Another wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this county.

A Woman's Discovery. "A wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this county. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent.

Be Sure. If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other.

To Get. "In one store where I went to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me to buy their own instead of Hood's; he told me their's would last longer; that I might take it on ten days' trial; that if I did not like it I need not pay anything, etc.

Hood's. When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable, suffering a great deal with dyspepsia, and so weak that at times I could hardly stand.

Sarsaparilla. Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

An Important Element. Of the success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is the fact that every purchaser receives a fair equivalent for his money.

Richly Rewarded. Those who read this and then act, they will find honorable employment that will not take them from their homes for every industrious person.

It is a queer commentary on that part of the Republican platform which favors the removal of the tax on alcohol used in the arts that no one can be found conversant with the subject who will say that such a thing is possible without opening the door to the most extensive frauds and the ultimate evasion of the whole whiskey tax.

Senator Sherman says he has investigated the question, but knows of no satisfactory plan by which the Republican proposition can be carried out without the wholesale escape of whiskey from taxation.

"I am in favor of the principle," says the Senator, "but see no way of making it practicable."

Senator Allison says the Senate committee on finance investigated the question in 1883, but gave it up as a hopeless task.

Internal Revenue Commissioner Miller says it cannot be done without endangering the whole system of whiskey taxation.

The authors of that platform should be called upon to solve the little difficulty.

The New York Herald says: "So it turns out that we haven't yet heard the end of that coaching tour through Scotland."

Mr. Blaine has contracted with the publishers of his "Twenty Years in Congress" to bring out an account of the trip from his own restive quill.

A Scotch journalist, who took the dust of the Carnegie coach, had intended to print a brochure detailing the incidents of the journey, but the Pittsburgh forge master convinced him that such a pamphlet would fall flat in competition with the only authorized, name-blown-on-the-bottle version written by Mr. Blaine.

The defect in the arm of Emperor William II. is authoritatively described thus: The left arm is not deformed, but withered, or rather dwarfed; the nerves which vitalize it were subjected to great and prolonged pressure during birth, so that their power was destroyed.

Hence the muscles of the arm were paralyzed and became wasted from want of use, and the limb did not grow with the rest of the body.

The responsibility of this rests with the German doctors who officiated on the occasion, a fact which partly explains the Empress Victoria's distrust of native talent.

She insisted on Dr. Gream presiding at all subsequent ceremonies of the same kind and outraged Teutons have never forgiven her for this affront to German science.
