CONSTIPATION

Called the "Father of Diseases," because there is no medium through which disease so often attacks the system as by the absorption of poisonous gases in the retention of decayed and effete matter in the stomach and bowels. It is caused by a Torpid Liver, not enough bile being secreted from the blood to produce Nature's own cathartic, and is generally accompanied with such results as:

Loss of Appetite, Sick Headache, Bad Breath, etc.

The treatment of Constipation does not consist merely in unloading the bowels. The medicine must not only act as a purgative, but be a tonic as well, and not produce after its use greater constipation. To secure a regular habit of body without changing the diet or disorganizing the system

"My attention, after suffering with Constipation for two or three years, was called to Simmons' Liver Regulator, and, having tried almost everything else, concluded to try it. I first took a wineglassful and afterwards reduced the dose to a teaspoonful, as per directions, after each meal. I found that it had done me so much good that I continued it until I took two bottles. Since then I have not experienced any difficulty. I keep it in my house and would not be without it, but have no use for it, it having cured me."—Geo. W. Sikes, Asst. Clerk Superior Court, Bibb Co., Ga.

No City Court to-day.
Day's length 11 hours and 53 minutes.

But one interment this week in Oakdale, an adult.

But one interment, a child, in Bellevue this week.

Sunset to-morrow afternoon at 46 minutes past 5 o'clock.

Roasting ears have almost entirely disappeared from the market.

There will be but one train on the Seacoast R. R. to-morrow afternoon.

Seven interments this week in Pine Forest Cemetery, four adults and three children.

Mr. W. A. Bryan is making arrangements to open an oyster house at the Hummocks.

Mr. J. Elsbach will remove his shirt factory on Monday from 27 Market street to 22.

Window Glass, by the box or light. Save money by buying from Jacobi's Hdw. Depot.

Fishermen will find the cheapest place for Gill Twine, Rope, etc., is at Jacobi's Hdw. Depot.

All kinds of School Books and School Supplies can be bought cheapest at Heinsberger's.

Coats are on the market now. They are just coming in and were held at 60 cents a dozen this morning.

The Register of Deeds has issued four marriage licenses this week, one for a white couple and three for colored couples.

Pimples, boils and other humors are liable to appear when the blood gets heated. To cure them, take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Rice birds are disappearing. They have gone to Pennsylvania and Delaware, where they will become reed birds.

Last night was the coldest of the season, thus far. It took two blankets to keep a fat man warm early this morning.

We now have it. A Door Lock that cannot be picked. It is cheap and safe. See it at Jacobi's Hardware Depot.

Happiness supreme. This is the condition of all who have been wise and purchased Stoves at Jacobi's Hdw. Depot.

Ladies, workmen and business men are all invited to the religious services at the Seaman's Bethel at 8 o'clock.

By special invitation Rev. W. S. Creasy will preach a sermon to-morrow night at Grace M. E. Church to the Woman's Missionary Society.

Services in St. John's Church to-morrow: Holy Communion at 7:30 a. m.; Morning Prayer at 11 o'clock; Evening Prayer at 5 o'clock. Sunday School at 4 p. m.

North Carolina hams, next to the Westphalia the most delicious hams in the world, are selling at 16 1/2 cents a pound. In the old time we would have said two shillings a pound.

Headquarters for Powder, Shot, Caps, Cartridges and Ammunition of all kinds is at Jacobi's Hdw. Depot. Shells loaded at a moment's notice.

Indications.
For North Carolina, fair weather and slightly colder in the eastern portion and stationary temperature in the western portion, with light frosts in the western portion.

The first entertainment of the season at the Opera House will take place next Wednesday night, when Goodyear, Cook & Dillon's minstrels will appear. They will be succeeded by Graue's Opera Company, on Friday and Saturday nights.

Mr. S. P. Mason, Secretary of the Y. M. P. M. A., requests us to state that there will be a prayer and praise meeting at the Champion Compress wharf, alongside the Br. steamship Ravensdale, conducted by the Y. M. P. M. A., at 12:45 o'clock to-morrow.

There will be services in the First Presbyterian Church to-morrow at 11 a. m. and 5 p. m., conducted by the pastor, Rev. Peyton H. Hoge. Visitors always welcome.

Tuesday will be "Minister's Day" on the Seacoast R. R. All of the white clergymen in the city, with their families, have been invited, and as many also in the country as could be reached in time.

Mr. VanAmringe, the Clerk, gives notice in this issue that jurors summoned to attend the second week of the approaching term of the Superior Court are not required to appear.

The public school at Masonboro will open on Monday next, with Mr. R. F. Beasley, of Monroe, as the teacher. Mr. Beasley is the first male teacher this school has ever had.

Rev. D. H. Tuttle will occupy his pulpit to-morrow at the Fifth Street M. E. Church. Subject at 11 a. m. "Ezekiel's Vision of the Dry Bones." Subject at 8 p. m., "Life Reviewed and Reward Anticipated." Second Timothy 4: 7-8.

Cotton is coming in at a more lively rate. The receipts to-day foot up 1,057 bales—making the largest day's receipts of the season, thus far; this is against 1,838 bales for same date last year and 1,378 bales in 1886.

Mr. A. F. Lucas has again laid us under obligations, this time for some of Bergner & Engle's Export Beer, which we have already tested. We think it better than the Ruppert and Budweiser and it can be had for less money. Mr. Lucas offers it by the box or the barrel.

Mr. J. H. Frazier, advance agent for Mr. Arthur L. Butt, is here and paid us a visit this forenoon. He is here to make arrangements for the appearance in this city on Wednesday night, October 10th, of Mr Butt's new panorama, which has just been completed.

Rock Crystal Spectacles and Eyeglasses
Advice to old and young: In selecting spectacles you should be cautious not to take more magnifying power than has been lost to the eye as in the same proportion that you pass that point of increase, will cause you further injury to the eye. Using glasses of stronger power than is necessary is the daily cause of premature old age to the sight. You can get the best at Heinsberger's.

St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church.
To-morrow being the fifth Sunday in the month, all the services will be in English.

The Sunday School meets at 9:30 a. m., and the Christian Association at 4:30 p. m., in the Luther Memorial building. The services in the church, corner Market and Sixth streets, will be in English at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m., and will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. F. W. E. Peschau. Visitors and strangers are cordially invited. Obliging ushers will seat visitors and strangers.

Mr. M. M. Katz returned last night from a visit of two weeks to the Northern markets, during which time he has been busy purchasing new goods.

Little Miss Cora Peschau, who has been spending part of the Summer with Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Loughery, formerly Wilmingtonians, at Mapping, S. C., returned home yesterday.

Two Fish Stories.

When you fish for drum fish in the surf don't wrap the line around your body, nor yet around your arm. Many years ago a man tried the former and hooked a fish too big for him to land which dragged him into the water and drowned him. He had a knife in his pocket but the line was wound so tightly around him that he could not get it out. We have heard of this as happening at either Masonboro or Myrtle Grove Sound, we forget which.

Another instance of a somewhat similar nature is recalled. Some years before the war a young man about 17 or 18 years of age, from Topsail Sound, was looking for stone crabs, on low water. The usual manner of catching these is to thrust the hand and arm into the hole and pull the crab out. As the crab goes into the hole claws foremost it leaves itself without defence from the rear. The young man (whose name we have heard, but have forgotten) was in this instance caught by the crab, which had in some way enlarged the hole and was thus enabled to turn and meet the attack and hold him in that position, with his arm drawn in up to the shoulder, and held him there until the tide came in and drowned him. This may seem to our readers as a rather fishy fish story but it is said to be authentic. We have heard it a number of times and simply give it as it reached us. But we understand that there are parties now living who will vouch for its correctness. At all events it will serve to point a moral if not to adorn a fish's tail.

The Record of 22 Years.

In ancient days the phunny phellow who hailed from somewhere in the interior and lived on pine knots for breakfast, pokeberry greens for dinner and corncobs for supper, and who carried around with him a dough face that plainly bespoke the exceeding insalubrity of his own dunghill, was wont to provoke a laugh at militia musters by alluding to Wilmington as "a graveyard." The fact that graveyards are not necessarily unhealthy places—for dead people—does not seem to have ever penetrated that part of his anatomy where he rarely carries brains enough in his head to balance the every-day vacuum in his belly.

Well, we used to have billious fever in Wilmington—the old fashioned sort that would take a man up bodily on a pinnacle of pain and rack every joint and sinew but which was not often—at least not always—fatal and would generally release its grip in a few days. Then we had occasionally a touch of typhoid and in later years scarlet fever and meningitis and the dreaded diphtheria, and occasionally somebody would get consumption and drop out of the ranks, but now these things have gone almost out of sight and since the days when it has become so much the fashion to adulterate almost every article of food rheumatism racks the joints and neuralgia the nerves, with occasionally a case or two of remittent or intermittent fever to add a little zest to existence—when the patient has recovered—and help the doctors and druggists to obtain an honest livelihood.

But the old graveyard business is now busted and Wilmington to-day can show a cleaner, healthier record among its white population than probably any other town or city in the South.

It is a fact that so far this month, and up to this date, the 29th day of September, there has been but one interment in Oakdale Cemetery. And that one interment was of a body brought here from elsewhere for burial. And we are able to present the facts in figures, thanks to Mr. R. J. Jones, the Secretary and Treasurer of Oakdale Cemetery Co. Mr. Jones has held that position ever since 1867, a period of 22 years, and he has recently been over his books very carefully and made up from them the following statement of interments in Oakdale for the September of every year during his incumbency. It is as follows:

In September, 1867, there were 14 interments; in 1868, 18; in 1869, 17; in 1870, 9; in 1871, 13; in 1872, 15; in 1873, 6; in 1874, 12; in 1875, 20; in 1876, 9; in 1877, 11; in 1878, 7; in 1879, 7; in 1880, 6; in 1881, 3; in 1882, 4; in 1883, 11; in 1884, 2; in 1885, 10; in 1886, 11; in 1887, 9, and in 1888, 1. It is not-ble that in September, 1875, out of the 20 permits issued, 9 were for deaths from diphtheria, a disease of which we have heard very little in late years.

May we not attribute the sudden falling off from 9 last September to 1—really none—this month to the extra sanitary precautions which have lately been put into effect here? We think so, decidedly.

An Interesting Lecture.

At the Brooklyn Baptist Church last night Rev. Dr. Pritchard delivered the second of the series of lectures regarding his recent trip to Europe. His talk last night (for it was more of a conversation than anything else) embraced incidents connected with the Conference to which he was a delegate, the distinguished persons he met there, the immense amount of work performed and a brief review of the difference between English and American orators, much to the advantage of the latter. Besides these he spoke of the places of interest that he visited and what he saw there. Among these were the historic tower of London, where Sir Walter Raleigh, Mary, Queen of Scots, and many other illustrious persons were beheaded; and, with a shudder looked upon the headman's axe and the fatal block where so many lives were sacrificed. He also visited the several parks and museums of the great city, his description of which was interesting and instructive. He also saw Billingsgate, but said but little of what he saw and heard there. His account of the preaching of Rev. Mr. Spurgeon was deeply interesting and instructive.

The learned doctor certainly kept his eyes and ears open while in London, much to the profit and gratification of those who have heard the two lectures he has given. We regret that space will not permit us to give a more extended notice of his admirable effort, for it was deeply interesting from beginning to end.

Next Friday night he will speak at the same place upon Naples and other parts of Italy and especially of the ruins of Pompeii, and we hope there may be a crowded house as the subject is interesting, and upon such themes Doctor Pritchard is a most entertaining and instructive speaker.

All In.

Mr. S. H. Fishblate, the King Clothier, has his Fall stock ready for inspection. He always purchases early so as to obtain the choice styles. Merchants buying their stocks this season of the year have to take the "cullings," or what is left, that other merchants would not have. Mr. Fishblate's stock is composed entirely of first class goods and tailor made—equal to custom make. He employs no women at 25 cents a day and work them 10 hours each day to make pants and Cheap John goods to palm off on the public. His stores are well lighted day and night, which is very essential for buyers of clothing. We advise our readers to beware of a dark store and Cheap John goods.
