Mason & Hamlin do not hesitate to make the extraordinary claim for their planes, that they are superior to all others. They recognize the high excellence achieved by other leading makers in the art of plane building, but still claim superiority! This they attribute solely to the remarkable improvement introduced by m in the year 1882, and known as the "MAson & Hamlin Piano Stringer," by the use of which is secur PIANOS ty and refinement of tone, Grand & Upright creased ca-

The phenomenally low Nile this vear leads Sir Samuel Baker, Governor of the Soudan under Ismail, the former Khedive of Egypt, to diverted one of the rivers that feed she put one of 'em on? the Nile. 'The Atbara River, from rived, could be easily diverted, he thinks and he believes that the seven by a stoppage of the Atbara, the Rahat and the Dinder. These afof the Athara is dry for five months of the year. It would be perfectly easy, says Sir Samuel, to dam it during that period with the timber that fringes its banks. About 230 miles from its mouth is a spot where it could be deflected without difficulty toward the Red Sea. Such a proceeding would ruin Egypt, of course, and in the interest of Egypt the authority of the Khedive should, he thinks, be reasserted over the whole basin of the Nile.

The Act of the New York Legislature prohibiting the use of stoves for heating passenger cars on the steam railroads of that State went into effect on Thursday. The law was passed in 1887. It provides that on all railroads penetrating fifty miles and more within the boundaries of the State of New York no car stoves may be used. The law was to have gone into effect in May, but at the last session of the Legislature the railroad men pleaded that they could not get their cars from catarrh, be sure to Blood ready for any new system in time, and so an amendment was offered whereby the period was extended to November 1. The New York World publishes interviews with the man agers of the lines running out of that city showing that they are ready to comply with the law. The superintendent of the New York Central says their experiments have proved the entire adaptability of steam as a heater for passenger cars He regards steam heating as more economical, more satisfactory to the public and the railroads, and much cleaner With such testimony arrived at after the most thorough practical tests, the deadly car stove ought soon to become a thing of the past on every steam railroad in this country. The cost of the New York Central's steam appliances was about $150 a car.

The great Lick Observatory on Mount Hamilton, in California, is beginning to yield substantial results in astronomical science. Prof. Holden took every night during August a series of photographic views with a large photographic lens of the notably resplendent moon. These are more than five inches in diameter, and show all the eleva that a series of views of the moon have been taken in this manner, as it is not in every location that perfect views of the planet can be ob tained for thirty consecutive nights. Prof. Holden proposes to make a special study of the moon, taking up next various sections of the moon's surface, noticing carefully any indications of changes that may have occurred since the same sections were examined by other astronomers. The results of all these close sectional studies will be noted on carefully prepared maps, which will be of great value to students. If Dr. Bonard president of the University of Southern California, is successful in his efforts to secure a telescope with a 42-inch lens-the Lick is 34-the whole world will look to instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as California for astronomical discoveries, as that State will then have the two largest telescopes ever con
