The Daily Review.
TUESDAY, AUGUST 28, 1888.
IN CONGRESS YESTERDAY.

SENATE.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Mr. Allison presented a conference report on the Sundry Civil bill, and gave notice that he would call it up tomorrow.

The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the report of the Judiciary Committee on the Jackson, Miss., election, and Mr. Wilson, of Iowa, continued the remarks begun by him last Thursday.

Mr. Walthall complained of the periodical arraignment of the Southern people for alleged offenses that are clearly outside of the sphere of Federal legislation. These attacks, he said, were unaccompanied by any plan of remedy or redress. They had borne no fruit but criminations and recriminations, and had no effect but to delay the era of good will among a reunited people, which happily had come in spite of them. Such attacks might always be expected when there was any important political campaign pending or approaching. Their purpose always was to gain for the dominant party some political advantage by the dissemination of partisan reports and bitter sectional speeches.

At the close of Mr. Walthall's speech the report went over without action.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Under the call of States the following bills, etc., were introduced and referred:

By Mr. Breckenridge, of Arkansas, to suspend the operations of the laws relating to the sinking fund; also, to correct certain abuses arising under the tariff laws in relation to steel rail bars, copper, structural iron, and lumber.

By Mr. Mason, of Illinois, to investigate certain national banks which hold and use government money without interest, and to ascertain how much, if anything, is contributed by such banks for the use of such government money to the Democratic campaign committee.

By Mr. Davis, of Massachusetts, a resolution requesting the President to communicate to the House copies of all communications addressed by his direction to the government of Great Britain remonstrating with that government against the wrongs and unfair treatment of our citizens by the action of the Canadian government in refunding to vessels and cargoes which pass through the Welland and other Canadian canals nearly the entire tolls if they are destined to Canadian ports, while those bound to American ports are not allowed any such advantages, and against the breach of the treaty of 1871, whereby Great Britain promised to the United States equality in the matter of canal transportation. The President is also called upon for copies of any demand made by his direction upon Great Britain for the redress of such wrongs, and the replies of Great Britain to such communications and demands.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the Deficiency Appropriation bill. Chairman Springer stated the pending question to be on appeal from the decision of the chair ruling the French spoliation claims section out of the bill. After the chair was sustained. So the provision was eliminated from the bill.

The committee then rose and the Deficiency bill (without the spoliation section) was passed.

Mr. Hooker, of Mississippi, introduced a joint resolution authorizing the President for a given period to suspend the duty on cotton bagging. Referred.

STATE NEWS.
Sanford Express: The congregation of Laurinburg Presbyterian Church has elected Rev. Chalmers Moore as their pastor. He was a class mate of this writer, and one of the very best young men that ever was at Davidson College.
Rutherfordton Banner: Rutherford

ford county mourns the death of two of her best and most substantial citizens. Mr. Humphrey Miller, aged 61, of Sulphur Springs township, who died Friday, the 17th inst., at his home near Island Ford, and Mr. Solomon Gray, aged 70, whose death occurred Monday, the 20th, at his residence on Cathey's Creek.

Charlotte Chronicle: Mecklenburg's first bale of cotton came from Pineville, as usual. The bale was sold by Mr. M. M. Yandle, and was bought by S. Younts, Sons & Co. It was graded strict middling, and brought ten cents. The stables of Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald, at Linwood, were burned last Friday night. The horse and two mules perished in the flames, and all of Mr. Fitzgerald's farming tools and implements and forage were destroyed. The loss will amount to $1,000, which will fall heavily upon Mr. Fitzgerald, who is an old, one-armed gentleman. The origin of the fire is not known.

Fayetteville Journal: Maj. Atkinson, chief engineer of the C. F. & Y. V. R. R., is in the mountains looking for the best route to extend the C. F. & Y. V. R. R. westward. He intends, on Monday week, to put his corps of engineers on the route to survey and locate the best line; at the same time the Norfolk and Western Railroad starts its corps in the field for the purpose of locating its line to meet the C. F. & Y. V. R. R. The two corps will meet, compare notes and locate the line.

Newbern Journal: John Shepard, col., who works at Dr. Capehart's mammoth fishery at Avoca beach during the shad season, hands us the following account of some of the big hauls of shad last spring, at different hauls, 1615, 1611, 1492, 1558, 1373, 1586, 1034, 1050. The following are some of the best days work done in catching shad last spring and these followed in succession: 5103, 2386, 3226, 3381, 3883, 3608, 3377, 2410, 2416. We have been informed that the total catch of shad at the Avoca fisheries last spring was about 100,000.

Asheville Citizen: We interrogated several planters from different sections of Buncombe, who were in the city yesterday, regarding the prospects of the tobacco crop in this county for this season. In nearly every instance the reporter was assured that the outlook was very good for an average, if not an over-yield of the crop of last year. The seasons, while not being over-propitious for the raising of the weed, have not been much of a draw-back to the growing crop. Worms have been scarce, and taken all together the crops throughout Buncombe have not suffered from any of the disadvantages usually incurred during cultivation. Cutting and curing will soon be commenced, and from several of our friends we learned that quite a number of barns had already been "fired," and curing by the new process, begun. Of all the new tobacco brought to market so far, the prices paid for the same have been a fraction above those paid last season, and warehousemen seem well pleased with the outlook for the season of 1888-'89.

Rock Crystal Spectacles and Eyeglasses
Advice to old and young: In selecting spectacles you should be cautious not to take more magnifying power than has been lost to the eye as in the same proportion that you pass that point of increase, will cause you further injury to the eye. Using glasses of stronger power than is necessary is the daily cause of premature old age to the sight. You can get the best at Heinsberger's.
