

The Daily Review.

My Sentinel,
The last rich rays of sunset fade
Before my longing gaze
And one bright glorious star appears From out of twilight's haze.

A Woman's Discovery.
Another wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this county. Disease fastened its clutch upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. Her name is Mrs.
Luther Lutz. Thus write W. C. Hamrick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Get a free trial bottle at Robert R. Bellamy's wholesale and retail drug store

The Unwritten Code.
De Bourzey—French society proposes, I see, to ostracise M. Belz, who killed M. Pierrotti in a duel.
De Vere—Perfectly proper.
De Courcey—Yes; they say that
M. Belz has dishonored himself.
De Vere—He has violated the unwritten code, which requires that no gentleman shall hurt another in a duel.—Memphis Sunday Times.

CAUTION TO MOTHERS.
Every mother is cautioned against giving her child laudanum or paregoric; it creates an unnatural craving for stimulants which kills the mind or the child. Acker's Baby Soother is specially prepared to benefit children and cure their pains.
It is harmless and contains no opium or morphine. Sold by Munds Bros., druggists.

An Insulted Poet.
Caller (hesitatingly)—I have here a little production of my own which I should like to have you use for your poet's corner if—Editor (facetiously)—Poet's corner? Certainly. We're all poet scorners in this office. The janitor, perhaps, may find some use—Caller (stiffening up)—The poem, sir, is descriptive of my patient hedge trimmer, and I was going to ask you if a dollar a line would be sufficient compensation for publishing it as an advertisement. I don't mind your allusions to the janitor, but that diddledy dad banged chestnut about the poet scornee makes me tired. Don't get between me and the door, sir, if you please. I don't want any explanations or apologies.
You shouldn't have this poem now if you got down on your knees for it. Good morning, sir, and be hanged to you!—Chicago Tribune.

A DUTY TO YOURSELF.
It is surprising that people will use a common, ordinary pill when they can secure a valuable English one for the same money. Dr. Acker's English pills are a positive cure for sick headache and all liver troubles. They are small, sweet, easily taken and do not gripe. Sold by Munds Bros., druggists.

Wonderful Memories.
John Wesley had a remarkable memory, and at 85, even, it was still vigorous.
Both Macaulay and Sir Walter Scott had prodigious memories.
Andrew Fuller could repeat a poem of 500 lines after hearing it read once or twice.
Before the days of shorthand reporting, "Memory Woodfall" used to attend the house of commons, and would reproduce the whole without taking a single note.
Robert Palfieid, an illiterate Puritan, invented a long leather girdle; which he wound twice about his body, and upon which he preserved an accurate biblical record. By means of the girdle he was able to take such notes of the sermon that on returning home he could give all the heads and quote all the various texts mentioned in it.—All the Year Round.

Consumption Surely Cured.
To THE EDITOR—Please inform your readers that I have a positive

A SAD HOME.

Regrets of a Sorrowful Husband over the Needless loss of his Wife, and the Warning it Conveys to others.
The saddest, most unhappy man in this city to-day is Mr. G. V. Remington, who lives on East 13th street. A few weeks ago he had a beautiful wife and a happy home. Mrs. Remington was a young woman, and her health was good. She was the sunshine in his life, and he loved her dearly. But she was seized with a cough, and he thought it was nothing. It grew worse, and he thought it was a cold. He tried every remedy, but she died. He is now a broken man, and he regrets the loss of his wife very much.
