At least twenty of the cadets who were graduated at West Point last week will be placed on the additional list waiting for companies. Just now there are twenty-four vacancies in the grade of second lieutenant and the number is not likely soon to be increased, unless the three vacancies on the limited retired list should be filled by line officers. They include thirteen in the infantry, seven in the cavalry, and four in the artillery. It is likely that two of the cadets will be assigned as additionals in the engineer corps. Gen. Duane's retirement will make room for one of these at the end of this month.

Under the present constitution of Louisiana, women over 21 years of age are eligible to any office of control or management under the school laws of the State. In view of this law the New Orleans Picayune urges the appointment of women on the parish boards of schoo directors, on the ground that it would be a public benefit. "These boards," says the Picayune, "deal directly with the teachers and scholars, a majority of both being generally of the female sex, and there their knowledge and advice would | the blood, and we ask you to try Hood's be valuable. His name counts up 13 letters, and the title of the office for which he has been named contains the same number, while by adding the day of his last nomination-7th of June-to the number of the month, the product is again 13. The election takes place November sixth (13 letters,) and his symbol "The Red Bandana," still further earries out the coincidence, though this is upset by the use of the double "n" in spelling the last word. And these examples do not exhaust the combination.

Mr. O'Connor Power, who is now in Manitoba, denies that he is an agent of the English Government, or of any immigration company. He says that he is simply looking over the country for his own amusement. Speaking of the prospects of Irish home rule, he said he felt certain that the next election would be a triumph for the great question and the emancipation of Ireland. He describes Mr. Gladstone as in robust health and gaining politically. He believes the Conservatives would adopt a constitutional scheme of home rule, omitting from it some of the details of Mr. Gladstone's famous measure, especially that which excluded Ireland from representa tion in the Imperial Parliament, which many Liberals and Home Rulers held to be an objectionable part of the scheme.

An Important Announcement

About six weeks ago, while at business, I was suddenly attacked with excruciating pains in my feet, knees and hands. So severe the attack that I took my bed immediately, and in two or three days my joints were swollen to almost double their natural size, and sleep was driven from me. After suffering the most excruciating pain for a week, using liniments and various other remedies, a friend who sympathized with my helpless condition, said to me:

"Why don't you get Swift's Specific and use it. I will guarantee a cure, and if it does not the medicine shall cost you nothing."

I at once secured the S. S. S., and after using it the first day, had a quiet night and refreshing sleep. In a week I felt greatly benefitted. In three weeks I could sit up and walk about the room, and after using six bottles I was out and able to go to business. Since then I have been regularly at my post of duty, and stand on my feet from nine to ten hours a day, and am entirely free from pain. These are the plain and simple facts in my case, and I will cheerfully answer all inquiries relative thereto, either in person or by mail.
