Catarrh originates in scrofulous taint. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood and thus permanently cures catarrh.

There is economy in using a good heating stove and in buying same from Jacobi's Hdw Depot.

It has been a lovely day for the little ones and our streets have been made gay and lively for their presence on our streets.

Our streets presented a dull and deserted appearance yesterday. In the language of the old play, "There was nobody everywhere!"

The school children are heartily enjoying their brief vacation; and will be all the more willing to return cheerfully and earnestly to their duties on Monday next.

Ger barque Marianne Bertha, Pieth, cleared to day for Garston Dock, Eng., with 3,765 barrels rosin, valued at $3,386.84, shipped by Messrs. William & Murchison.

Personal.
Mr. J. D. Williams, of Fayetteville, formerly a clerk in the Custom House here was in the city yesterday to spend Thanksgiving with his many friends and relatives.

A nice line of breech and muzzle loading guns, pistols and rifles can be seen at Jacobi's Hdw Depot. If you want the best goods at the lowest prices, Jacobi's is the place you are looking for.

The autumnal months close to day with most lovely weather. The atmosphere has been just crisp enough to be bracing and wholesome, but neither too cold nor too warm for genuine comfort.

Look out for the minstrels. They will appear at the Opera House next Tuesday night. You will see the advertisement, which will give you all the particulars, in the REVIEW to-morrow.

To-morrow will be school children's day on the Seacoast Railroad to the Hummooks, when the fare will be ten cents for the round trip. The fare for others than school children will be 25 cents.

The Othello, Zeb Vance, New Emerald and Virginia are the stoves that please the people. We guarantee every stove sold by us to give satisfaction or else money cheerfully refunded. Jacobi's Hdw Depot.

Acknowledgments.
Capt. F. M. James wishes us to express his gratitude for the very liberal donations made by our citizens for the poor of the city on Thanksgiving Day. The sum total of the various contributions was something more than $85, which was distributed by Capt. James.

Rock Crystal Spectacles and Eyeglasses. Advice to old and young: In selecting spectacles you should be cautious not to take more magnifying power than has been lost to the eye as in the same proportion that you pass that point of increase, will cause you further injury to the eye. Using glasses of stronger power than is necessary is the daily cause of premature old age to the sight. You can get the best at Heinsberger's.

Br. steamship Glenmore, Cave, cleared to-day for Liverpool with 5,450 bales of cotton, valued at $248,900, shipped by Messrs. Alex. Sprunt & Son.

Fifty years ago the term neuralgia was comparatively unknown to the profession, but is now one of the most frequent and distressing diseases of our time. The best remedy for it, however, is Salvation Oil. Price twenty five cents.

Rough Weather.
The signal office observer at Southport sends us the following:
Br. brig Glenarchy arrived at quarantine at 3.10 p. m. yesterday. Her captain reports encountering a heavy gale in the gulf which carried away the brig's topmasts and a part of her sails.

The schooner Harry White arrived at quarantine at 10.35 a. m. to-day with foretopmast gone.

The Festival.
Remember the festival to be given at the Wooster Street Chapel to-night by the ladies of that congregation. There will be a plenty of good things to eat and drink and they will be sold at reasonable prices. The proceeds of the festival will be devoted to the benefit of the chapel, so it is a worthy cause, go and help them.

The Horses.
The equine entertainment at the Opera House last night was well attended and was quite attractive. Some of its features were excellent, some fair and some were inferior. The manager will close his engagement here to-night, when there will be an entire change of programme. The exhibition is interesting as showing what animals may be taught where they are treated with patient firmness and an adequate idea of their capacity for understanding.

City Court.
There was not a very large docket for the Mayo's consideration this morning, considering the fact that yesterday was a day of general rejoicing, when people were not expected to be quite as guarded and circumspect in their conduct as usual. The following is an epitome of the proceedings in court:
Edward Green, colored, charged with disorderly conduct, was found guilty and a fine of $5 was the penalty in his case.
Sandy Clark, colored, charged with disorderly conduct, was found guilty and fined $20 and costs for the offense.
Thomas Hall, colored, refusing to assist a police officer when summoned to do so. Guilty and fined $20, with the alternative of 30 days' imprisonment for his stubbornness.
Two young men, charged with an affray in which deadly weapons were used, were bound over in the sum of $50 to the next term of the Criminal Court.
John Crabtree, chief engineer of the Br. steamship Parklands, charged with an assault and battery upon the chief mate of that vessel, was fined $5 for the offense.

A Severed Link.
In the appropriate column in this issue of the REVIEW appears the obituary notice of Mr. John Potts Brown, who died at Minneapolis, Minn., on the 21st inst.
Mr. John Potts Brown was a native of Wilmington, and he will be remembered kindly and affectionately by all of our older citizens. He was for many years intimately identified with the vital interests of the city, having as long ago as 1839 formed a partnership with Dr. A. J. De Rosset, under the firm name of De Rosset & Brown, in the transaction of a wholesale commission business, which for many years was the largest commercial house in the city. In fact such was the importance of the business that it became necessary to establish a branch house in New York. Mr. Brown went to the latter city where he established the house of Brown & DeRosset, while that in this city remained as before. Both houses were broken up and the firms dissolved as results of the war and Mr. Brown removed to Minneapolis, where he remained until his death a few weeks ago. In all the relations of life, the deceased was a gentleman of the highest honor and of the strictest integrity. Although he had been absent for many years from this his native city, he always felt a warm interest in the welfare and prosperity of Wilmington.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

How it Was Celebrated by our People— Incidents and Events of the Day.

As if to gratify the fond anticipations and hopes of scores of young people and to give additional cause for thankful hearts, yesterday's sun rose bright and glorious over our happy Southland. There was a heavy frost early in the morning and the atmosphere was crisp and somewhat cold, but the genial rays of the sun soon dispelled the former and softened and made charmingly pleasant the latter, so that the expression, "what a lovely day," was heard from the lips of all. Thanksgiving was observed by our people generally as a holiday, all the stores, manufactories, places of business and public offices being closed, making a general suspension of trade and traffic everywhere.

THE CHURCHES.
Appropriate religious services were held in the different churches. At St. Thomas' Catholic Church mass was celebrated at 7 a. m., which constituted the only service at this place of worship. At St. James', St. John's and St. Paul's Episcopal Churches morning services were held at 11 o'clock. At St. Paul's Lutheran Church the morning services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Hallman, of Augusta, Georgia, and at night the pastor, Rev. F. W. E. Peschau, delivered a very interesting lecture upon "Foreigners." The music, both vocal and instrumental, at both services was very fine. The union services, in which the Presbyterians, Baptists and Methodists united were held at Grace M. E. Church, and were conducted by Rev. Dr. Pritchard, assisted by Rev. P. H. Hoge and Rev. G. M. Tolson. Rev. J. W. Primrose was also present a part of the time, but was obliged to leave before the services were concluded. Rev. W. S. Creasy, of Grace M. E. Church, Rev. T. Page Ricard, of Bladen Street M. E. Church, and Rev. D. H. Tuttle, of Fifth Street M. E. Church, were necessarily absent in attendance upon the annual North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, which is now in session at Newbern. The large and beautiful church was crowded to its utmost capacity sometime before services commenced, the throng being so dense that the ushers had hard work to seat the audience. The services throughout were appropriate to the occasion and peculiarly impressive. The music, under the direction of Mr. H. M. Bowden, was a marked feature of the services. The choir and orchestra consisted of the following: Prof. E. Van Lear and Mr. E. H. Munson, organists; Mr. S. Schloss, cornet; Mrs. H. M. Bowden, Mrs. L. B. Pennington, Miss L. Bowden, sopranos; Mrs. P. A. Muse, Mrs. W. W. Shaw, altos; Mr. H. M. Bowden, Mr. W. N. Jacobs, tenors, and Messrs. H. K. Holden, and R. M. Gilbert, basses. The parts were well balanced, the voices pure and rich, and the selected pieces, especially the offertory, were excellent and well rendered. It is needless to say that the vocalists were well sustained and accompanied by the instrumentation. Prof. Van Lear is to well known to need words of commendation from us, and Mr. S. Schloss, although a young man, has already made his mark as a fine cornetist, while Mr. E. H. Munson, although very young, has already given abundant evidence of musical ability of an unusually high order.

IN THE WOODS.

Fowling pieces and "shootin' irons" of almost every description were in demand yesterday, and at an early hour our Nimrods, young and old, might be seen wending their way to the woods in search of game. Some started for the scene of operations in buggies, some on horseback, but the great majority were content to go on foot. They went North, East, South and West, so that there was hardly a patch of forest in any direction, within ten miles of the city that was not tramped over by the sportsmen and where the ring of the fowling piece was not heard. Some of these amateur hunters were successful in shooting bags full of game, while others, less fortunate, were sadly disappointed and their efforts for the day amounted to "nothing but brag of." All, however, managed to return at night safe and sound, without accident to mar the pleasures of the day or bring other days of suffering and pain; but it is needless to say that all were completely tired out.

AT THE SOUND.

Through the courtesy as well as business sagacity of the management of the Seacoast Railroad unusual facilities were given to those who wished to visit Wrightsville, the Sound and the ocean, and a great number of our citizens, especially of the younger portion, availed themselves of the opportunity thus afforded. The fare was placed at 25 cents for the round trip and trains were run at 7 and 9.30 a. m. and 2.30 p. m., the two last being crowded with pleasure and recreation seekers. A part of these stopped at the larger portion crossed over to the "Hummocks," where they dispersed, some to wander over to the beach while others remained at the hotel, where the host, Mr. W. A. Bryan, was already on hand to attend to the wants of his guests and where his foresight had placed a band of music for the pleasure of those who might wish to dance. And there were a plenty of beautiful young ladies and gallant young gentlemen who were eager to join in this exhilarating amusement and almost by magic the large dancing hall became an ever shifting kaleidoscopic picture as the merry and graceful dancers went floating and whirling around the spacious hall. It was truly a festive scene in which there was no shadow of gloom or sadness to disturb the innocent gaiety of the occasion.

But all mundane things must have an end and approaching night warned our happy people that even "Thanksgiving" as a holiday could not last always, and they sought the sweet calm of their own firesides, where with many an anecdote and incident connected with the day's pleasures they whiled the time happily away until the fleeting hours and a feeling of drowsiness warned them to seek "Tired nature's sweet restorer balmy sleep."

Thus ended in Wilmington the Thanksgiving Day of 1888.
