A PROTECTIONIST AND NOT A PROHIBITIONIST.

Professor Bowen, of Harvard University, who died last week, was one of the very few students of and writers upon political economy whom the protectionists can lay claim to. The students of political science are so generally on the side of a tariff for revenue only that the protectionists, says the Washington Democrat, have got into the habit of sneering at political economists just as illiterate persons sneer at "book larnin'." But in Professor Bowen the protectionists had a learned scholar and advocate, and they were fond of making the most of him. Just before the close of the last Presidential campaign, Congressman Logg wrote to the Professor, asking him to write a letter that could be read at a meeting to be held in the interest of Harrison, and what the Republicans now call protection. He said that the letter "would carry weight, as showing that there are Harvard professors who are not free traders." Professor Bowen wrote a letter to Governor Loug in reply, but it was not adapted to the Harrison and high tariff meeting, and it had to reach the public through other channels. Professor Bowen said in reply that there were no free traders among the Harvard professors; there had been one, but he had resigned; the university had declined the offer of the Cobden Club of a silver medal for the best essay by an undergraduate in favor of free trade. But the professor went on to explain that what he had taught all his life as protection was a very different thing from the system which the Republican party had in late years come to adopt as protection under the leadership of Messrs. McKinley and Reed. He wrote: "Still, as of old, a staunch conservative, a Webster Whig, as in 1850, to my never ending astonishment I now find myself advocating the election of the Democratic ticket, of Cleveland and Thurman, of William E. Russell as Governor, and of the special friend of the colored race, the fiery radical, the thorough Abolitionist, Colonel T. W. Higginson, for Congress. * * * The monstrous tariff, under the burden of which every portion of our land is now groaning, is still, with a few trifling modifications, the war tariff which was framed to meet the exigencies of our great civil contest. In its origin it was not intended for the protection of home industry, but for heavy taxation—to raise the largest possible sums wherewith to support the grand effort to defend Northern soil and to crush negro slavery out of existence. All honor to the men who framed it for this patriotic purpose. We cheerfully submitted to its heavy burden while the war lasted, and for a few years after its glorious termination, till we could see our way clear to the paying off the enormous debt which was the price of freedom. But to maintain it during the last 10 years, to maintain it even now when that debt is reduced to a comparatively insignificant amount, and when we have much money in the National Treasury than we know what to do with, is not protection but tyranny. It is crushing our native industries. It is taxing nearly all the necessities of life and thereby driving our native workmen into numerous and riotous attempts to raise the rate of wages upon which they can no longer subsist. It taxes the artisan and the common laborer in the necessary condiments of his daily food; in his clothing, his tools and his materials; in the blanket under which he sleeps at night and the dwelling that shelters him; in the fire that warms him and the light by which he works. Even God's sunshine cannot reach him except through taxed glass. If he is sick he must be medicined with taxed drugs, and if he dies, to adopt Sidney Smith's striking figure, he must rest in a taxed coffin, to be taxed no more."

This is the judgment of the leading American political economist on the protection side on the system that a comparatively small number of interested persons, acting through the Republican party, are now maintaining and even extending under the name of protection. It is no wonder that the Republicans view with profound suspicion every man who has ever taken the time to study the tariff problem.

"We Point With Pride"
To the "Good name at home," won by Hood's Sarsaparilla. In Lowell, Mass., where it is prepared, there is more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold than of all other medicines, and it has given the best of satisfaction since its introduction ten years ago. This could not be if the medicine did not possess merit. If you suffer from impure blood, try Hood's Sarsaparilla and realize its peculiar curative power.

Will Sing at His Own Funeral
City Collector of Taxes Frank Cunningham, one of the most popular Richmond vocalists, says that since he went into office two years ago he has sung at 855 funerals. "I often sing," said the collector, "at two funerals a day."
"And who will sing at your funeral?" Capt. Cunningham was asked.
"Why, I intend to sing on that occasion myself. I hope to be able to get a phonograph or graphophone pretty soon for the purpose of singing the songs into it that will be heard at my own funeral. When my time comes the machine can be taken to church and my songs delivered just as if I were alive."
Capt. Cunningham did not say which songs he would select, but the favorites "Home of the soul" and "Good Night" will probably be chosen.

Advice to Mothers.
MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty five cents a bottle. July 6 dead & wlv

WHAT IS SCROFULA

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors;" which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. "My daughter Mary was afflicted with scrofulous neck from the time she was 22 months old till she became six years of age. Lumps formed in her neck, and one of them after growing to the size of a pigeon's egg, became a running sore for over three years. We gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla, when the lump and all indications of scrofula entirely disappeared, and now she seems to be a healthy child." J. S. CARLILE, N. B. Be sure to get only

Harper's Magazine.
ILLUSTRATED.
A new Shakespeare—the Shakespearian—will be presented in HARPER'S MAGAZINE. HARPER'S MAGAZINE made special arrangements with DAUGHTER, the greatest of living poets, for the exclusive publishing of a form of a humorous story, to be "The Colonists of Tarascon," the story of the famous "Tarascon" series from best of French literature. W. D. HOWELLS will contribute a story in three parts, and LUCASIO HALL, editor of the Exchange, will contribute a story in two parts, entitled "The Old Man and the Sea." In illustrated papers, containing current interest, and in its short poems, and timely articles, it will maintain its well-known standard.
