There are said to be fully 200 women employed in editorial capacities on the various newspapers and journals published in New York. Twenty-five years ago there was not onetenth of this number similarly em. ployed.

John Jameson, the oldest Free Mason in the United States and last survivor of the 16th Kentucky Volunteers in the war of 1812, died at Batavia, Ohio, on Friday. He was born October 25, 1793, in Kentucky. Mr. Jameson was a suitor for the hand of Miss Hannah Simpson, who married Gen. Grant's father.

A new postmaster was appointed for a country postoffice in Texas and for several days afterward the mail agent received no mail from the station and reported the matter to the superintendent of the railway mail service. The latter wrote the postmaster, who 'replied that he was waiting for the mail sack to get full before sending it to the train.

Speaking of George Gould, a correspondent writes to a Boston newspaper: "His voice is low, almost soft, and mildly modulated. He wouldn't smoke a cigar for a farm harm a kitten. His wildest excess since his marriage has consisted in an occasional visit to the theatre. He is always accompanied by his next month by a monster fate to the secool children. Each child will wear a little medal with the young King's portrait, while Al phonso VII and his family will have similar medals in gold. Twelve thousand meat pies, as many cakes and oranges, and 1,500 pounds of sweets have been ordered to regale the little ones, who will sing hymns and odes to their juvenile sovereign.

Senator Leland Stanford, after speaking in kindly terms of ex-Sena tor Roscoe Conkling recently, said: "I hope that he has accumulated something of a fortune since he left the Senate. He talked with me 3 of Art. 9: once, after he had been ill, about his financial affairs. He said that while he was sick he had been oppressed beyond measure with the thought that he had made no provision whatever for his family. He seemed greatly distressed at the idea, and declared that at the first opportunity he would quit politics for law."

The Hon John Bigelow's hook "France and the Confederate Navy," will issue from the Harper & Brothers' presses to-morrow. Interesting revelations concerning the aid correspondence between Benjamin, Mason and Slidell, agent of the Confederate States abroad, will prohably attract wide attention. The volume is an historical contribution of much value.

WILMINGTON, N. C., THURSDAY, APRIL 26, 1888.

NO 100.

The Rev. Robert Collyer was 27 years old when he came to this country. He brought his bride over with him in the steerage. For nine years he worked as a blacksmith in Pennsylvania; then he became a local Methodist preacher, but later he became a Unitarian and went to Chicago, where he soon made a reputation, and was then called to the Church of the Messiah in New York.

Whereabouts of an Old Friend.

How easily those whom we have known in early life slip from recollection almost, as well as from sight and hearing in the busy after years of life. Mr. Horace C. Burr is a case in point. He was born and raised in this city and resided here until the close of the war, except during the time that he was engaged elsewhere on duty during the late unpleasantness.
