Under the State law of Michigan no duellist can cast a vote.

How many strikes will there be during the next four years? As many as occurred during the Administrations of Grant, Garfield, Arthur and Hayes? Watch out for these strikes, for labor still has no protection.

The report that Lord Sackville will soon go to Canada is probably founded on fact. After committing an indiscretion in this country, it is quite fashionable for a man to take a trip to the Dominion.

Some Englishmen are distressed that there can be found room in Westminster Abbey for only three more statues and two more busts. There are even propositions for a new Wallhalla.

Another Whitechapel murder and the police have done nothing. The chief of the London force, it would seem, might aptly say with Dogberry, "Let it be remembered, masters, that I am an ass."

Chief Justice Fuller is astonishing the Washington Bar by the "Chicago rapidity" with which he rushes through important cases in the Supreme Court. Ten cases a day is the present average.

If Mr. Cleveland had wanted to be elected a second time and then sprung his tariff message on the country, giving the people two or three years to talk it over, the Democrats would have remained in power twenty years.

A candidate for the chair of archaeology at University College is Miss J. E. Harrison. She is the most distinguished authority on the art of Greek vases and is disputing the place with some of the most eminent archaeological experts in England.

Mr. George H. Forster, who on Tuesday was elected president of the board of New York aldermen, died without knowing of his election. He was unwell for two weeks previous to the election, but it was not thought that his illness would prove fatal. He died at half past 10 o'clock on Tuesday, while the election was in progress.

Mrs. Harris is the name of a widow in Topeka, Kansas, who has done an original thing. She has put up over her husband's grave a lasting memorial of the illness which caused his death—mania-a-potu. At the base of a simple granite shaft is carved a mass of coiling and writhing snakes. Above is cut his name and age and the simple sentence: "Died of Delirium Tremens."

"Think naught a trifle, though it small appear." Just remember for instance how you would be dancing around with toothache, if you had not bought a bottle of Salvation Oil! Yes! think of that.

After to-day the steamer Louis will leave Wilmington at 2 p. m. instead of 2.30.

The worst feature about catarrh is its dangerous tendency to consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures catarrh by purifying the blood.

A few mocking bird cages left which we wish to close out at reduced prices. Jacobi's HdW Depot.

Some of the streets and sidewalks, a short distance removed from the vicinity of the City Hall, are in a very bad condition.

One of the all important questions arising in consequence of the result of the recent election is, "Who will be Postmaster and Collector?" We doubt not that the aspirants will be forthcoming in due season and with patriotic devotion.

We have it now, a razor that will shave you clean and make you happy. Every one warranted. Jacobi's HdW Depot.

We now have stove boards to go under your stoves, of beautiful designs, that are guaranteed not to tarnish. Jacobi's HdW Depot.

Market street has appeared comparatively dull to-day, although business along the wharves has been unusually lively, even for this lively time of year.

Work on St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, corner of Fourth and Campbell streets, is progressing favorably. When completed it will be an attractive and imposing structure and will make quite an improvement to the appearance of that part of the city.

Rev. Robert Strange, rector of St. James' Church, is delivering a series of sermons on the Life of Christ at St. James' House. Last night he delivered the fourth of the series, his special subject for the occasion being "Obedience," which was listened to with profound attention and deep interest.

The result of the election being now an established fact, our people have gone to work again with hardly even an allusion to politics being heard. Honest North Carolinians will continue to raise cotton, corn, tobacco, rice, peanuts and "sich like" regardless of Granny Harrison's grandson or Morton's special tax bonds.

After an almost unprecedented spell of warm, sultry and damp weather, the clouds cleared away on Saturday evening and the atmosphere became perceptibly cooler. Yesterday a decidedly cold wave paid us a visit, and this morning fires and overcoats were real comfortable. The change was much needed for the benefit of the general health.

The little junk-rigged craft, the Libertad, with which Capt. Joshua Slocomb, with his wife and two sons, made the passage from Rio de Janeiro to Southport, arriving at the latter place on Saturday last, was towed up to the city by the steamer Bessie this morning, and is now in the stream off Kidder's mill. The Libertad is 35 feet long, 7 feet beam and has 3 feet depth of hold. With this little craft Capt. Slocomb has made a passage unprecedented in the history of nautical adventures and one which we should have no desire to undertake.

Rev. Dr. Pritchard will leave on to-night's train for Greensboro where he will attend the Baptist State Convention, which will assemble in that city on Wednesday morning next.

Rev. W. M. Kennedy, of Warsaw, conducted the services, both morning and night, at Brooklyn Baptist Church yesterday, and preached two excellent sermons. They were plain, practical efforts, marked by sincere piety, were highly edifying, and were listened to with profound attention and delight by his large congregations.

An Important Capture. Between 5 and 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Officers Howell and Turlington—known on the police force as "Ironsides" and "Old Sleuth" respectively—succeeded in capturing an escaped convict from the Penitentiary named Toney Carlton, alias Peter Bunting. Carlton was sentenced from Duplin county and escaped, with two others about two years ago. The officers had had information that he was in this vicinity and have been laying their plans to capture him for some time. Having information yesterday where the culprit was to be found they started and succeeded in capturing him near Mr. Wm. P. Oldham's place, about two miles from the city on the Federal Point road. Before his capture was effected the convict drew a knife with which to defend himself, but when he found himself covered by Officer Turlington's revolver, he concluded it would be better to drop the offensive weapon and submit quietly. He is now in the city guard house with a fair prospect of being soon returned to his old quarters at the Penitentiary.

The Fire Light Open Grate Stove is without equal for comfort, economy and cheerfulness. Sold only by the Factory's Agent, Nath'l Jacobi.

Northern sportsmen and hunters are already beginning to flock to North Carolina for their Winter's sport. Several parties have already arrived and we hear of more that will come before long.

A Strange Bird. Mr. William Hansley, who lives near Castle Hayne, in this county, has a white crow. It is a veritable crow in every particular, except in its color. It is a case in which the saying, "black as a crow," fails to hold good. Who can explain the cause of this singular freak of nature?

Bible Day. Yesterday was known as "Bible Day" among many Christian denominations. It was observed as such by the Sunday School of the First Baptist Church, and the exercises were interesting and impressive. The Sunday School was present in full numbers and was joined by the Sunday Schools of the Brooklyn Baptist Church and Wooster Street Chapel, making the attendance very large. The exercises were entirely appropriate to the occasion, and were conducted admirably. The singing, from Gospel Hymns, was excellent.

Zozo, the Magic Queen. This gorgeous spectacular drama will be presented in all its splendor and scenic beauty at the Opera House in this city on the night of the 15th inst. In speaking of the piece the Richmond (Va.) State says: "There was a large audience at the Theatre last night to witness the first presentation in this city of this spectacular drama. The piece is very much on the order of the Naïad Queen, but far surpasses it. The scenery is gorgeous and dazzling, and the mechanical effects wonderful. There is nothing coarse or objectionable in the play, and the whole performance is in good taste and excellent to please. The ladies of the company are young and pretty, and such rich costuming is rarely seen in these parts."

Musical. The Wilmington Amateur Opera Company, which, by the way, is composed of some of our most highly esteemed young ladies and gentlemen whose talent for music is of the highest order, will meet at the residence of Capt. J. L. Boatwright to-night to consider what opera they shall next present to our people. As soon as the selection is made, which will be to-night, the company will go energetically to work at rehearsals, so that it shall be presented in excellent shape and at as early a date as possible.

City Court. There was a full docket for the Mayor's consideration this morning, and it was disposed of as follows: Hattie Wilson, colored, disorderly conduct. Discharged. Henry Loftin, colored, disorderly conduct, $10 and costs. Defendant appealed. Appeal granted and a justified bond of $100 required. Hampton Jefferson, colored, drunk and disorderly, $20 or 90 days. Lewis Ruppolly, colored, disorderly conduct, $5 or 10 days. John Wilkins, colored, disorderly conduct, judgment suspended. Charles Miller, tramp, ordered out of the city and furnished with an escort to the city limits. One case of non payment of license tax was dismissed upon the procurement of the necessary document.

"The Danites." This exciting Western melo-drama, which has had an extensive run throughout the country, was presented to a large and enthusiastic audience at the Opera House last Saturday night as the closing piece in the engagement of the Cora Van Tassel Company. The troupe is not a new one to our theatre-going people as it played a successful engagement here something less than two years ago. The standard of excellent acting which the several members of the company then displayed has been fully maintained, as was plainly evidenced by the performance of Saturday night. Miss Van Tassel is a charming lady and a conscientious, versatile actress, and in the character of Nancy Williams she was superb. Mr. W. J. Young is one of the best of comedians and the support was good throughout.

Hot bed glass and sash for your hot houses is constantly to be had at Jacobi's HdW Depot.
