Hen fruit is still plentiful at 12 1/2 cents a dozen.

Strawberries sold here to-day at 45 and 50 cents a quart.

Boys! we can sell you a Bracket Saw, with frame, for 10 cents. N. Jacobi Hdw. Co.

Capt. R. M. McIntire is convalescent from an attack of the gripe and was at his store to-day.

The Wilmington Light Infantry are now equipped with swords and will drill to night in sabre tactics.

The gripe seems to have pretty nearly disappeared. Only occasionally do we hear of a case here now.

And February, the last of the Winter(?) months, leaves us to-day. We will probably have some cold weather now.

When ready to build, paint or repair you will find it to your advantage to buy your material of the N. Jacobi Hdw. Co.

The C. F. & Y. V. R. R. is bringing a great deal of freight into the city now and it takes a heap of hard work to handle it here.

The views for next Tuesday's illustrated lecture have just been received from New York and are beauties of photographic work.

Every week from now we make up new and handsome styles of Flannellette Shirts at 25 cents at our Shirt Factory, 122 Market St.

"It pleases me so I shall use no other," is what the farmers said when asked about the Boy Clipper Plow, sold by the N. Jacobi Hdw. Co.

Col. Thomas W. Strange has been delayed in his return to Wilmington with his bride by an attack of the gripe while at Fortress Monroe.

The city has done a good work in making a clay roadway on a part of Market street. Now let the good work go on until it reaches the Eastern boundary.

The Goldsboro Argus says that the ice factory at that place has been leased for a term of years to D. G. Worth, Esq., and other gentlemen of Wilmington.

Paint your Buggy for 75 cents, "6 bits," with Detroit car. Paint, a varnish and paint combined. Guaranteed to give satisfaction. Sold by the N. Jacobi Hdw. Co.

A number of fine shoats were killed at Capt. Southerland's place, three miles East of the city, yesterday afternoon, and they expect to save them, notwithstanding the warm weather.

A late afternoon train on the Seacoast R. R. is wanted for the accommodation of the business men. The afternoons are getting so much longer now that it might pay to put this train on.

"Ain't this an absurd idea," remarked a fashionable woman—"to cut evening dresses so low in the throat?" "By no means, madam," replied her modiste; "nobody minds a cold these days.—You see everybody knows Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. 'Yes, I hadn't thought.'"

Commencing with to-morrow morning the train on the Seacoast Railroad will start from the junction with the W. & W. R. R. at Eighth street at 2:45 p. m. daily. On Saturdays the morning train will leave the junction at 9:45. This is for the accommodation of residents in the upper section of the city.

Southport's Paper.
 The first issue of the Southport Leader, a handsome new 24 column weekly, the publication of which has just begun at our neighboring town of Southport, is at hand. It is issued every Thursday by Messrs. Stevens & Farrell, at $1 a year. We wish it much success.

Little Lord Fauntleroy (Suit) Can be Seen at I. Shrier's.
 I. Shrier, who is always ahead in introducing new novelties, will sell this week the Lord Fauntleroy and Alfonso (King of Spain) suit. Also a full line of children's Kilt Suits at the lowest price for cash only. I. Shrier, corner Front and Princess streets.

Forecasts.

For North Carolina, cloudy and rain followed by fair weather, and colder. "Cold wave" and colder and fair Saturday. For Wilmington and vicinity, light rains followed by fair weather.

Commendable.
 All claims not consistent with the high character of Syrup of Figs are purposely avoided by the California Fig Syrup Company. It acts gently on the kidneys, liver and bowels, cleansing the system effectually, but it is not a cure-all and makes no pretensions that every bottle will not substantiate.

The Wedding Bells.
 Our clever young friend, Mr. Geo. A. Bishop, was married last night to Miss Lula Hudson, a charming young lady of this city. The wedding took place at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hudson, on the corner of Sixth and Church streets. Rev. R. C. Beaman pronounced the impressive and important words that made them man and wife. We tender our warmest congratulations.

Little Lord Fauntleroy.
 Did you ever read this beautiful, this exquisite little book? If not, go directly and get it and read it at once. It is one of the most beautiful gems in the literary firmament. It was written by an American lady, Mrs. Burnett, and was intended primarily for the entertainment and instruction of the little folks but their elders have appropriated it. It has been dramatized and will be produced at the Opera House here on Monday night, under the management of Mr. T. H. French. If possible read the book and then see the play. We understand that Mr. French's troupe is an excellent one and that the piece is put on the boards in a wonderfully realistic manner.

How are the Folks?
 "Oh, they're all well except Mother, she's about the same. Poor Mother, worn-out by household cares, exposure and overwork. No wonder she gives up at last and takes to her bed. But oh! how much brighter the family fireside would be if mother's chair was not vacant. The doctors don't seem to be doing her any good. She says their medicines don't seem to go to the spot. She feels so weak and longs for strength. 'Oh! give me strength,' she murmurs. Why not give her the remedy her system craves? Her impoverished blood and shattered nerves are starving for just such ingredients as are contained in B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm). Then try a bottle of this excellent remedy. It is truly woman's best friend. It quickly relieves pain and restores health, strength and functional regularity.

James W. Lancaster, Hawkinsville, Ga., writes: "My wife was in bad health for eight years. Five doctors and as many more different patent medicines had done her no good. Six bottles of B. B. B. has cured her."

Miss Frost as Parthenia.
 A very large and fashionable audience greeted Miss Frost and Mr. Collier and their excellent company at the Opera House last night. The accomplished lady has evidently fully recovered from her recent indisposition.—She appeared to great advantage last night. She was an ideal Parthenia. Her conception of the character is exact and her portrayal of it equal to the best we have ever seen. She was applauded to the echo and by one stride has attained a very enviable position in the estimation of our theatre-goers.

Mr. Collier, as Ingomar, was superb. His personal appearance fits the character to a nicety and his delineation of it showed how carefully he had conned its meaning in every phase of the representation. We have seen the play a number of times but we have never yet seen two more absolutely harmonious conceptions. The support, in the main, was very good. Polydor, an exceedingly difficult cast, was sustained handsomely by Mr. Clement St. Martin. "Pygmalion and Galatea" will be presented to-night; "Virginius" will be played at the matinee to-morrow afternoon and to-morrow night. The short engagement of the troupe here will close with that thrilling realistic drama, "The Marble Heart."

Refreshing and Invigorating
 Delicious Soda Water as drawn from Munds Brothers' magnificent new soda fountain at a temperature of 34°. Purest Fruit Syrup, Milk Shakes and Natural Mineral Water.

Fifteen Additional Miles.

The Charlotte News says that fifteen additional miles of track on the Georgia, Carolina & Northern Railroad have just been completed, and the railroad commissioners in speeded and accepted it. This puts the G., C. & N. almost to the river. It will reach Atlanta before the specified time if the present rate of progress is maintained, and that this will be done there can be but little doubt, since Capt. John A. Dodson is the superintendent.

Thinking About Old Times.
 Wilmington Steam Fire Engine Co. No. 1 will celebrate their 21st anniversary on the 29th of March. We well recollect the day when the first fire steamer ever brought to Wilmington was turned over to them. It took place on the old "Walker lot," on Princess street, where now stands the handsome Smith building. The presentation by the city and acceptance by the company was made in the yard just in rear of the Smith building. Capt. John L. Boatwright was at that time foreman of the company. By the way, we have seen circus performances on the same ground and that, too, since the war. For some years previous to the war old John Robinson's circus used to pitch its tent on the spot where now stands the beautiful First Baptist Church, corner Fifth and Market streets. Previous to that it used to appear on the old Academy grounds, on the site now occupied by the City Hall and Opera House and the space in the rear.

State Sunday School Convention.
 This body of distinguished Sunday School workers closed their labors here last night. A "promise meeting," conducted by Mr. Reynolds, was the first feature of the evening. Many others took part in it. Scriptural quotations were recited and interesting comments made thereon. Rev. E. A. Yates made the first regular address of the evening. It was a beautiful, clear, comprehensive discourse and charmed all who heard this eminent divine in his masterly and masterful effort. Dr. Yates was followed by Mr. Wm. Reynolds, in the best address he has yet delivered in the Convention.

Mr. Watts, of Durham, then spoke, and then came the closing scenes with brief addresses from Rev. E. W. E. Pesehau, Rev. W. S. Creasy, Rev. Dr. Pritchard, Rev. R. C. Beaman and others.

The committee on resolutions reported the following:
Resolved, That the sincere and hearty thanks of this Convention be tendered:
 1. To the citizens of Wilmington for hospitality, entertainment and the many acts of kindness shown this body, both collectively and individually.
 2. To the Reception Committee, for its interested, earnest, zealous and successful labors in our behalf.
 3. To the First Presbyterian church for furnishing such a delightful and convenient meeting place.
 4. To the organist and choir for valuable assistance in music.
 5. To the press of the State and particularly to the press of Wilmington for complimentary notices and encouraging words.
 6. To the railroad companies which kindly gave reduced rates to the delegates in attendance.

Resolved, That this Convention thoroughly appreciates the earnest, intelligent, consecrated labor and wisely directed efforts of William Reynolds, President of the National Sunday School Association, whose presence with us has proved indeed a blessing.

Resolved—2. That we desire our brother's encouragement in this grand field of work and wish to assure him that, as he goes forth on his mission of good, he will ever have our best wishes, our hearty sympathy and our earnest prayers. (Numbers vi, 24-26.)
Resolved 3. That the Secretary be directed to furnish Mr. Reynolds with a copy of these resolutions and that a copy be spread upon the minutes of the Convention.

The Convention then adjourned to meet in Fayetteville next year.

Alas, how changed! The rosy cheek is pallid as the dead, And from the eyes that were so bright the happy light has fled. Life has no joy for her to-day; grown old before her prime, She waits in hopeless suffering for that swift coming time When death shall set her free From poor, sick woman's misery. But if she knew what wonderful cures Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has effected in worse cases than hers, she would clutch at the chance of recovering lost health as drowning men catch at straws, and she might be saved.

Pure gold always has its base imitation. It is so with Salvation Oil, which is worth its weight in gold to all sufferers from rheumatism, neuralgia, or gout. It kills pain every time. See that you get the genuine Price twenty five cents a bottle.

Elections at Southport.
 We learn from the Leader that the stockholders of the South Atlantic and Northwestern R. R. Co. met in adjourned session at Southport on Wednesday and elected Messrs. Waldorf H. Phillips, James F. Dane and John C. Hilton, of New York; and Dr. W. G. Curtis and Mr. E. B. Stevens, of Southport, as a board of directors for the ensuing year.

The stockholders then took a recess until March 5th, 1890, to reconvene at the same hour and place. On the same day the Southport Terminal Co. met and also elected directors for the ensuing year, as follows: Messrs. J. M. Goddard, C. A. Colby, C. D. Stamford and James F. Dane, of New York; and Messrs. E. B. Stevens, A. E. Stevens and M. B. Guthrie, of Southport. The meeting then took a recess until March 5th.

"Around the World."
 Julius Verne's world-famous "Eighty Days Around the World" is to be completely eclipsed here for a party of eight seers are to be taken on the trip at the Opera House in this city on next Tuesday night in less than 80 minutes. This will also beat Nelly Bly's good time. There will be neither trouble nor expense on this trip and it can be made in comfortable arm chairs, the only outlay being the small price of admission charged, and this will go to the benefit of the Wilmington Library Association.

All this means that a charming entertainment is to be presented at the Opera House next Tuesday night Stereopticon views of 18 feet square, of many of the most beautiful cities and scenes in the world will be presented. The light has been tested and the pictures are thrown out clear and distinct. There are 61 one scenes in all and they will be accompanied by descriptions selected from a famous lecture delivered by Rev. C. R. Treat. The tourist can thus at his ease visit London, Paris, Berlin, Brussels, Venice, Vienna, Rome, St. Petersburg, Moscow, Constantinople, Alexandria, Peking, Yeddo, San Francisco, New York, St. Louis and many other beautiful and attractive cities. The admission has been placed at 50 cents without extra charge for reserved seats.
