The second day's registration in New York shows an increase of 34,275 names over 1884.

A dispatch from St. Paul de Loando says that Maj. Barttelot was shot by one of his own men, early in the morning, on July 19th.

Denver News: The offer of Mr. Fine P. Ernest, a quiet Colorado cattleman, to place $25,000 on the proposition that Grover Cleveland, if alive and healthy March 5, 1889, will take the oath as his own successor, has not yet been taken.

Seth Low, Brooklyn's ex-Mayor, a life-long Republican who has recently entered the Democratic ranks "for three years or the war," made a talk at Cooper Union on Wednesday night and told in very plain language why he could not vote for Mr. Blaine—we mean Mr. Harrison—and why he should cast his vote this year for Cleveland and Thurman.

New York Star: Of seventeen pension agents appointed by President Cleveland, sixteen are Union veterans, and the seventeenth is the widow of the gallant Irish-American soldier, Colonel Mulligan, who won glory by his magnificent defense of Springfield, Mo. In proportion to appointments made, Cleveland has placed in office more Union veterans than any of his predecessors.

Kansas City Times: So sure as right is right and God's blessed sunshine is given alike to all, there is a revolution in the land. Agriculture is leading it. The farmers are aroused as a mass and denouncing the perfidious course taken by the Republican Senators as treason to every laboring man in the United States, no matter his trade, profession or calling. So get ready. When agriculture arises in its might, and wrathfully, listen for an archangel's trumpet.

Chairman Barnum was in Boston a day or two ago and said this to a New York Herald reporter:

But the fight between Tammany and the County Democracy is going to grow so bitter and sharp that at least between fifteen and twenty thousand will be added to the total city vote. These will be drawn from the regular stay at home contingent. The fight comes solely upon the Mayoralty issue. I have taken pains to observe that outside of that the New York Democracy is united.—Look, for instance, at the Congressional districts. There is no contention of the element. A nomination made by either the County or Tammany Democrats has been rigidly respected and acquiesced in by the other factions. Of course you are bright enough to see the significance of that. Cleveland will inevitably capture the entire increase in the party vote, on which ever side it may be, and will carry the State.—Mr. Barnum also says that "Indiana is all right."

The New York Star tells as follows of a big bluff that didn't bluff worth a cent. It says:

Charles S. Higgins, of Brooklyn, is reported to have offered to bet $10,000 to $7,000 on the election of Harrison. The offer was promptly accepted by Mr. Colt, owner of the yacht Dauntless. Then Mr. Higgins reconsidered, whereupon Mr. Colt offered to bet him $10,000 even, and accordingly drew his check for the amount. Mr. Higgins expressed an unwillingness to bet upon checks, and has since failed to call at the Murray Hill Hotel to cover Mr. Colt's sight draft for $10,000. Mr. Higgins, it was gossiped last night in the political centres, subsequently made the proposition in the entire safe precincts of the Union League Club to bet $10,000 on the election of Mr. Harrison. This story, when related last night in the corridors of the up-town hotels, created much merriment among Democrats, and Republicans appeared to be very glad that the story should have leaked out.

The need of the hour with the Democratic Executive Committee is money. Capt. F. W. Dawson, of the Charleston News and Courier, is the South Carolina member of that Committee. He makes a strong appeal for funds in his paper. South Carolina is expected to give $5,000. Should North Carolina do less than this? Capt. Dawson is no alarmist. Read what he says:

It is best to speak plainly. There is no need in multiplying words. Unless the National Democratic Committee receive liberal additional contributions immediately, the success of the canvass will be imperilled. The campaign has been necessarily expensive. Although the amount of money already contributed has been surprisingly large, it has been expended in the printing and circulation of campaign documents, and in other legitimate ways.

It is considered certain that the Republicans will mass their forces in New York, Connecticut and Indiana on the eve of the election. Their plan is to debauch enough voters to give them, at any cost, a majority at the polls. They have the money, if not the men.

The National Democracy would elect their candidates by a decisive majority if the election were to be held to-day. But there is danger, and serious danger, before us. The National Committee must be put in the position, at once, to carry on the contest to the end with unabated vigor, and to meet the enemy at every point. Otherwise, the chances on election day will be against us.

There are some "humoristics" in this campaign which occasionally find their way into print. Here are a couple taken from the Herald:

The town of Centreville, Ind., had a republican jubilee Wednesday night including a meeting in the Town Hall, which is also used for theatrical entertainments. Mr. J. H. Watson, of Winchester, was one of the speakers, and as he made a particularly emphatic gesture he suddenly disappeared from view. The wildest excitement prevailed, that was turned into boisterous laughter as the orator was dragged by the collar out of an opening in the stage. He had stepped upon a badly fastened trap that gave way beneath his weight.

The republicans in the Second Congressional district of New Jersey are just now denouncing the stupidity of some of their County Committeemen in language that would render them liable to a criminal prosecution under the old Blue laws.

The cause of their anger is the fact that for some time past several of the chairmen or ward committeemen have been sending out democratic campaign documents to their constituents without knowing it.

Just how the mistake was made does not appear at present, although it is alleged that the contraband documents were sent to the republican committee by a member of the New York Democratic Committee, who shrewdly supposed that the republicans would send out the documents among the doubtful voters without even reading them to discover the character of the reading matter.

The supposition proved correct. Bundle after bundle of democratic literature in regard to the Mills bill, Carlisle and McKinley's utterances on the tariff and President Cleveland's speeches were scattered broadcast.

Fowle at Burgaw.
Judge Fowle spoke at Burgaw yesterday to a fine crowd, and our correspondent thinks it was one of the best speeches, if not the very best, ever delivered in that town. If it was the fellow to that delivered here last night then our correspondent can safely gamble on that fact.

There were a great many ladies present yesterday at the speaking at Burgaw and somehow our gallant Governor, proximo, is at his best when the ladies smile on him. He made votes in Burgaw. After the speaking the crowd surrounded him and the handshaking last one hour.

Song Harmony.
"Song Harmony," a new book for the use of singing schools, musical institutes, conventions, etc., edited by L. O. Emerson, and filled with well-selected and original compositions, has been received from the publishers. It contains the usual rudimentary exercises, with bright and pleasing part-songs, glees, choruses, etc., and a fine collection of metrical tunes, anthems and other choir pieces; all of which make the book useful in nearly every form of vocal instruction and choral practice. It is one of Mr. Emerson's best books, and contains nearly 300 pages of good music. Send for a free specimen page and descriptive circular of "Song Harmony," by L. O. Emerson. Price of the book, 60 cents., sent by mail to any address, by Oliver Ditson & Co., Boston, Mass.

Goldsboro Wedding Bells.
We spoke briefly yesterday of the marriage in Goldsboro, on Wednesday afternoon, of our young townsman, Mr. J. J. Hedrick, Jr. The following graphic account is from the Argus:

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in this city was crowded to standing room yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock with the elite of our city who had gathered to witness the marriage of one of Goldsboro's most popular and amiable young ladies, Miss Mamie G. Watts, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Watts, to Mr. J. J. Hedrick, Jr., of Wilmington. An admirable feature of the happy occasion was the precision with which it was carried out. Promptly at the appointed hour the beautiful "Wedding March" was intoned by the organist, Miss Maggie Hilyar, and the bridal pair, preceded by the ushers, Messrs. I. G. Hedrick and W. P. Toomer, of Wilmington, and J. H. Hill, Jr., and T. R. Robinson, of our city, approached the altar, where the Rector, Rev. J. M. Hilyar, and Rev. C. L. Arnold, of St. Paul's, Wilmington, awaited them. The ceremony was performed by the Rector, and the prayer was offered by Mr. Arnold. The bride and groom stood under a beautiful floral arch, which rested upon two massive floral pillars, and there the impressive service was performed and those mutual vows that were to effect the eternal locking of their young lives were interchanged in solemn reverence, and the prayer of invocation and the ministers' blessing followed, while the rich perfume of fresh flowers floated through the imposing edifice, whispering of the sweets of love, the joys of youth and the mellow contentment of life's purple twilight altogether appropriate to the happy occasion. After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where they partook of a delightful collation before taking the evening train for the home of the groom in Wilmington. Of the bride's presents there was no end, and they were of such beauty and variety that it were vain to particularize or describe.

But one case, a trifling one, before the Mayor to day.

The receipts of cotton at this port to day foot up 1,240 bales.

You can obtain a fine Cassimere Polo Cap for ten cents any day in the week, except Sunday, at Fish-plate's.

Frost mullets are beginning to run now. The first catch of the season was made yesterday on Masonboro beach.

The essence of burning tar barrels filled the air last night. All night long the streets were filled with smoke and it had not disappeared this morning.

A special train on the Seacoast R. R. will be run this evening. It will leave here at 6 o'clock and will leave the Hummocks on the return at 9. The train will leave Princess street depot. Don't get mixed up and go to Front street, for it will not start from that depot.

Very few of our country cousins have been in the city this week. They are too busy at home hoarding their crops and whooping 'em up for Cleveland and Fowle to spare the time now for a visit to the city. They will come down in crowds, though, next month, to help us celebrate.

A Cool Wave Probable.
The New York Herald thinks that a cool wave of some severity may visit the Atlantic seaboard on Sunday. There was a storm in Southern Dakota on Wednesday, moving East, and it was thought that a cool wave would follow in its track. It will probably enter the Central States to-morrow and reach the seaboard on Sunday. This is for States to the North of us but we presume that it will be felt here also.

Rock Crystal Spectacles and Eyeglasses.
Advice to old and young: In selecting spectacles you should be cautious not to take more magnifying power than has been lost to the eye as in the same proportion that you pass that point of increase, will cause you further injury to the eye. Using glasses of stronger power than is necessary is the daily cause of premature old age to the sight. You can get the best at Heinsberger's.

"Look at Your Unborn Children."
The "regular" Republicans had a big rally last night in the Fifth Ward, corner of Fifth and Castle streets. The candidate for Lieut. Governor on the State ticket, Mr. Pritchard, divided honors with Mr. Lockett, Col. Rowland's formidable opponent. Dr. Norment also spoke a piece, Alderman Rice, candidate for the State Senate, had a few remarks to make, and John Holloway, Valentine Howe and William Myers filled up the small gaps. The latter got off some very characteristic remarks. He thought that "the wind would stop blowing through the trees when the 'boodlers' (he meant the 'bolters') were elected. Among other things he appealed to his hearers to look at their unborn children and say what their condition would be in the future ages should these "boodlers" succeed in their object.

A Gala Night.
The young Democrats of the city were out in force last night. It was a gala night in politics. The line of march was a long one and the torches were numerous. Bonfires lighted the procession, running a big opposition to the nearly full moon, and skyrockets flew heavenward to signalize in advance the big Democratic victory next month. Judge Fowle arrived on time and was in splendid trim, although he had spoken during the day at Burgaw. He was introduced by Mr. W. B. McKoy, of the Executive Committee. Splendid orator as he is he even surpassed himself last night. His speech was one of the very best ever delivered in Wilmington and if he failed to make any new votes it was simply because those votes were already made, as there is perhaps not a voter in this city to-day who does not know how he will vote on the 6th of November.

Judge Fowle was followed by Mr. Grudger who made a very fine speech. He said that he brought good news from the West to the steadfast Democrats of the East and had no hesitation in saying that North Carolina would give Cleveland and Fowle a rousing majority in November.
