Many seemingly incurable cases of blood poison, catarrh, scrofula and rheumatism have been cured by B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Purifier), made by the Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga. Write to them for book filled with convincing proof. W. B. H. Hilder, living 7 miles from Athens, Ga., writes: "For several years I suffered from running ulcers, which doctors treated and pronounced incurable. A single bottle of B. B. B. did me more good than all the doctors I kept on using it and every ulcer healed." C. K. Kinnard & Son, Towaliga, Ga., writes: "We induced a neighbor to try B. B. B. for catarrh, which he thought incurable, as it had defied all treatment. It delighted him, and he said it was the best he ever used." E. M. Lawson, East Point, Ga., writes: "My wife had scrofula 15 years. She kept growing worse. She lost her hair and her skin broke out fearfully. Debility, emaciation and no appetite followed. After physicians and numerous advertised medicines failed, I tried B. B. B., and her recovery was rapid and complete." J. W. Secor, Baltimore, Md., writes: "I had run weak back and rheumatism. B. B. B. has proven to be the only medicine that has relieved me."

HAPPY LAND OF CANAAN.

What Was Done in the Colored Immigration Convention at Raleigh—A Committee Appointed to Spy Out the Land.

We glean from the News and Observer some particulars of the State convention of colored people held in Raleigh on Friday and Friday night.

Congressional districts were the basis of representation and the State was pretty generally represented. There were delegates from six out of the nine districts and there were two or three hundred present. The eastern part of the State was heavily represented.

Permanent organization was effected by making G. W. Price, of Wilmington, president, and I. G. Hayes, of Raleigh, vice-president. E. W. Turner, of Vance, was elected secretary.

We quote here from the report of the News and Observer:

Chairman Price then addressed the convention. He advised the negroes to emigrate. He said it was reported that there were lots of mosquitos in Kansas, but he thought the negroes could go there and run them out. If the mosquitos could stand the negroes they were pretty game mosquitos.

He said that the whites had gotten so they wouldn't allow the negroes to hold any office in this country. If the Republicans couldn't find a good white man of their own party they would put some white Democrat in.

He then introduced a resolution which was adopted pledging the colored people of the State to use all efforts to carry out the emigration of the race as proposed by the callers of the convention. Some other speakers addressed the convention, when the committee on resolutions was announced.

Rev. L. R. Ferrebee, the leader of the colonization idea, and one of the callers of the convention, who has for some time been canvassing the State in the interest of the convention, was chairman of the committee on resolutions and read the report of the committee. This consisted of a lengthy and labored recital of the grievances and hardships of the negro. It was stated that his condition was now more precarious than ever before. His rights had been constantly disregarded by the white people and after twenty five years of freedom he was in a worse condition now than ever before. The white people now no longer tried to conceal their true animus toward the negro. They were persecuting him by oppressive legislative enactment, such as the tenement act, a law making it an indictable offense for a man under contract to leave his employe without his consent.

It was alleged that white juries were also prejudiced against the negroes, and that their verdicts were affected accordingly. The public school system was referred to and it was declared that a recent act of the legislature meant total destruction to the free school education to negroes in the State. All these causes had caused the movement on the part of the negroes to emigrate. In addition to this there was an overplus of colored labor in the State. Furthermore the farmers had organized themselves into an organization called the Farmers' Alliance which was an oppressive institution to the colored laborer. It was stated that the Farmers' Alliance was trying to control legislation and that it would be the instrument of making laws which would be hard upon the negro. The election law was referred to as a "direct thrust at the negro" and a law which disfranchised two thirds of the colored voters of the State because it made it necessary for them to know how to read before they could vote.

Finally it was declared that the colored people were acting wisely in leaving this country and that emigration should be promulgated in every county in the State. It was recommended that a committee of seven be appointed to go on a prospecting tour and to select such lands as would be suitable for the negroes to settle on and to wait on the President of the United States to see upon what terms the lands could be secured for that purpose.

It was proposed that the association raise the money to pay the expenses of these men.

The convention adjourned till evening, when the resolutions were taken up and read by sections for action. The whole evening was consumed in discussing the resolutions, during which there was some lively oratory and sparring. The convention was in session till a late hour, when the report of the committee, after much debate and some minor amendments, was adopted. During the discussion a very raucy episode transpired. Chairman Price directed the secretary in reading the resolutions over to strike out colored man in each instance where it occurred and substitute "negro."

The secretary made the changes and read accordingly. After coming over the word negro two or three times a delegate in the "amen corner" kicked. He said he thought "colored man would sound better." Chairman Price however insisted that the change should remain and should be read accordingly. He said they were all negroes and might as well get used to being called by the right name, and if any man in there didn't consider himself a negro and didn't like it he could get out. This riled another delegate who bounced to his feet with blood in his eyes and had to be talked to very soothingly before he would be pacified. Then the reading went on and it was "negro" every time.

Board of Aldermen. The Board met in called session Saturday night, Mayor Fowler presiding, to consider matters coming over from the Board of Audit and Finance in relation to appropriations for current expenses for the present fiscal year.

The recommendations of the Board of Audit and Finance were in the main agreed to, and resulted in a net reduction of about $18,000, which in round numbers will leave a balance of some $14,000 to be provided for.

Accompanying their schedule of estimates the Board of Audit and Finance submitted the following:

To the Board of Aldermen of the City of Wilmington:
GENTLEMEN:—The Board of Audit and Finance, in reviewing the appropriations for the current fiscal year, has declined to concur in your appropriation for listing taxes for the year 1889, and would recommend that the duty be performed by the force in the Clerk and Treasurer's office, under his direction, assisted by the Clerk of the Police Court.

We would also recommend the sale of the horse and buggy belonging to the city, and that the funds be turned into the city treasury.

Very respectfully,
RICH'D J. JONES, Ch'm.

On motion, the recommendation was adopted with a proviso that the Board of Audit and Finance agree to an appropriation for the keep of a horse which the Mayor would himself furnish.

The appropriations were then taken up and amended, the amounts for each department as finally agreed upon being as follows:
Streets and wharves..... $12,174.00
Permanent street improvements..... 6,020.40
Police..... 18,350.00
One policeman on west side of river..... 584.00

Public buildings..... 2,791.00
Lights..... 9,304.00
Sanitary..... 5,285.00
Water works..... 6,750.00
Prisoners (feeding)..... 700.00
Printing and stationary and advertising..... 500.00
Fire dept (including $200 for Asst. Chief)..... 10,625.00
Miscellaneous and extraordinary..... 1,000.00
Front Street Market..... 1,445.00
Fourth Street Market..... 510.00
Fifth Ward Market..... 100.00
Third Ward Market..... 275.00
Cattle Weigher..... 400.00

A petition from the Seacoast Railway Company, for permission to fence in their track from Tenth to Market street, was referred to the Streets and Wharves Committee, with power to act after consultation with the city attorney.

Petition from merchants for a detective to look after street peddlers was referred to the Police Committee.

Mr. Montgomery, the newly elected member of the Board from the Fifth Ward, was present and took part in the deliberations of the Board.

Episcopal Visitation. Rt. Rev. A. A. Watson, D. D., Bishop of the Diocese of East Carolina, paid an episcopal visitation to St. Paul's Church in this city yesterday forenoon and confirmed eight candidates, five males and three females, who were presented by the Rector of the Church, Rev. C. L. Arnold.

It was the Bishop's first venture abroad since his recent severe sickness and we most earnestly trust that he will soon regain his accustomed health and strength.

At 5 o'clock in the afternoon the Bishop visited St. Mark's and confirmed a class of thirteen persons, seven males and six females. The candidates were presented by the Rector, Rev. C. L. Coerr.
