

THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. XIII. WILMINGTON, N. C. SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1889. NO 41.

THIS PAPER published every evening, Sundays excepted, by JOSH. T. JAMES, Editor and Prop. SUBSCRIPTIONS, POSTAGE PAID: One year, $4.00. Six months $2.00. Three months, $1.00. One month, 35 cents. The paper will be delivered by carriers, free of charge, in any part of the city, at the above rates, or 10 cents per week. Advertising rates low and liberal. Subscribers will please report any and all failures to receive their paper regularly.

There is a rumor that Col. Dan Lamont is to become President of the Avenue C surface road in New York but it lacks confirmation.

A war of doctors is going on in Massachusetts between the regular licensed physicians on one side and healers of all other schools on the other. The attack is directed especially against the Christian Scientists, or faith cure people. The quacks have employed lawyers and propose, if a law is passed against them, to test in the United States Supreme Court the right of the State to prevent them from curing people.

Isn't it funny? The Senate originated a tariff bill last Fall and discussed it during the Winter, and the discovery has just been made that the measure is unconstitutional. And it is unconstitutional, as that instrument plainly says that all such bills must originate in the House. The Republican Senators now want to call it an amendment to the House bill, but it is a no such thing. It was introduced as a Senate bill and has been known as such all along.

A Sunday or two ago a New York clergyman announced from the pulpit that he knew of a man who proposed to give $20,000,000 to found a Baptist university in that city. Since then many have been the conjectures as to the name of the founder of the proposed institution. It is now reported that John D. Rockefeller, the great Standard Oil magnate, is the man. He denies, however, that he has given $20,000,000 for a Baptist university, but declined to answer the question whether he has given any sum for such a purpose, on the ground that the time had not arrived for making his actions public.

Massachusetts is to vote on the question of a prohibition amendment to the Constitution. The last Legislature took the first step towards the submission of the issue and the present Legislature has advanced the matter through the stage which remained before it should go to the people. It was a close "shave" in the lower branch, the measure needing the votes of two-thirds of all the members, or 160, and receiving 161. The best opinion appears to be that the amendment will be defeated by a large adverse majority in Boston and the other large cities, but the Prohibitionists profess confidence of success.

A joint committee of the North Carolina Legislature has agreed on a railway commission bill, and it will be reported in a few days. The bill provides for three commissioners, to be elected by the Legislature to be paid $2,500 salary annually directly from the State treasury without requiring the railway companies to reimburse that sum. The bill is a strong one, very carefully drawn. The members of the committee say it is their purpose and that of the Legislature to do equal justice both to the railways and the people in the measure which will be passed. It is believed the bill will pass both houses by decided majorities.

In a letter to the Harlem Democratic Club, at its celebration of Mr. Tilden's birthday, Governor Hill wrote as follows: "Our Democratic President forced the fighting all around the line. Our lines have been driven back, it is true, but we are not dismayed, and the contest must inevitably go on. If we now prove recreant to the trust the progress of tariff reform may be delayed, but the day is not far distant when the Democratic principles of equal participation in the benefits of taxation shall be controlling and supreme. To win the contest our weapons must be those which enlighten the ignorant and release the credulous from their fears."

President Cleveland's official cares will soon be over. He says that he is glad to retire and that on the 4th of March there will be no happier man in the country than Grover Cleveland. He seems to have talked freely to a correspondent of the Baltimore Sun. He says that the Democratic party is in glorious triumph now. He is firm in the belief that tariff reform is the great living issue of the party. He also believes that civil service reform has come to stay. He very reluctantly accepted the nomination of the party last Summer but now he says that he is in no man's way. He is working very hard to clear up everything before he leaves office. Papers accumulate on his desk during the day and it is generally 9 o'clock at night before he can tackle them. He works there until 2 or 3 o'clock and is in his office again by half-past 9.

President Cleveland and his young wife are happy in the present, and look forward cheerfully to the future. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is excellent for infants and adults.

A correspondent writes: "In the nomination of Aldermeper for our city none but the best men should be elected. We do not want those who are anxious to secure the nominations as a stepping stone to some other position, but good business men or men accustomed to managing finances and who are freholders, and thereby feel the burden of taxation they impose on others."

Chamber of Industry. Pursuant to notice the Legislative Committee of the Chamber of Industry met at the City Hall last evening. Mr. W. A. French was called to the chair and Mr. Hugh MacRae was made Secretary.

It was recommended that a memorial be prepared and forwarded to the General Assembly petitioning for the enactment of an amendment to the State Constitution, giving cities and incorporated towns the privilege of exempting manufacturing enterprises from municipal taxation for a term of years, as an inducement to secure the location of any desirable enterprise in such community.

Propositions to amend the charter of the city by cutting off Eagle's Island, and recommending that the city authorities agree to refund the municipal tax on any manufacturing plant with a capital of over $50,000 located here within the next two years, were discussed at length with out arriving at any conclusion. The committee prefer to hear these matters discussed, and recommend that the subject be considered in full Chamber.

The matter of unequal tax apportionment was also discussed, and also propositions to provide separate tax appraisements for the city from that of State and county.

A proposition to fix the time for the payment of city taxes at a period some months remote from that fixed for the settlement of State and county taxes, so as to lighten the tax burdens of the people, met with much favor, but no recommendation was made.

The committee request that their number be increased to nine members, and take the liberty to suggest that the Chamber of Industry add Messrs. J. H. Chadbourn and Oscar Pearsall to make up the nine members.

Rock Crystal Spectacles and Eyeglasses. Advice to old and young: In selecting spectacles you should be cautious not to take more magnifying power than has been lost to the eye as in the same proportion that you pass that point of increase, will cause you further injury to the eye. Using glasses of stronger power than is necessary is the daily cause of premature old age to the sight. You can get the best at Heinsberger's.

We have received the programme of the Thirteenth Annual Convention of the Young Men's Christian Association of North Carolina, which will be held in the First Baptist Church in this city, commencing March 21st, inst., next. It is rather lengthy for our columns but we will publish it in a few days.

A Pleasant Surprise.

Rev. F. W. E. Peschan, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, and his excellent wife, as many of our readers will remember who know them, were born on the same day and in the same year, one in Germany and the other in Pennsylvania. To-morrow (Sunday) the 17th, will be the anniversary of their 40th birth day, and in anticipation of this fact, several friends in Savannah, Ga., to-day forwarded by express, two very large, handsome and costly fruit cakes, finished in the most tasty and appropriate designs in icing, variegated flowers and gold leaf. They are certainly handsome, and the so very pleasant surprise has created much happiness in the Lutheran parsonage.

City Court. In the City Court this morning Louis Hicks, Henry Hall and Marion Harlee, whose cases were continued from a previous court, were discharged, the prosecuting witness failing to appear.

French, Sr., on the corner of Fourth and Dock streets. As a token of the high regard and esteem in which this good lady was held as the worthy companion of her popular husband, the Senate branch of the Legislature adjourned yesterday morning after appointing a special committee of escort to accompany the remains from Raleigh to Wilmington. The following on the part of the Senate: T. L. Emry, of Halifax; J. H. Lucas, of Hyde; V. S. Lusk, of Buncombe; G. S. Leeper, of Gaston; F. B. Rice, of New Hanover. And on the part of the House: T.
