A True Tonic
When you don't feel well and hardly know what ails you, give B. B. (Botanic Blood) a trial. It is a fine tonic. It will give you the strength and energy you need to get back on your feet. It is a true tonic and has done me great good.

W. W. Thompson, Damascus, Ga.
I believe B. B. is the best blood purifier made. It has greatly improved my general health. An old gentleman writes: "B. B. gives me new life and new strength. It is the best thing that will make an old man young. It is B. B."

P. A. Shepherd, Norfolk, Va.
I depend on B. B. for the preservation of my health. I have had it in my family now nearly two years, and in all that time have not had to have a doctor. I have been cured of dyspepsia. The use of B. B. has made me feel like a new man. I would not take a thousand dollars for the good it has done me.

W. M. Cheshire, Atlanta, Ga.
I had a long spell of typhoid fever, which at last seemed to settle in my right leg, which swelled up enormously. An ulcer also appeared which discharged a cupful of matter a day. I then gave B. B. a trial and it cured me.

Day's length 10 hours and 28 minutes.
Sunset to-morrow afternoon at 28 minutes past 5 o'clock.

The February full moon falls due on the 15th, in the afternoon.

Heating Stoves are offered at reduced prices by the N. Jacobi Hdw. Co.

All kinds of School Books and School Supplies can be bought cheapest at Heinsberger's.

The Register of Deeds has issued but one marriage license this week and that was for a colored couple.

We gain this month 50 minutes of daylight. To-day the sun sets at 5:27 and on the 28th it will set at 5:52.

Keep your blood pure and you will not have rheumatism. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood and tones the whole system.

The choir of the Brooklyn Baptist Church will furnish the music for the meeting at the Seamen's Bethel to night.

Sash, Doors, Glass and Builders' Hardware. You will save money and buy the best goods from the N. Jacobi Hardware Co.

The "Boy Clipper" Plow is best suited for our soil, so say all farmers who have tried them. For sale by the N. Jacobi Hdw. Co.

Hoes, Traces, Hames and Farming Implements of all kinds are sold at "rock bottom" prices by the N. Jacobi Hdw. Co.

If you want a picture framed go to Heinsberger's. He has a large assortment of Mouldings to select from.

There is economy in using an Oil Stove for heating small rooms and offices. For sale by the N. Jacobi Hardware Co.

The usual Saturday night business and working men's prayer and experience meeting will be held at the Seamen's Bethel to night at 7:30 o'clock.

Rev. W. M. J. Kennedy will preach at Seamen's Bethel to-morrow morning at 11 a. m. The public generally and seamen in particular all invited to attend.

There is a lowland freshet in the Cape Fear now. There is but about 12 feet of water at Fayetteville but the lower part of the river is out of its banks.

There was but one interment this week in Oakdale, an adult, two in Bellevue, an adult and a child, and three in Pine Forest, two children and one adult.

Rock Crystal Spectacles and Eyeglasses
Advice to old and young: In selecting spectacles you should be cautious not to take more magnifying power than has been lost to the eye as in the same proportion that you pass that point of increase, will cause you further injury to the eye. Using glasses of stronger power than is necessary is the daily cause of premature old age to the sight. You can get the best at Heinsberger's.

The American Sabbath Union.
The Senate committee on Education and Labor recently gave to the friends and the opponents of the Sabbath a hearing on the "Sunday Rest Bill" now pending in the Senate of the United States. The opponents of the bill were from the Seventh Day Baptists, the Seventh Day Adventists the Personal Liberty League Party, or infidel element. This historic and valuable collection of arguments, which presented both sides of this all important subject, forms a valuable addition to Sabbath literature household. Copies of it can be had free of charge by writing promptly to either Senator from this State, asking for "the hearing on the 'Sunday Rest Bill' before Senator Blair's committee in December, 1888."

Duncan K. McRae.
A meeting of the Bar, which was fully attended by its members and many leading citizens, was held this day at the Court House, for the purpose of taking appropriate action upon the death of one of its most honored and conspicuous members, the late Hon. Duncan K. McRae.

On motion of M. Bellamy Esq. Hon. Geo. Davis was called to the chair, and Mr. DuBrutz Cutlar was requested to act as Secretary.

Mr. Eugene S. Martin, on behalf the committee, presented the following resolutions:

The members of the Wilmington Bar, desirous of testifying the high esteem in which they held their late associate, the Honorable Duncan K. McRae, who, after a long season of suffering has passed peacefully from earth, do resolve: That by the death of Col. McRae the Bar of North Carolina sustained a serious loss. From early manhood to ripe age he was universally recognized as one of the most brilliant advocates, and one of the most earnest, zealous and faithful defenders of the rights of his clients that have ever appeared in the Courts of North Carolina. Fearless, vigilant, learned in the law and gifted with extraordinary oratorical powers, he was always a welcome associate and always a formidable adversary, and the remembrance of his moving eloquence, his solid reasoning, his sparkling wit and genial humor will ever remain with those who survive him.

Resolved, That this testimonial to the professional worth of the deceased be, with his Honor's permission, spread upon the minutes of this court, and that a copy thereof be sent to Mrs. McRae with an expression of the sincere and profound sympathy of this Bar with her in the affliction with which she has been visited.

The meeting was then addressed at length by Hon. Chas. M. Stedman, Hon. D. L. Russell, Mr. John D. Bellamy, Jr., Col. Thos. W. Strange and finally by the Chairman, Hon. Geo. Davis, all of whom spoke affectionately and feelingly of the deceased and in terms of the highest praise of his great talents and personal qualities.

The resolutions were then adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

Maj. Stedman was the principal speaker at the meeting and his remarks were as follows:

BRETHREN OF THE BAR:—I was closely connected with Col. Duncan K. McRae by the ties of an intimate friendship, enjoying this great privilege to an extent, perhaps, accorded to no one else so much younger than himself, excepting his partner, Mr. Strange. I knew him well. In every sphere of life into which he was thrown he was conspicuously great. As an orator he ranked with the foremost names of our State, and in political debate there was no man in all North Carolina who cared to meet him. He was a superb belle-lettre scholar and every literary production which came from his pen was of exquisite and classical finish. At an early age he leaped to the front rank of our profession, contesting successfully with the greatest legal lights the State has ever known; for during the years of his young manhood was our Augustan age when intellect ranked far above the vulgar acquisition of money.

When scarcely thirty years old, in the case of the State vs. Ann K. Simpson, he delivered a speech marvelous for its eloquence and logic and which established for him a lasting reputation extending far beyond the limits of our State.

His mind was analytical and of the highest order, drawing the closest and finest distinctions. It was perhaps his chief fault as a lawyer that in this respect he sometimes overreached the mark which would be recognized by the average intellect. So brilliant were his efforts upon every arena that the erroneous opinion largely prevailed that they were the offspring and inspiration of genius alone and that he was lacking in application.

It is true that his striking talents approached closely that high pinnacle where genius sits enthroned, but it is also true that he aided and strengthened them by a research and industry which excited the wonder and admiration of all of us who became associated with him in the preparation of his cases for trial.

As a soldier his name stands pre-eminent among the heroes who have illustrated the valor of our Southern land. At Williamsburg, at the head of the Fifth North Carolina Regiment, he immortalized himself and State. A writer for the London Times, and a soldier of no mean distinction himself, who was present at that bloody combat as a staff officer to McClellan, names as the most illustrious feats of arms in modern warfare, the charge of the Old Guard at Waterloo; the charge of the Light Brigade at Balaklava and the charge of MacRae's North Carolina Regiment at Williamsburg. His courage, both physical and moral, was dauntless and had he lived in the days of the crusaders, the knightliest warriors of that chivalrous order would have done him reverence. And yet, with all his dazzling qualities I love most to think of him as he was at his own fireside in the social circle of his friends. Who of us can ever forget his unceasing flow of humor, his brilliant sallies of wit and above all that gentle and loving courtesy which followed his presence as a charm?

His life was the embodiment of those ideas and deeds which shed a halo around humanity—such as absolute fidelity in his friendships; kindness to those in distress; defiance of the tyranny of power; an abounding charity for the frailties of others; a love for the beautiful and a sublime faith in the Christian religion. I shall say no more.

As one stands by the grave of a friend all speech is but poverty. Words become meaningless, and empty sounds when used to recall to the memory of those who loved him, the exalted intellectual gifts, the heroic virtues and the gentle courtesies of manner and heart which made up a character worthy to have adorned any era and which would have reflected lustre upon any people.

Monday and Tuesday Nights.
Mr. F. A. Hall, manager of the Frank Mayo company, arrived in the city this morning and has arranged with Capt. Pennypacker to remain in Wilmington two evenings. So Mr. Mayo will appear on Monday night in his new success "D'Artagnan in the Royal Guard," and on Tuesday night in his celebrated performance of "Nordeck."

In this line of characters Mr. Mayo is considered by many as without an equal on the English speaking stage as the representative romantic actor; he stands foremost and alone, just as Edwin Booth holds his place as the representative classic actor. The company supporting Mr. Mayo is one of the strongest in numbers and ability, including a number of representative actors, and in the production of Alexander Dumas' story, "The Royal Guard," there will not only be a cast of great excellence but new scenery and new costumes and equipment, representing the most picturesque period in French history. "Nordeck" is to be presented on Tuesday.

The Way of the World.
"Oh, I wish I was rich, so I could dress comfortably, without being the subject of unpleasant remarks," was said by a young lady on one of the recent cold nights. The words were suggested by putting on a pair of kid gloves, with the complaint that they made the hands colder instead of warmer. It was a light remark, but there was a whole volume of meaning in the sentiment, for it is notorious that such are the arbitrary dictates of fashion, the richer classes can wear about what they please in the street, without the fear of comment, while those less favored with this world's goods are compelled to dress beyond their limited means, when they appear in public, for fear of provoking unpleasant comment.

Belford's Magazine.
The February number of Belford's Magazine is at hand. The principal feature is "A Storm Ashore," by James H. Connelly, complete in this number. This occupies a large part of the issue but there are many other articles of exceptional merit, principally among which may be noted: A few Practical Facts for Senator Edmunds; Irar's Pearl, a story; The First Regiment of U. S. Colored Troops; The Old Tune, a poem; Both Sides of the Counter, almost a tragedy; Irish Nora to English John; Bella's Bureau, a story in three scenes; A Shot on the Mountain, a poem; and the Editorial Department. Belford, Clarke & Co., 384 and 386 Broadway, New York, at $2.50 a year.

First Presbyterian Church To-Morrow.
At 11 a. m. Rev. Wilbur F. Crafts will preach. At night, 7:30 o'clock, Rev. Peyton H. Hoge will preach. This latter service will be especially a praise service in which the hymns of Isaac Watts, the father of English hymnody, will be sung and discussed. The Sunday school will be 3 o'clock on account of the service in the Opera House at 4:30, conducted by Rev. Mr. Crafts. Strangers and citizens are invited to attend all the services of this church.

We were pleased to receive a visit yesterday from Mr. G. Murray, of G. Murray & Son, Brooklyn, wholesale bottle dealers, who is traveling South in the interests of his house.

No Superior to day, Judge Shipp not being able to attend.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

A TRUE STORY.

I have been many times advised by my friends to go to the RACKET STORE to buy anything I wanted for little money. They said they all traded there and found it to their interest, so as I had only $50.00 to spend I went there. I found they had everything I wanted, but they were so busy I could not get waited on, so I went home, intending to save my money to see what I could do with them. The next day I went again and was met at the door with all politeness and carried through and saw the prices. I then began to buy, and when I was through I had more goods than I could carry away, but after spending my $50.00, one thing I did not have that I needed very much, that was a spool of Coats' Six Cotton. I thought, as I had given them a good little trade, they would not refuse to credit me for that, but when I asked them they said "No." I did not think very well of that, but after they explained their reasons I looked over it all, and I intend to give them all my trade in the future and also send them all the trade I can. It is true they are a friend to the poor. They said their reason for not doing any credit business was because they sold goods with such a small profit that they could not afford it.

This is what I bought from them: 1 good wool hat 39c., 1 pair button shoes for my wife $1.20, 1 pair gaiter shoes for myself $1.20, 1 pair heavy wool blankets $1.75, 1 doz. slate pencils 2c., 1 spool cotton 1c., 1 paper needles 1c., 40 yards carpet 25c., $10.00, 2 pair children's shoes 40c., $8.00, 1 quire paper 3c., 1 large leather valise 95c., 1 large zinc trunk $3.40, 1 ladies' under vest 50c., 1 Snyrna rug $1.00, 1 corset 28c., 1 tin bed room set $1.35, 1 doz. handkerchiefs 20c., a lot of fine lace $2.20, 1 good cloak 75c., 7 yards trecoat 40c., $2.80, 9 yards bed tick 8c., 72c., 1 doz. two quart tin buckets 70c., 40 yards matting 15c., $5.00, 1 glass wine set 50c., 1 alarm clock $1.25, 1 bolt cheeks $2.70, 1 large bed spread 75c., 1 pair ladies' kid gloves 75c., 1 crumb cloth $3.68, 1 yard silk plush 80c., 3 window shades 33c., 99c., 1 doz. lead pencils 8c., 1 paper pins 2c., 1 lot scrap pictures 10c. The remainder, which was $4.47, I took in glassware. I can well say that the RACKET STORE is the cheapest place to buy first class goods I have ever yet found. They say they will have in a full line of Valentines, both Fancy and Comic, about the 8th of February. The RACKET STORE will be found at 117 South Front Street.

J. G. K.
Feb 2nd sat

Salvation Oil, the greatest cure on earth for pain, has made a most brilliant debut. All druggists and dealers in medicine sell it at 25 cents a bottle.

Mr. R. Stewart Gibbs, representing the World's Dispensary Medical Association, of Buffalo, N. Y., is in the city and paid us a pleasant visit to-day.

English services will be held in St. Paul's Evangel. Lutheran Church, Rev. F. W. E. Peschan pastor, at 11 a. m. to-morrow, and German services at 7:30 p. m.

We are glad to hear that Mr. H. M. Bishop's condition has slightly improved. He can speak and use his right hand. The paralysis seems now to be confined to the lower part of his body, on the right side.

Up to this noon in the baby contest at the glass blowers, Johnnie Owens was still ahead, having 460 votes, but Lizzie Gilbert Kirkham was not far behind, as she had 453. There were 75 babies in all in the contest. To-night, the last of the troupe here, will decide the matter.

City Court.
There were but two cases before Mayor Fowler this morning, which were disposed of as follows:
Mike Dawling, disorderly conduct, $20 or 30 days.
Wm. Pierce, carrying a concealed weapon, $10 and costs or 30 days.

At Grace Methodist E. Church, South, services to-morrow by the pastor, Rev. W. S. Creasy, at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday School at 3:30 p. m. Seats free and a cordial invitation is extended visitors and strangers. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered at the close of the morning service.

The Homeliest or the Handsomest?
At the glass blowers last night Mr. H. C. Prempert was awarded the handsome Turkish pipe as the ugliest man in the house. He received 49 out of 55 votes cast. But if Mr. Prempert is the homeliest man who is the handsomest? We think he would run as well for the latter as the former.

The Evangelical Alliance.
The Executive Committee of the Evangelical Alliance will hold its monthly meeting in the rooms of the Y. M. C. A. on Monday, the 4th inst., at 10:30 a. m. A full meeting of lay as well as clerical members is desired as a matter of much interest to the public generally will be under discussion. Pastors are requested to repeat this announcement to-morrow.

At St. Paul's To-Morrow.
Services at St. Paul's Episcopal Church to-morrow at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Music at the evening service by the quartette. Evening sermon the second in the course of "Christian Truth and Modern Thought." This sermon will be so independent of one delivered last Sunday night that it can be understood and appreciated without having heard the former. Seats free at all services; all are welcome, Sunday school at 3:15.

PLEASE NOTICE
We will be glad to receive communications from our friends on any and all subjects of general interest, but the name of the writer must always be furnished to the Editor. Communications must be written only on one side of the paper. Personalities must be avoided. And it is especially and particularly understood that the Editor does not always endorse the views of correspondents unless so stated in the editorial columns.
