Crushed by Silver.

Silver money piled up in heaps, like cordwood or lumber, is very dangerous, as it is very likely to topple over and crush the clerks. I know it sounds like a fable to fellows whose suspenders have never been sagged by more than a fistful of quarter dollars to talk of the risk one runs in a place like this of getting crushed to death under an avalanche of good and lawful coinmoney, but the danger is great nevertheless. The other day we noticed that one high wall of bags of silver dollars-$100 in each bagwas bagging out in the middle to fall. The old clerks all ran to let it come, but the colored man, ignorant of the tremendous weight of silver, ran up to the caving pile and pushed with his hands, thinking he could brace it up. As well try to hold up so much falling stone. Down it came with a crash, and the colored man had a narrow escape, getting off, with a few bruises and scratch-

Sixth and Locust streets a pile of bags of silver, $1,000 in a bag, fell upon me and bore me to the floor. My head had a narrow escape from getting crushed in like an eggshell, and I was buried from the feet to BAGGINGthe breast. The Irishman who was our watchman then sprang to my assistance and clawed the bags right and left off me. When I caught my breath again I was thankful for my escape from being crushed to a pulp. There are people who would like to take their chances of getting buried under a heap of money just for the sake of being where there is plenty of it, but none so foolish are to be found among the Uncle Sam hire lings whose daily toil consists in shoveling the big surplus about,-St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

WE CAN AND DO Guarantee Acker's Blood Elixir for it has been fully demonstrated to the people of this country that it is superior to all other preparations for blood diseases.
