bears date 1723, with the inscription "Hibernia" surrounding a harp on one side and "Georgius Dei Gratia Rex" on the other.

The receipts of cotton at this port to-day foot up 15 bales.

The water mains on North Third street are being taken up and replaced with others of a greater capacity.

Some April showers here to-day. A slight fall at breakfast time and another between 1 and 2 o'clock gave good results.

The handsome chandeliers in the lecture room of Grace M. E. Church were a present from Stonewall Lodge No. 1, Knights of Pythias, of this city.

It was our intention and desire to present to-day a synopsis of Rev. Mr. Peschau's sermon on Sunday night but circumstances have combined to prevent it. We hope to publish it to-morrow.

At the meeting of the Council of St. Paul's Church, held on Tuesday night, Mr. W. H. Strauss was elected a delegate to the Synod of North Carolina, which meets at Concord on May 3d. Mr. John Haar, Jr., was chosen alternate.

W. C. & W. H. Co.

At the annual meeting yesterday of the Wilmington Compress & Warehouse Co., Messrs. G. W. Williams, Jno. W. Atkinson, James H. Chadbourn, Henry A. Burr, C. P. Mebane, Isaac Bates, Donald MacRae and W. W. Pusey were elected a Board of Directors for the ensuing year. Subsequently, at a meeting of the Directors, Mr. G. W. Williams was reelected President and Capt. George Sloan Secretary and Treasurer.

Lippincott's for May.

The May number of Lippincott's Magazine is a curious and interesting experiment. The number is a No Name number, with a tantalizing note of interrogation after the title of each article on the table of contents. We are informed, editorially, that the number is contributed by some of the most popular of American authors, and certainly the contents are good enough for anybody. The complete novel is entitled "The Old Adam," and is a strong study of American life in Rome, drawn with much dramatic power and insight. An excellent article on the progress of music is entitled "From Bacon to Beethoven." There are two stories, one a humorous sketch of Jewish life, "Mr. Sonaenschein's Inheritance," and the other, a ghost story, "The Portrait and the Ghost." "Among My Weeds" is a pleasant little out-of-doors essay. "Old Delaware" is an interesting sketch of an interesting State. The poetry is exceptionally good. "Nebuchadnezzar's Wife" is an effective Eastern narrative, full of passion and color. And who could have written that weird and powerful fancy "The House of Hate?" Who may answer all the queries as to the authors satisfactorily? Certainly they afford entertaining food for speculation, and as they are included among the "One Hundred Prize Questions," they will undoubtedly set all the readers of Lippincott's agog.

The Festival of the Poets.

We heard a lady of experience and judgment who was present last night at the "Festival of the Poets" says that, with one exception, it was one of the most beautiful entertainments ever given in this city. And she was right. The noble hall, gaily decorated, was a scene of life, activity and loveliness. It was thronged during the early part of the night and until the closing hours there were a great many present. There were booths arranged in and around the room and these were presided over by the ladies dressed to sustain characters made immortal by the classic poets, both ancient and modern. On these booths were offered for sale various articles that seemed to find ready purchasers and which were thronged throughout the evening. Not only were the costumes of the ladies rich and tasteful but they were appropriate. We would be glad to publish all of the characters but the space at our disposal forbids it. The entertainment must be seen to be appreciated. It were a facile pen indeed that could begin to do justice to the subject. The Festival will be continued this evening and to-morrow evening.

The City Boys' Base Ball Club has reorganized for the season with Oscar B. Watson as Captain.

Mrs. E. A. Lumsden has just returned from the North and makes announcement through this issue to the ladies that she is now opening the purchases she made.

Superior Court.

The following cases were disposed of to-day:

M. J. Heyer vs. Alex. Carter. Judgment for amount of debt.

G. W. Burnett vs. James Dudley and Caroline Dudley. Judgment for possession.

In the case of E. S. Jaffrey & Co. vs. Sol. Bear et al., judgment was rendered for the defendants, whereupon the plaintiff took an appeal to the Supreme Court.

Ice for the Fountain.

It is proposed to put ice water during the Summer months in the drinking fountain recently erected at the corner of Market and Front streets, and with this object in view a committee of gentlemen will start on Saturday endeavoring to secure subscriptions. There is a receptacle for ice at the base of the fountain and it need not cost much to furnish the ice.

Very Good Reasons.

The reasons why you can be benefited by buying from the King Clothier, S. H. Fishblate: You are in a Reliable House. A large assortment to choose from. A saving of 20 per cent. All goods steam sponged. Exclusive styles sold by him only. All goods guaranteed sewed with silk. His stores are well lighted by day and night and you can see what you are buying, plenty of light being the most essential thing for buyers of Clothing. If you are not satisfied with any article purchased from Fishblate's return the same and he will cheerfully refund you your money. With the above plainly before you how can you refuse to trade with a house of that kind.

Where can you buy the best and finest boots and shoes for the money in the city? Why, at Geo. R. French & Sons. They keep the largest stock.

The majority of the ills of the human body arise from a diseased Liver. Simmons' Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any other agency on earth.

"Unmarried teas" are a fashionable diversion in Washington. For unmarried teas very Young Hysou is the appropriate thing.

The old French's Hotel property in New York city has been transferred to Joseph Pulitzer, of the New York World, who will build a house with a tall tower for the use of his water.

There is a regular boom in sparring at Harvard this year, and more boxing has been done than ever before. Fully 400 students are boxing regularly, and some are very fancy with their fists. Sullivan's place may be filled in Boston after all.

The Union Club, of Denver, Col., are going to ask Congress to grant an appropriation for building mountain reservoirs, in which the water which comes down from the mountain sides can be stored. The river channels will thus remain filled all summer. It is claimed that thousands of acres of land, in the arid region, could thus be irrigated and made fertile.

The latest rumors concerning the New York Star are that John R. McLean has secured control of the minority shares held by the late William Dorsheimer and is negotiating to buy enough shares to give him control of the paper. Should he get the control it is said the Hon. James J. Cummings will take charge of the Star. It is a well known fact that Mr. Cummings has had a serious difference with Chas. A. Dana regarding the political policy of the paper, and is disposed to leave that paper, with which he has been so long identified.

A newspaper correspondent says that the politest and most accommodating people in the world live in Mobile and proves it thus: "I saw a street car stop in order to allow a lame negro, who was a passenger, to order and receive a flask of whiskey at a corner grocery. The streetkeeper came out to the car for the purpose and the goods were afterwards wrapped up and delivered with all the deliberation due to so important a commercial transaction. Then the car with its passengers moved on."

Ex-Senator Roscoe Conkling had of late years been a very hard worker. He had lived in a brownstone annex to the Hoffman House, New York city. He had customarily risen at 10, breakfasted at the New York Club at 10.30, and put on his office coat at 11.30. He usually worked from that hour, straight on till 4 p. m. Then he would take a spin behind his thoroughbreds in Central Park, or spend a little while at the rooms of the New York Athletic Club. After dinner a cigar and an hour's chat would help digestion. Then he would buckle down to his hard work and stick to it until midnight, or even until daybreak. Law says that Mr. Conkling had lately been making about $100,000 a year.
