Mr. R. D. Cronly is at Cleveland Springs, with his two sisters.

They say that the slaughter of marsh hens yesterday was immense.

Nothing has been heard here today as to Rev. Dr. Robey's condition.

Mr. E. A. Hawes, of the Point Caswell section, was in the city today.

Both of the compresses are at work to-day busy compressing cotton.

John Robinson's circus shows in Goldsboro next Monday week, the 23d inst.

The scuppernon grape crop is very fine this season. They are cheap, too.

There are a few very nice North Carolina hams to be had, at 10¢ cents a pound.

We have a few Fluting Machines which we are closing out at less than factory cost. See them. N. Jacobi Hdw. Co.

The Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley R. R. is now constructed 14 miles from town. They crossed Moore's Creek yesterday.

"I cannot praise Hood's Sarsaparilla half enough," says a mother whose son, almost blind with scrofula, was cured by that medicine.

For Rent.—Desirable Store corner Front and Mulberry Sts. Possession given at once. Enquire of I. Shrier, cor. Front and Princess. If

Mr. Donald McRae, of this city, has been appointed a commissioner from this State to the American Forestry Congress which meets in Philadelphia October 15.

Headquarters for Sash, Doors and Builders' Supplies is the N. Jacobi Hdw. Co. They sell the best goods at prices that you pay for those of an inferior quality.

Burglars. Be secure from them by putting our Burglar Proof Locks on your blinds. They are cheap and can be put on by the most inexperienced. N. Jacobi Hdw. Co. †

The deer tongue—or dog tongue—industry is assuming large proportions. The steamship Gulf Stream which sailed for New York this morning, carried out 62 bales of it.

Miss Agnes Herndon is booked for the Opera House in this city on Tuesday next, the 17th inst. The piece is "La Belle Marie." She plays in Raleigh on Monday night.

Mr. I. Shrier leaves here to-morrow night for the Northern markets. He will go to Cleveland, Ohio, first, and get his daughter, who is there at school. She will accompany him to New York and return with him to this city.

Stoves. We have a very large line, made by the best factories, of the latest and most improved styles, which we guarantee to bake and cook well and to give general satisfaction. Our low prices will astonish and our Stoves please you. N. Jacobi Hdw. Co.

The model of Rev. C. L. Arnold's palace car has been on exhibition to-day in a window of the drug store of Messrs. W. H. Green & Co. Mr. Arnold has been on hand to show its workings. It has attracted a great deal of attention, there having been many ladies among the interested visitors.

The last of the season—the Friday afternoon half holiday.

Many new buildings are going up in almost every direction.

Capt. R. M. McIntire leaves here to night for New York for the purchase of new Fall and Winter goods.

Hon Chas. M. Stedman returned to the city last evening from the Western part of the State.

Mr. and Mrs. David S. Cowan, and their daughter, Mrs. Hull, of Savannah, who have been at Lincoln for some months past, are now at Asheville.

Mr. A. W. Watson has completed the removal of his stock of china, crockery and glassware to No. 17 Market street, between Front and Water. He has fixed up his new quarters in beautiful style and when all is finished it will be about the handsomest crockery store in the State.

The Ladies Delighted.

The pleasant effect and the perfect safety with which ladies may use the liquid fruit laxative, Syrup of Figs, under all conditions make it their favorite remedy. It is pleasing to the eye and to the taste, gentle, yet effectual in acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels.

City Court.

The following cases were disposed of by the Mayor this morning:

Rayford Nichols, charged with rescuing a prisoner, guilty, $25.

Ed. Swan, rescuing a prisoner, not guilty and discharged.

Alex. Sauls, rescuing a prisoner, not guilty and discharged.

F. R. Heath, disorderly conduct, guilty, $20.

At West Point, Va.

High tides are reported all along the Atlantic coast, and cities on the bays. A letter received to-day from Mr. A. H. Kelley, of West Point, Va., to his brother, Mr. E. Kelley, stated that the tide was so high that boats were used in going from the railroad offices to the upper part of the city.

We should be thankful indeed that this storm has passed us by.

Merely a High Tide.

There was a big scare last night at Wrightsville Beach. Some of the residents thought that the storm seemed to be working to the South and they thereupon packed up and came to the city. But it was a false alarm, and they went back this morning. There was an unusually high tide last night and in some places the sea washed clear over into the Sound but this was something that has happened before and is not considered specially dangerous. No damage was done.

The Present Schedule.

As stated by us yesterday the Sylvan Grove has tied up for the Winter and the Passport is now doing schedule duty between the city and the pier. She will make two round trips a day. She will lie at the Beach Pier every night and run to the city every morning. She will then leave at 9.30 a. m., will touch at the Beach and then proceed to Southport. On the return trip from Southport she touches at the Beach and arrives here in time to leave again at 6 p. m. for the Beach. What sort of a schedule is to be run later on, and during the Winter months, has not yet been determined.

"Timely Wise" For Sharp Eyes!

"Nor love, nor honor, wealth, nor power.
Can give the heart a cheerful hour—
When health is lost. Be timely wise!"

With ill health all taste of pleasure flies.
So speaketh Gray, and who denies?
No surer fact beneath the skies.
Alas! for him who early dies.
Because he is not timely wise.
Alas! for him who will endure
The ills he might so quickly cure;
Night sweats, and cough, and hard-
caught breath,
Consumption's heralds, signs of death.

To be cured, take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Thousands have been cured by it who, otherwise, would now be filling untimely graves. For all liver, blood, and lung diseases, it is specific. The "Discovery" is guaranteed to cure in all cases of diseases for which it is recommended, or money paid for it will be refunded.

W. M. Cumming sells Mosquito Nets and Bars.

The Mulligan Guards.

The Mullies made their last appearance for the season at Carolina Beach last night. They raised Cain and had no end of fun. Their harmless sport was taken in good part and everybody had a good laugh at breakfast this morning. They visited Mr. Kure, intending another serenade, but that gentleman was equal to the occasion. He had his scouts out and when they approached his cottage they were all invited in and handsomely entertained. They then proceeded up the beach, piling sand and blowing tin horns as they went along until they reached the residence of a gentleman whose excellent wife is famed for her pastries. They raided the back piazza and finding the safe unlocked appropriated a number of pies contained therein to their own use. The lady, by the way, took it all in good part and sent word this morning that she would get even with them, even if it took all winter to do it in; so these "midnight marauders" will do well to keep an eye to windward, as she will be sure to get there. The Mullies then returned to the hotel and routed out the professor of the triangle. They carried his bed out of doors and laid him very gently down on it, kindly fanning him the while with a shovel and an old spade to keep off the sand flies.

They then started for the railroad track and uncoupling a car gave it a touch and sent it down grade. Then waking up Jim, the fireman, they told him that a car had broken loose and gone, but Jim merely turned over and muttered "Guess she'll git back dar 'gin by mornin'." and fell asleep again.

Their next prank was the maddest of all. Finding the room of a resident in the hotel building vacant, and knowing that he would soon return to it, one of the number hid himself there and when the old gentleman entered he screamed and in a false voice exclaimed: "Go away from here, you nasty old wretch! What are you doing in my room, you old viper!" whereupon the gentleman, thinking that he had stumbled by accident into the wrong room, beat a hasty retreat, only to be confronted by a chorus of masculine "smiles" on the outside. He tried to join in the laugh, but it was against him, and his grins were very dry. Contenting himself with the remark, "I believe in fun, but this is against the law," he entered his room and locked the Mullies out.

Well, the season at the Beach has nearly closed. But few of the Summer residents have yet returned to the city but they will be up next week, bag and baggage. Mr. Kure says, however, that he will remain there until cold weather sets in and possibly he may stay out some of that. It has been a delightful season there, and this is the verdict of one and all. So pleasant, indeed, has it been, that the resident population there will probably be trebled or quadrupled next Summer.
