The Daily Review.

STATE NEWS.

Greensboro Workman: The Pearson meeting was well attended this morning. Many of our business houses closed their doors in order that their clerks might attend. The people seem greatly interested and no doubt great good will be accomplished during Mr. Pearson's stay here.

Charlotte Chronicle: Kerr Craigie, Collector of Internal Revenue of the Fifth District of North Carolina, sent in his resignation yesterday morning. Mr. Craigie said that he resigned because he did not desire to hold an office under the Republican administration, and he did not wish the administration to labor under the delusion that he was desirous of retaining his position.

Goldsboro Argus: The "Shoo Fly" train on the W. & W. Road now takes mail from this postoffice in bulk direct for Wilmington, but takes none for way distribution, and brings mail in bulk for this place from Wilmington in the evening. This will prove of great convenience to our citizens, as they can have mail communication with Wilmington in the morning and get a reply in the evening.

Charlotte News: The barn of Mr. George S. Hall, on the Concord road, one mile from town, was burned to the ground at 10:30 o'clock Saturday night. The barn contained a good deal of forage, all of which was consumed. Mr. Hall's barn was insured, but not fully. He will lose $200 by the fire. The barn was built of historic timbers, and was formerly one of the landmarks of Charlotte. It stood on Tryon street, next to Springs' corner, and was known as Cornwallis' headquarters. Three years ago it was moved to make room for a handsome brick building. Mr. Hall bought and moved it to his farm where it was converted into a barn. That the house was occupied by Lord Cornwallis during his stay in Charlotte, is a well authenticated fact. When it was being removed a number of continental buttons, coins, old bayonets and the like were found in rubbish and they were gobbled up by relic seekers.

"O. K."

The origin of the expression "It is all O. K." is thus told. An ignorant official endorsed each account that he audited and found correct—O. K.—meaning to intimate that the bill was all correct, or as he pronounced and spelt it, Oh Kreet. Whatever the origin, the expression is used in a variety of connections, as for instance, when Robeson told Tompkins that his wife's health had been O. K. ever since she used a few bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is the great cure for all the painful and distressing ailments and weaknesses peculiar to women. It is the only guaranteed cure for these ailments, sold by druggists. Money paid for it will be promptly returned if it doesn't give satisfaction. See guarantee printed on the bottle wrapper.

The War of the Roses.

It was a beautiful scene at the City Hall last night, at the entertainment of the "War of the Roses" given by the Ladies' Lecture Room Society of the First Baptist Church. The Red rose was represented by Miss Edelweiss French and the White by Miss Annie McQueen; the one receiving the most flags of her color being judged the most popular young lady. The contest was so spirited that it was decided not to close the polls till to-night.

The hall was beautifully decorated and the merry face of every one indicated most plainly the general satisfaction.

The Postoffice booth was presided over by Mrs. Fannie Hayes and Mr. J. S. Mitchell; the Milk shake booth by Miss Georgie Gore, assisted by Masters Myers and Southerland; the Confectionery booth by Miss Louie Shelly and Miss Mattie Freeman; the Fancy Work booth by Mrs. J. H. Hardin, Miss Augusta McPherson and Miss Sallie Huggins; the Japanese booth, by Misses Annie Hilton, Daisy Harrell, Mattie Brown, Edelweiss French and Mrs. Jas. Reilly; the fruit booth by Mrs. Jos. S. Mitchell, W. C. Peterson, W. H. Alderman and W. C. Smith; the art gallery, Messrs. A. S. Holden, W. L. Holden, J. Penton; refreshments booths, Mrs. J. T. Platt, Mrs. J. D. Bell, Mrs. W. P. Oldham, Mrs. Ben Russell, Mrs. S. G. Hall, Miss Cornelia Alderman, Misses McPherson, Mitchell, Huggins, Heide and others.

Audit and Finance.

The Board of Audit and Finance met yesterday afternoon in regular session.

The bond of the North Carolina Power Company, in the sum of $5,000, for electric lighting, was approved, with Jno. W. Atkinson, I. Bates and H. A. Burr sureties. A communication from the Mayor, recommending that an appropriation be allowed of $75 for uniform, etc., of Assistant Chief of the Fire Department, and stating that such action would be in keeping with precedent established by the Board, was received.

Mr. Kenan moved, and the Board ordered, that the Mayor's attention be called to the record in this matter and bill of Mr. Newman, the former assistant chief of the Fire Department, showing that this Board established no precedent for an allowance to the assistant chief for uniform, but for expenses already incurred by him, and which allowance was recommended by the Board of Aldermen.

Bill of Dr. W. J. H. Bellamy for $50 for medical and surgical attendance on Zach Hussey, of the street force, was disapproved, on the ground that the city contributed $1,000 per annum for the support of the City Hospital, as well as paying a physician $600 per annum; the Board being perfectly willing to contribute and having contributed to the man's necessities, but considering that for such cases medical and surgical attention and the services of nurses, medicines, etc., are provided and paid for.

A communication from the Board of Aldermen in regard to the tax levy for 1889 was received. The tax levy as submitted was concurred in, with recommendation as follows:

That for the payment of interest on debts contracted prior to the year 1888, the levy be 75 cents instead of 73 cents on the $100 valuation; and for the Sinking Fund three cents instead of five on the $100 valuation.

That to sub-section 68 of the Tax Ordinance (marble yards) stone yards be added. Also, that a levy be provided for street railroads, mercantile agencies and mattress factories. Also, that the tax on bar rooms be fifty dollars per month instead of eleven dollars as at present.

Also, that the tax on wholesale dealers be $75 per month instead of $22, as at present. Also, the tax on liquor dealers selling in quantities less than one quart nor more than five gallons, be $50, in lieu of $11 as at present; the proviso that any person selling under this license who also pays as a bar keeper, shall pay only $5.50 per month additional, was made $25.

In reference to the tax on livery stables, Mr. Calder moved that be fore the Board agree to the reduction of the tax on livery stables that the attention of the Board of Aldermen be called to the improper use of the streets by such livery stables, as well as carriage shops, obstructing and disfiguring the public thoroughfares by carts and other vehicles when not in use. Adopted.

Bills were audited and approved as follows: Current expenses, $174.13; paving Market street, $1,141.23.
