VOL XII. WILMINGTON, N. C., WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 29, 1888.

NO 175.

Congressman Scott, of Pennsylvania, has positively declined a renomination. His health obliges him to retire to private life. His loss will be felt.

The planters of North Mississippi and West Tennessee met at Memphis on Monday and determined upon boycotting jute bagging. They propose to fight the bagging trust steal to the bitter end.

It is said now that the much-talked-of Senate tariff bill will be reported after the Maine election .-There is a 50 percent, cut on lumber in the bill and the cautious committee are fearful of the effect this will have on the vote in that State.

The most remarkable incident of Hood's Sarsaparilla. the campaign thus far is this: There are twenty-four brothers of one family, named Uncapher, not far from Pittsburg, Pa., who have heretofore always voted the Republican ticket but this year they will flop and every one of them will vote for Cleveland and Thurman.

The Umbria reached the other run in 6 days, 7 hours, 23 minutes. one. The captain of the former claims that there was nothing like a race. He says that his starboard engine this city, to be had at Jacobi's Hdw had to be stopped several times, Depot. twelve hours in all.

There is an impression in Canada that the threatened retaliation measures will probably be put in force by the first of December, about which time the big St. Lawrence will shut its ice-bound mouth. The Canadians are probably correct, provided there is half as much backbone in the Senate as there is in the White House.

Mr. Blaine's reappearance on the political field has thrown Harrison so far in the shade that he is really heard from but semi-occasionally. Who is he, anyway? Just ask the first fire-tried Republican you meet and he will scratch his pate and be unable to tell you more than that he lives in Indiana, when he is at home. that he is the candidate of his party for President and that he is the grandson of his grandfather.

And so the Lily and her adorable Freddy are not to be married just yet. He is threatened with paresis (we believe that is the new name for it) and has gone to Europe to recuperate. The loss of some of his racing stud, combined with the rumored near approach of the Lily's divorce from her complaisant husband and her consequent marriage to Freddy, has unhinged that young gentleman's love-addled brain. But perhaps there is a good deal of method in Fred's madness, after all.

Sherman and Blaine, the two big Republican bosses, are not altogether in accord on one point. The latter said recently, in effect, that trusts were nobody's business but those who were interested in the dividends but Senator Sherman said this a few days ago on the floor of the Senate:

I believe that any agreement whatever, whether in the form of a down, and by that time the comforts trust or any other form, that tends of the Mother Hubbard have been to restrain competition in trade or to prevent production in this country, is unlawful by the common law and ought to be made so by statute law in every State of the Union and by laws of the United States.

Little Ones and Nursery.

Our Little Ones and the Nursery for September, already at hand, is a charming number, and one which some of the older folks can appreciate as well as the little ones. It has an excellent and carefully selected table of contents, all beautifully il lustrated and all of just such matter as is best calculated to instruct as well as to entertain the youthful mind. Issued by the Russell Publishing Company, 36 Brom field St. Boston, at $1.50 a year.

Mother Hubbard Parties.

Mother Hubbard parties are the very latest, and they are not less popular than the Mother Hubbard robe has always been in hot weather. But the men don't know much about them, for at Mother Hubbard parties gentlemen are rigidly excluded. The girls get together at the house of one of their number soon after breakfast, and each brings her most charming Mother Hubbard. In this loose and somewhat capacious costume they are wont to lie around on the floor or couch in easy and comfortable attitudes, thinking of nothing save their own comfort and enjoyment. They eat candy, ice cream and cakes, and drink iced tea and lemonade. They read to themselves and to each other, and the whole day is given up to pleasure. Gentlemen are not admitted until after sunsurrendered for the more sightly and becoming street robe,
