The Breaks on the Carolina Central.

The washouts in the Carolina Central R. R., near Rockingham and Hamlet, have not yet been closed. There has been no train here from Charlotte to day. That due here at 12:30 went around by Cheraw but at last accounts had not reached Hamlet. It is supposed that there is another break on the Palmetto R. R. The 2:20 train left here to day and expects to go through, via Cheraw.

Seven Sailors on a Racket.

Seven sailors belonging on board the Spanish steamship Mayaguez got on a racket last Sunday and rowed up and down the river front, creating quite a disturbance. Mayor Fowler issued warrants for their arrest and policemen attempted to serve them this morning but the mate refused them permission to go on board the vessel. The Mayor was about to take means to enforce the warrants when Mr. F. A. Lord, Spanish Vice Consul at this port, asked a postponement of action until this afternoon. This was granted and at 2:30 o'clock Mr. Lord appeared at the Mayor's office and surrendered the men. They were released on bail for their appearance to morrow morning.

A Queer Postal Route.

A letter was found in a bottle tightly sealed, cast up on the beach near Capt. Brown's place, Lockwood's Folly, on the 17th inst., and was sent to the Norwegian consul at this port. It was written in the Norwegian language and was from the steward of the Nor. barque Agatha, which cleared from this port for Glasgow on the 10th inst. It was dated on that day and was addressed by the steward to his family in Norway. There was a 5 cent stamp on it. It is supposed that the steward neglected to mail the letter before leaving port and then threw it overboard hoping that some one would find it and send it on. Mr. Heide has forwarded it to its destination.

City Court.

The following cases were disposed of by the Mayor to-day:
Allie Dixie, disorderly conduct, case continued.
C. H. Wright, asleep on the street, guilty and turned over to his parents.

A Reminder of the Visit.

Wilmington Steam Fire Engine Co. No. 1 will hang on the wall of their engine hall a handsome reminder of the visit here recently of the Newbern firemen. It is in the shape of a testimonial, indited as below, in beautiful scrip, and handsomely framed, which was received this morning by Foreman W. N. Jacobs, from Mr. James W. Moore, Foreman of the Newbern Company. It is as follows:
To Wilmington Steam Fire Engine Co. No. 1, of Wilmington N. C.
The Newbern Steam Fire Engine Co. No. 1 sends greetings, acknowledgement of the handsome reception and generous entertainment accorded us during our recent visit to Wilmington.

More words are inadequate to express our appreciation of the courteous attention, open-hearted hospitality and cordial good fellowship displayed by you, and while in memory lasts the occasion will remain the paramount one of fullest enjoyment.

Our visit was a very carnival of pleasure and the contributors and promoters thereof will ever occupy the greenest spot in our remembrance.

In thus making public acknowledgement of the obligations under which we rest we also take occasion to express the hope that the amity and mutual good will now existing may ever continue.

Very Sincerely,
The Newbern Steam Fire Engine Co. No. 1.

Don't hawk, hawk, and blow, blow, disgusting everybody, but use Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy and be cured.

The Ladies Delighted.

The pleasant effect and the perfect safety with which ladies may use the liquid fruit laxative, Syrup of Figs, under all conditions make it their favorite remedy. It is pleasing to the eye and to the taste, gentle, yet effectual in acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels.

The Great Big Excursion.

The excursion train for Halifax pulled out from Front Street Depot yesterday morning with 14 coaches and a baggage car, just as we stated in yesterday's issue. It was in charge of Conductor Harlowe and was to have left at 9.10, as a section of the regular passenger train, but the increased demand for accommodations held it back and it was half past 10 o'clock before it got under way. There were about 1,200 persons in all on board. It did not arrive at Halifax until nearly 6 o'clock in the afternoon and it was nearly 4 o'clock this morning before it got back to the city. We are sorry to hear of much disorderly conduct on the part of some of the excursionists. This began at stations along the line of the road and culminated at Halifax, where several of the rioters were arrested and lodged in jail. There was some talk of rescuing the prisoners and the authorities of the town telegraphed to Weldon for help. A posse of 30 men was speedily organized, under command of Maj. T. L. Emry and Mayor Gooch but when these arrived at Halifax all was quiet. It must be understood, however, that the disorderly element formed but a small portion of the excursionists. There were many respectable colored men in the party, members of the order of Good Samaritans, by whom the excursion was given, and others who denounced the conduct of the rioters and did all they could to restrain them.

There were about a hundred dollars worth of refreshments on board and those were cleaned out before the train got to Rocky Point. When it pulled out from that place there was but one ham bone left to tell the tale of what had been.

A Rare Phenomenon.

On the night of the third of September next, if the sky be clear, there will be an opportunity of witnessing a rare and interesting astronomical phenomenon—namely, an occultation of the planet Jupiter by the moon.

This planet, which is now a very conspicuous object in the Southern sky during clear evenings, will visibly disappear from view for an interval varying from a few moments to about an hour and forty five minutes, according to the geographical position of the observer. The phenomenon will be visible to the unaided eye, but a good opera glass or a small telescope will take away the glare of the light surrounding the planet and give a much clearer view. The disappearance will take place at the eastern or dark side of the moon, which will then be only eight and a half days old or a day and seven and a half hours past the last quarter.

When a fixed star is occulted, it disappears in an instant—in less than the twinkling of an eye—and when it reappears on the other side of the moon it comes into view just as suddenly. The fact is taken to be conclusive evidence of the absence of a lunar atmosphere, for it is evident that if the moon were surrounded with such an appendage a ray of light from the star would, on entering it, be bent or refracted, and the star at the time of immersion would appear to linger for some moments on the visible limbs of the moon, but no such phenomenon has ever been observed except in the very rare case of a star having been seen shining through a gap between two lunar mountain crags.

In the case of a planet, however, it is quite different. The planet has a measurable disc or diameter, and when occulted, it never disappears or reappears instantly. In the occultation which is about take place, Jupiter has an apparent diameter of 39.2 seconds of arc, and it will take the moon a little more than a minute to pass over this space.

The occultation will occur September 3d, at about 9.42, and the star will reappear at about 10.14. Let everybody see it.

The Burgaw and Onslow R. R.

We were pleased to receive a call this morning from our good friend, Mr. Henry A. Colvin, Assistant Engineer of the Burgaw and Onslow Railroad. He has just completed the plans of the recent survey. Mr. Colvin tells us that he had a letter yesterday from Capt. Webster, of New York, in which assurances were given that work would be begun in a few days and vigorously prosecuted. Swansboro is the ultimate point which is aimed for and is proposed to construct there a large and elegant hotel, with all modern appliances. The road will develop a beautiful section of country which is as yet almost unknown to the outside world. The managers have shown their shrewdness in selecting Swansboro as the terminus of the road, for there they will find themselves in a fair way to handle a large part of the corn crop of one of the richest sections of the State. They will then find that it is essential for them to have a terminus in Wilmington and we believe that the extension of the road to this city from Burgaw will naturally follow.

The Company pay their way as work is done and we believe that they will have no trouble in securing the right of way as soon as the line is located.

Items from Duplin Roads.

A correspondent at Wallace sends us some bits of interesting news. He attended a picnic at Willard on Friday last and although there was not a very large crowd yet it was one of the most delightful events of the season. An elegant dinner was served at 1 o'clock.

Wallace, or Duplin Roads, although a small place, does a very large business. It is situated in the midst of a fine agricultural country and its merchants are all live, energetic business men, fully abreast of the times. There are four stores in the place, two of which are about the largest in Duplin county. In fact, says our correspondent, they pay the largest schedule B tax of any store in the county. There are two practising physicians in the village, two churches, Presbyterian and Methodist, with preaching in both every month. There is also a very fine school located there, conducted by Prof. S. W. Clement. There is not a barroom within ten miles of the place and no liquors have ever been sold in the village.

Our correspondent speaks of an unusually fine piece of corn on the plantation of Mr. Newkirk Southerland, not far from Wallace. It is a beautiful piece of upland corn and will average at least five barrels to the acre.

The young men of the village gave a ball last Friday night in Clement's Hall. The music was good and the young ladies were out in force. It was an exceedingly enjoyable occasion.

Several young ladies from this city have been visiting friends in the village and the Summer has been an unusually pleasant and gay one.
