VOL XIII.

WILMINGTON, N. C.: TUESDAY. FEBRUARY 19, 1889.

Far away China sends out to Europe and America a pitiful appeal for help. It is said that fully half a million of the inhabitants of that country are on the brink of starvation and that they must soon perish unless help is accorded them. A long continued, protracted drouth was followed by devastating rains. The Chinese government is doing all it can but it cannot do enough and hence, for the first time in the his. tory of the Empire, an appeal for help to the outside world is coun tenanced. A committee has been formed in New York and they are already at work raising funds. London has already raised £4,000 and expects to make it £25,000. New York subscribed on Saturday $1,375 and will probably raise $25,000 in all.

We do not altogether like the bill for pensioning Confederate soldiers as it has issued from the committee. It provides for the payment of pensions to soldiers and sailors or the widows remaining unmarried of any deceased soldier or sailor who has been a bona fide resident of the State for twelve months prior to making application for the pension. The pensions, payable annually, are as follows:

1st. To such as have lost a les above the knee, or an arm above the elbow, one hundred dollars.

24. To such as have lost a foot or leg below the knee, or hand or arm below the elbow, or having a leg or arm rendered utterly useless by rea jury, seventy-five dollars.

3d. To such as have received a wound which renders them practi cally and positively incompetent to perform manual labor in the ordinary avocations of life, and to all money on building materials of all widows, fifty dollars: 4th. To such as have lost one eye, thirty dollars. in the first place we do not think the original roster of North Carolina | Co. troops. Her own maimed soldiers should be provided for wherever they may be, but not those who en listed in other States. In this respect each State should care for its own. Again, there are, we under stand, veterans in the borders of the State who lost both eyes in the ser vice and vet no provision is made for them, under this bill. And only to those who have become incapacitated from wounds is recognition accorded. Those who escaped the shot and shell of the enemy, yet succumbed to the hardships and expo sures of camp life, helpless paralytics, or in other ways invalids for life, should stand as high in the ranks of our "noble army of mar tyrs" as those who yielded up life or limb on the field of battle.

But there is another point for which no provision whatever is made, and that is in the case of deaf persons. A man with one arm or one leg is oftentimes able to make a living more easily than one who is seriously deaf. Our own affliction in this respect is well known and we say candidly that we would be willing to exchange at any time a sound arm or a sound leg for one good ear. And we do not say this because we are a candidate for a pension, for we don't want it and wouldn't have it. We served throughout the entire war, from the occupation of Fort Fisher, in April, 1861, to Johnston's surrender, in 1865, and almost continuously ever since the war have been in the editorial harness, working for the Democratic party, without reward, or the hope of reward. We have held no office, and we want no pension. This much for ourself. But there are others, who are afflicted as we are and who have the right to have that affliction considered when the pension classes are made up. The man who has lost both eyes is undoubtedly worse off those who have lost both ears. Symptoms of Catarrh. sively offensive discharge, with stopping up" of the nose at times, impairment of the senses of smell and taste, watering or weak eyes, impaired hearing, irregular appetite, occasional nausea, pressure and pain over the eyes and at times in the back of the head, occasional be observed here by the three lodges, chilly sensations, cold feet and a Stonewall, No. 1; Clarendon, No. 2 feeling of lassitude and debility, are and Germania, No. 4. Cannot Senator Ransom Help Us? We move too slowly here. Concress adjourns on the 4th of March, now less than two weeks distant, and yet the appropriation for building a roadway to the National Cemetery has not passed the Senate. It passed the House last Winter and went to the Senate and it seems that no effort has been made to get it through that body. If we really want this road—and we do want if—then some sharp and decisive action should be taken at once. As it is now the Cemetery, which is a lovely spot and most carefully kept, is almost unapproachable by reason of the terrible sandy road which intervenes between the Eastern ex tremity of the city and its gates.

Cannot Senator Ransom help us in this? We have always looked to him for aid in matters pertaining to this section of the State and-we have never looked to him in vain. If he would ressurect this bill and in some way get it before the Senate and passed at this session he would add one more to the many kindly and courteous things he has don for the people of this section.

A silver Anniversary.

Just 25 years ago the first lodge o Knights of Pythias was formed in Washington City. One of the earl iest lodges was formed in Richmond and shortly after its organization occurred the disastrous fire which in the night destroyed the famous Spottswood Hotel, at the corner of Eighth and Main streets. At this fire the noble principles upon which the order is founded were first exthan he who is extremely deaf but it emplified to the world, for members is a question if he who has lost both | there lost their lives in endeavoring legs is really more afflicted than to save others of the order whose cries for aid reached them from the midst of the imprisoning flames. Birthday Celebration.

The Lutheran parsonage was thronged last night with the friends of Rev. and Mrs. F. W. E. Peschau to bring gifts for kind remembrance and to offer congratulations on the 40th birthday anniversary of the Lutheran pastor and his wife, they having been born on the same day and in the same year, February 17, 1849. Complete possession was taken of the house, the parlors, and hall and dining room being full, and some of the ladies took charge of the kitchen. All came prepared to spread a fine repast, having brought a bountiful supply of finely prepared edibles, which were served by the ladies. There was music, both vocal and instrumental. Mrs. John F. Longhery presided at the organ. Mr. E. P. Boatwright, the Lutheran Church organist, played some selec tions on the piano. Rev. Mr. Peschau and his daughter, Miss Maggie, furnished some music on the violin and piano, playing selections from Bethoven, Brudre, etc., and some of the young ladies sang. It was happy occasion, and all, old and and all who came to visit them spent pleasant hours together. The RE VIEW extends to Mr. Peschau and his most estimable wife its heartiest congratulations.

D. Mac-Rae, D. G. Worth, W. A. French, Oscar Pearsall, L. Vollers, J. H. Chadbourn, Clayton Giles.

The Legislative Committee was requested to draw up the bill for the ourpose mentioned above, and on motion, it was resolved to request Hon. C. M. Stedman to present the bill to the Legislature and endeavor to secure its passage.
