The Seventleth Anniversary. The members of the two lodges of Odd Fellows in this city, Cape Fear No. 2 and Orion No. 67, with their invited guests celebrated at Concordia Hall last night the 70th anniver sary of the introduction of the order into America. An excellent programme had been prepared. The ceremonies were opened with a voluntary by the choir, consisting of Messrs. C. H. Robinson, W. P. Toomer, W. N. Jacobs, E. P. Boat wright, John E. Grant, U. M. Robinson, J. W. Fleet, Brook French and H. K. Holden. This was followed by prayer by the Chaplain, M. Gowan read the proclamation of the Grand Sire. There was more music by the choir and then Rev. F. W. E. Peschau, the orator of the occasion, was presented by Mr. John D. Bellamy, Jr.

Mr. Peschau's address has been pronounced one of the ablest he has ever delivered in this city. It was both historical and rethorical. presenting a very interesting summary of facts and figures and depict ing in most eloquent language the conferred and still confers upon man. kind. His address was divided into four parts-the principles of the organization, the origin, the present membership, and the benevolence and influence of the order. He be odd. He spoke of the great amount of money the order had raised for the amelioration of the human race; this sum aggregating sick. He has been confined to the over fifty millions up to 1886; and he also related many touching incidents which happened in connec tion with the order. Mr. Peschau also showed that by authentic records it dated as far back as 1745, and that its membership was now one million one hundred and sixtyfour thousand-eighty-one thousand more than the Masons-and that it was also the second order in point of age. He then illustrated the and the great influence the order exercised. At the conclusion of the address Mr. W. M. Hays invited the audience to partake of a banquet which had been prepared in an adjoining room, and thither all repaired. An elegant repast was served under the superintendence of the caterer, Mr. E. P. Kiley, to which ample justice was done. At its conclusion the dance was declared in order and the enjoyment was kept up with unabated zeal until the small hours of the morning.

Not a Legal Holiday.

It seems to be pretty generally understood that Tuesday next, the 30th inst., the centennial of the in anguration of General Washington as first President of the United States, has been made a legal holiday by proclamation of the President. This is an error. The President doesn't make laws; he merely sees that they are executed. His proclamation called upon the people to assemble at their various places of worship at 9 o'clock on that day and render thanks to Almighty God for His blessings to us as a people in tinuance of the Divine favor for the
