VOL XIII.

WILMINGTON, N. C., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1889.

NO 223.

PLEASE NOTICE
We will be glad to receive communications from our friends on any and all subjects of general interest, but
The name of the writer must always be furnished to the Editor.
Communications must be written on but one side of the paper.
Personalities must be avoided.
And it is especially and particularly understood that the Editor does not always endorse the views of correspondents unless so stated in the editorial columns.

The National Women's Christian Temperance Union will hold its annual convention in Chicago on November 8.

The report of the Bureau of Animal Industry shows that the number of people in the United States is increasing faster than the proportionate number of cattle.

The prisoners in the Texas Penitentiary raise sugar cane and refine its juice. After paying all the cost of food, fuel, shelter and clothing, $65,000 has been turned into the State from this work.

Since the opening of the Exhibition in Paris has increased considerably. It is estimated that the quantity of meat sold daily in Paris varies from 430 to 480 tons. Half million of eggs, 50 tons of fish and 850 tons of vegetables must be added to the list.

An imperial decree has been issued directing the construction of the railroad between Peking and Hankow. The Emperor, recognizing the popular suspicion of such a work, has called upon all the Viceroy to issue proclamations explaining it.

President Cleveland appointed a colored man as Recorder of Deeds in Washington, and kept him in office against the very lively protest of district politicians. It is rumored that this colored official is to be kicked out of his place in order to make a berth for Corporal Tanner. The emoluments of the recordership are very considerable, and Tanner may find in this consideration a salve for all his bruises.

The Fredericksburg (Va.) Free Lance, a Republican paper which refuses to support Mahone, in a long editorial reviews the political situation in that State, and concludes: "In these circumstances can any unprejudiced man see any other end to the fight than victory for the Democracy and defeat for William Mahone? If there are any such they are those who kick against the pricks and hope against hope."

"The young daughter," reports the New York Tribune, "of William and Elizabeth Winter was baptized in Shakespeare's Church at Stratford-on-Avon on August 30. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. R. S. George, the curate of the church of the Holy Trinity, and Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Colbourne stood as sponsors with the child's father and mother. The little Christian, who was baptized 'Viola Rosamond,' is an unusually beautiful girl of 8 years."

The following letter was received from Ex President Davis by a citizen of Corsicana, Texas, in response to a telegram to him announcing the death of the late Commander Brown, of that place: "Your telegram has been received, and I am sincerely grieved to learn that Isaac N. Brown, the true patriot, the thorough gentleman and gallant commander in one of the most glorious of naval actions of history, has passed from earth, leaving behind him a stainless reputation and a character to be emulated by his young countrymen. I honored him living, and I mourn him dead."

The world is likely to be a gainer from the death of Charles III, Prince of Monaco, if the news contained in a Berlin dispatch is correct. This is to the effect that the Prince's successor, Albert Honore Charles, is opposed to gambling in his principality, and that he will do all in his power to suppress it. If this information is correct, the days of Monte Carlo are numbered, and the most wealthy and powerful corporation of gamblers on the face of the globe will be forced to give up business or secure a new stand.

Congressman Randall has been confined to his room most of the time for several weeks by an attack of rheumatic gout in the left arm and shoulder, but his general health has steadily improved. He is now able to be up and about the house, and as he can rest quietly at his country home until well on in November, because of the decision against a called meeting of Congress in October, he gives every promise of returning to Washington for the regular session so much improved in health and vigor as to enable him to attend to his public duties without discomfort or peril.

The Central Baptist Church.
There is to be a big rally at the Central Baptist Church (colored) on next Sunday, morning, afternoon and evening, the object being to secure funds enough to justify the prosecution of work on the building. Rev. L. T. Christmas, the Pastor, has labored faithfully for this work for years past. The foundations are already completed, and it is hoped that there will be such a generous outpouring on Sunday that will justify the beginning of the work in a few days thereafter with the prospect of its being pushed forward vigorously to an early completion.

Col. Dodge's Report.

It will be remembered by our readers that the DAILY REVIEW suggested some time before the last encampment was formed, that the officers be instructed in the manual and in the necessary details of camp life. The suggestion was not heeded but the report just submitted by Col. Richard I. Dodge, of the 11th Infantry, U. S. A., who was detailed by the Adjutant General to attend and inspect the encampment last Summer, justifies all of our suggestions. Col. Dodge's report covers 11 pages of printed matter. It speaks plainly and tells some hard facts about the encampment. Col. Dodge, in his report, says: "The discipline was exceedingly lax. The commanding general seemed to think that the colonels were responsible for and should maintain discipline in their regiments, while the colonels (with the exception of Col. J. T. Anthony, of the 4th Regiment) appeared to think that no discipline was necessary except that enforced by authority superior to them. * * *

In strong contrast to this general laxity was the firm and excellent discipline maintained in the 4th Regiment by Col. J. T. Anthony. His camp, which was a model of good order, was surrounded by a chain of sentinels, and his officers and men left camp only by his permission.

Each regiment had guard mounting each morning which, owing to the lack of instructions of the officers, was generally poorly performed. After this ceremony the guards were marched back to their regimental grounds and, except in the 4th Regiment, were then virtually dismissed. Officers and members of these guards being, of course, excused from all other duties, were free to absent themselves from the camp, with absolute certainty of not being called on for any duty until late at night. As under General Orders, No. 3, these men were excused from all duty until 4 p. m. next day, it can be readily seen that a detail for guard was welcomed as an invitation to a picnic. This was by no means the case in the 4th Regiment. Colonel J. T. Anthony kept his guard rigidly to its work. His camp was constantly, day and night, surrounded by a chain of sentinels, and in all the camp his men alone had any proper instruction or experience in their duty as guards, the most important and responsible that a soldier could perform.

In the report Col. Dodge gives the State a rap for neglect of duty. He says that with "magnificent material and excellent regulations, the State of North Carolina owes her State Guard to the innate pride and military spirit of the men themselves. She is like a vain but miserly man who sets up his carriage without providing food for his horses. The State Guard is either valuable or not. If valuable, it should be properly cared for at the expense of the State. If not, it should be disbanded." Just so.
