WILMINGTON, N. C. TUESDAY, MAY 15, 1888.

Entered at the Postoffice at Wilmington, N.C. as second-class matter.

The German Emperor has not allowed his illness to dampen his inerest in the continuation of the voluminous work on the Grand Elector, of which, thus far, eleven volumes are completed. This grand istorical undertaking was proposed and originated by him, who made the first suggestions to the historeads, Dnucker and Droysen, and outlined the details of the work. At present the twelfth volume is in hand, the material for which is taken from the family and State archives, thus, according to his intention, furnishing a standard work for present and future historians, Really, our friends the enemy are about as hard put to it for campaign thunder as they are for Presidential timber. Here is a specimen. It is rom the Tennessee Republican:

such stuff as this is clearly entitled to one of Dr. Pangloss' degrees. He can boldly and fearlessly write A.S.S. at the end of his name-or before it, for that matter. Such stuff will find few believers at this late day.

There will be sold at anction in Washington City at an early day an interesting collection of captured and abandoned property, gathered, as alleged, from Federal and Confederate soldiers on the battlefields Metal Shingles Wind, fain & Fire of the late war, and which have lain in the vaults of the treasury department since 1868. In the collection are unclaimed gold and silver watches, finger rings, pins and other small articles. Two years ago Congress passed an act authorizing the delivery to the owners, or to their legal heirs, of all such articles, where the proof of ownership should prove satisfactory to the Secretary of the Treasury, and providing that everything remaining unclaimed at the expiration of two years should be sold at auction. Should the owners of any of these trinkets now endeavor to secure them they can only do so by purchasing them at the com-

There will be a grand reunion of the veterans of the two armies that met in deadly conflict at Gettysburg 25 years ago, on the same field in July next. Gen. Horatio C. King and Gen. Geo. S. Sharpe, of New York, a sub-committee, to-day presented the invitation of the association of the army of the Potomac to the survivors of the army of Northern Virginia to meet them in fraternal reunion on the next anniversary of the great battle, Grand Com-mander Gen. John R. Cooke, Inspector General Norman V. Ran-dolph, and Adjutant Arthur J. Spit-zer and others of the Confederate campa, received the invitation and sarmly thanked the Northern committee. The latter gentlemen are constituted a committee to extend the invitation to all the Confederate organizations in the South. All the preliminary details of the reunion per cent. better than others.
