

THE DAILY REVIEW

VOL. XII

WILMINGTON, N. C., MONDAY, JUNE 4, 1888.

NO 123.

Mr. Nansen, a well known Norwegian athlete, is about to make the attempt of crossing the vast snow fields of Greenland on snow shoes. A wealthy Danish merchant has supplied the money for the unique enterprise.

Miss Minna Irving, the poetess of Tarrytown, N. Y., claims the proud distinction of possessing the smallest foot in America. She wears a slipper exactly one size less than No. 1, and keeps samples on exhibition at the different newspaper offices in New York.

Commodore Kittson, the owner of many horses and a famous stock farm near Philadelphia, by his will gives each of his eleven children one hundred thousand dollars. The balance of his estate, about three million dollars, will not be divided until 1896, when his youngest child becomes of age.

The most valuable manuscript in this country, judging from the price paid, is in the possession of John Jacob Astor. It is the Sforza Missal, for which $15,000 was paid. It is dated in the fifteenth century, and comprises 484 pages of vellum bound in red morocco.

It is said that canaries and other birds may be freed from insects by placing a white cloth over the cage at dusk. During the night the insects will leave the birds for the cloth, and in the morning they can be destroyed by placing the cloth in hot water. A repetition of the process will soon clear away the pests.

It has been calculated that the sun is nearly 93,000,000 miles from the earth, and it is so large that if a number of worlds the size of ours were held together like beads on a string, it would require 340 of these to girdle it around in one line. It would take 1,250,000 of our worlds to occupy a space equal to the whole size of the sun.

An interesting invention is that of Mr. Ives, who exhibited recently at a lecture a photograph of a landscape in which the various tints of green in the foliage of trees, the blue of the sky and the colors of house, barn, autumn leaves, etc., were perfectly reproduced. Many inventors have thought they had methods of photographing in colors, but their processes have not worked in practice.

James Eveleth, the disbursing clerk in the second division of the chief of engineers at Washington, has the reputation of having been in the Government service longer than any other person in the War Department, for that matter. He entered the service as clerk in the military reservation of Fort Monroe in 1829, fifty-nine years ago, when he was 21 years old.

A remarkable freak of nature, a mare known as the "Oregon Beauty," was recently on exhibition in Louisville. Her color is a sorrel, and that of the name, tail and forelock a creamy tint. The mane is ten feet in length, the forelock four feet, while the tail sweeps the ground. Although the mare is eight years of age, the mane and tail are of only four years' growth, having grown an average of two feet a year during that time.

A curious calculation has been made giving the work of the heart in mileage. Presuming that the blood was thrown out of the heart at each pulsation in the proportion of 69 strokes per minute, and at the assumed force of 9 feet, the mileage of the blood through the body might be taken at 207 yards per minute, 7 miles per hour, 168 miles per day, 61,320 miles year, or 5,150,880 miles in a lifetime of 84 years. The number of beats of the heart in the same long life would reach the grand total of 2,869,776,000.

Henry Robinson, of Concord, N. H., has recently been presented with a small hair trunk, thickly studded with brass nails, which once belonged to Daniel Webster. The trunk was found in Webster's office after his death, locked, and so little was thought of it that it was left in that condition until it came into the hands of Mr. Robinson. When opened it was found to contain a lot of valuable law papers and mementoes in the shape of letters from distinguished men of that period; an account book and a pocketbook containing several bank bills bearing date 1828.

Stedman in Raleigh.
(Greensboro Patriot.)

At no time since the inception of the preliminary canvass, leading the way up to the action of the Democratic State Convention, has Lieut. Gov. Chas. M. Stedman knit more closely his ties about the hearts of his adherents, and extorted more genuine admiration from the advocates of the claims of his competitors, than when, upon the withdrawal of his name, he addressed that splendid assemblage of the representatives of North Carolina Democracy; and, with all the charms of a courtly presence, the dignity of a fine physique, and the magnetism of ringing tones and impassioned voice, he pledged such efforts in the cause of good government as would make him a leader still at least in devotion to his native State. With inimitable grace he introduced Hon. Daniel G. Fowle to the people who had chosen him for a leader, and retired—after this, the moment of his real triumph—amid a perfect ovation.

The citizens of this good old Commonwealth owe Charles Stedman a debt of gratitude for his distinguished services, and they'll pay it yet.

The popular blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla, is having a tremendous sale this season. Nearly every body takes it. Try it yourself.

Let the citizens assist our health officers and there will be no sickness here this Summer. It requires a concert of action between our citizens and the authorities to keep the city clean, and we know all good citizens will agree with us that health is more desirable than sickness.

Rock Crystal Spectacles and Eyeglasses. Advice to old and young: In selecting spectacles you should be cautious not to take more magnifying power than has been lost to the eye as in the same proportion that you pass that point of increase, will cause you further injury to the eye. Using glasses of stronger power than is necessary is the daily cause of premature old age to the sight. You can get the best at Heinsberger's.

Public Schools—Meeting of the School Committee.

The joint meeting of the school committees for Wilmington met at the office of James H. Chadbourn, Esq., with Mr. James H. Chadbourn in the chair and Walker Meares, Esq., acting as secretary. Every member was present and the committee consisted of Donald MacRae, James H. Chadbourn, Col. John D. Taylor, Walker Meares, Joseph E. Sampson and John G. Norwood. Mr. Noble read his report from which we make the following extracts:

Enrollment for the year—males 971, females 1,048—total 2,019. This is a most excellent showing and speaks well for the reputation of the schools.

There had been decided improvement in the teaching of all the subjects and especially in geography, reading and arithmetic. The arithmetic of the public schools is one of their strongest features. A teacher's training class was organized with an enrollment of more than 30. This class will no doubt be organized next year.

The teachers held meetings twice a month for a discussion of the best methods of teaching. These meetings were conducted by Prof. Noble.

The conduct of the pupils has been very good during the past year and there have been fewer cases of bad conduct than ever before. The Professor says that, as a rule, the child who knows how to behave at home will behave at school. Parents ought to make a note of this.

The schools need libraries and are doing their best to secure the best books. The Union School now has a library of over 500 vols.

The report closed with a well deserved compliment to Capt. W. M. Parker who was for years a most excellent member of the committee in district No. 1.

After the reading of the report it was accepted, and then the election was held.

Prof. M. C. S. Noble was re-elected for the coming year, and the following teachers were also re-elected: Hemenway School—Mrs. M. L. McLeod, Misses J. W. Myers, A. McDougall, M. Bernard, K. Johnson. Peabody School (colored)—Jas. B. Dudley, Misses M. J. Mallett, L. M. Smith, E. C. Brady, C. Green, Mrs. S. B. Dudley.

Union School—Misses Nellie Cook, Maggie Jones, A. S. Meares, M. J. Hawes, Mary French, Eliza Meares, Mrs. C. Moffitt.

Williston School (colored)—Misses M. W. Howe, Emma Hooper, Frances Jarvis, M. L. Whiteman, John A. Holt and W. H. Norwood.

It was ordered that all the schools open on Monday, October 1st, 1888.

[Above was prepared for Saturday's issue, but was crowded out.]

Joint Meeting.

In accordance with chapter 17, section 716 of the Code, the Justices of the Peace and Commissioners of New Hanover county, met in joint session at the Court House this morning.

The meeting was called to order at 10 o'clock, Justice W. W. Harriss, Chairman of the Board of Justices, in the chair.

The Chairman having submitted his report for the past year, on motion it was adopted.

It was ordered that a sum, not exceeding $1,000, be appropriated by the Board of County Commissioners for repairs to the County Poor House.

The Board then proceeded to the nominations of five Commissioners for the ensuing year.

Justice G. W. Price put in nomination Mr. Sol. Bear, who declined, but nominated the old Board.

Justice R. E. Heide nominated Mr. D. W. Trask.

The Board then proceeded to an election, Justices John Cowan and Wm. M. Poisson acting as tellers, with the following result: Roger Moore, B. G. Worth, E. L. Pearce, J. A. Montgomery.

On motion of Justice R. E. Heide the election was made unanimous. The chair stated that the next thing in order was the election of a county superintendent of education.

Mr. Walker Meares and Capt. E. W. Manning were put in nomination when the meeting proceeded to an election. Mr. Meares receiving 27 out of 31 votes cast was declared duly elected.

A large party went to Tarboro this morning on the excursion from here to that place.
