> The engineers and the House committee on rivers and harbors agree that Savannah can have a 26 foot channel in her harbor at a cost of $2,000,000, while a 28 foot channel will cost $6,600,000. The committee will recommend that work be inauguarated looking to the 26 foot channel.

It is improbable that the Southern Base Ball League will be revived. but efforts are being made to establish a gulf league, to include the cities of New Orleans, Mobile, Pensacola and Selma. In Mobile great interest is taken in base ball and the number of those willing to put up money to support a club there is. surprising.

The Augusta Steamboat Company has increased its capital stock by $12,000. The Chronicle commends Zach Hussey was injured while in and for certain kinds the action and wishes the company the discharge of his duty, his wages continued preoperity. It is calculate ed that the steamboat company laid up. the as theap in proportion and saves fully $200,000 a year for the merchants of Augusta in the lower freights secured since the running of the boats on the Savannah river.

He wants, he says, justice, demands that the legislature shall say in effect that his error was of judgment and not of purpose. In other words, this legislature is to brand as infamous that which found him guilty of high crimes and misdemeanors.

The Georgia Legislature has taken advanced action in the cause of education. The appropriation bills as reported by the committee on ways and means contained the fol lowing items: School of technology $18,000, branch college at Dahlonega $3,000, branch college at Milledgeville $2,000, branch college at Thomville $2,000. The committee did even more, which was to insert in the general appropriation bill $165, 000 for common school purposes in 1889, and $330,000 for common school purposes in 1890.

Frank Stockton's new novel may deprive President Harrison of two have aspired to climb to its dizzy Cabinet positions to give away if it is published soon enough. In a supposed war between Great Britain and this country the United States It goes forth to the world as the lets out its fighting to the highest eloquent exemplar of American inbidder, with such happy results that even the vanquished party—we assume that the author makes the foreigner the loser—unites in a vote of thanks to the syndicate that did our fighting for us. The story is to be published serially in Collier's Once a Week, in instalments long enough not to keep the readers in undue suspense. But if the country accepts the plan there will be no need of a Secretary of War or of the Navy. Does Once a Week propose to knock out the administration before it is formed?—N. Y. Herald, Dec. 9, 1888

This wonderful story by Frank R, Stockton, the author of "The Lady or the Tiger," "Rudder Grange," "The Late Mrs. Null," "The Casting Away of Mrs. Lecks and Mrs. Aleshine," etc., etc., commences in No. 9 of Collier's Once a Week, out Dec. 15, illustrated by Matt Morgan.
