"McKINLEY PRICES."

A firm of Chicago dealers in glassware, says the New York Herald, has struck upon a happy idea, which we strongly recommend to the active members of the Reform Club in this city to work out in such practical shape that retail dealers everywhere may use it for the information of their customers.

The Chicago men, having made a study of the McKinley Tariff bill so far as it affects the goods they sell, have now sent out a circular to their customers and the general public in which they show the prices at which their goods can be bought now and the much higher prices which will have to be paid after the Republican Tariff becomes a law.

For hint glass tumblers they say the present price is seventy five cents per dozen, but the "McKinley price" will be $1.15. Decorated china dinner sets they now offer at from $30 to $250, but the "McKinley price" will be from $40 to $315.

The tariff reformers ought to go to work at once and make up a schedule of "McKinley prices" for every article of common consumption on which the Republicans have raised the duties in the McKinley bill. They should furnish shopkeepers and country stores all over the country with the "McKinley prices" on blankets and flannels, on trousers and overcoats, on coats and stockings, on women's woolen and cotton dress goods, on carpets, dishes, glassware, on line and cement for houses and window glass for light, on table and pocket knives, razors and matches, on tin cans, on all kinds of paints and paint materials used for painting houses and barns; on everything, in fact, which a mechanic or farmer uses and must use.

When the Republican Tariff bill becomes a law—as the Republican leaders say it must and shall—every article in this vast category, from a skillet to a pot and a baby's dress to a suit of clothes and an outfit of blankets, from the lime and cement which hold together the foundations of the farmer's and mechanic's house to the window panes which let in his highly taxed sunlight, will go up to a "McKinley price"—a higher price than now. As the once celebrated "Jones, he pays the freight," so the people—they pay the tax, and they ought to know as soon as possible how much more they are to pay, how much higher the "McKinley price" will be than the present price, which is not low, because even the present tariff adds from twenty-five to fifty per cent. to the prices of all goods the masses of the people have to buy.

There is a surplus revenue this year of ninety-two millions and more—but that does not matter; the taxes have got to be higher and the "McKinley prices" will be up in the air as soon as the bill is passed—and it comes up to-day for a four days' debate. The "McKinley prices" will be higher because in this republican Tariff bill the duties on cotton and woollen materials are raised heavily along the whole line, but those on the goods used by the laboring masses are made to pay higher duties than are put on the more costly goods used by the rich. The duty on wool, unreasonably high at present, is heavily increased; the duty on woollen yarns is doubled, and the duty on blankets and woollen stuffs is doubled, and on some of the cheaper qualities, those most used by the poor, is nearly trebled. On some of these goods in universal use the duty is run up to one hundred and fifty per cent. So, the cheaper kinds of carpets have their duty heavily raised. All that means, of course, that the "McKinley prices" will be very much higher.

The "McKinley prices" on houses will be increased by the increased duty on lime and cement—double the present rates—and by increased duties on brick and tiles and by higher duties on glass. The "McKinley prices" on the poor man's kitchen will be higher by the increased duties on pottery and on glassware, that on common glassware being increased in some cases more than a hundred per cent.; the "McKinley prices" on the poor man's clothing and bedding will be made higher by heavily increased duties on blankets, coatings—in fact, on all that he and his wife and family wear or need to keep them warm in winter or cool in summer. All this in face of a surplus taxtion of nearly a hundred millions. What a blessing the Republican tariff will be with its "McKinley prices" on everything. No wonder there is a cry for "more money." With "McKinley prices" a good deal of money will go only a small way to keep a family warm in winter or cool in summer. And what a lovely time of day it is to go to "McKinley prices" when Kansas farmers are selling their corn at fifteen cents a bushel.

A Scrap of Paper Saves Her Life

It was just an ordinary scrap of wrapping paper, but it saved her life. She was in the last stages of consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable and could live only a short time; she weighed less than seventy pounds. One piece of wrapping paper she read of Dr. King's New Discovery, and got a sample bottle; it helped her, she bought another and grew better fast, continued its use and is now strong, healthy, rosy, plump, weighing 140 pounds. For fuller particulars send stamp to W. H. Cole, Druggist, Fort Smith. Trial bottles of this wonderful Discovery free at Robt. R. Bellamy's wholesale and retail drug store.

What It Costs. Must be carefully considered by the great majority of people, in buying even necessities of life. Hood's Sarsaparilla commends itself with special force to the great middle classes, because it combines positive economy with great medicinal power. It is the only medicine of which can truly be said "100 Doses One Dollar," and a bottle taken according to directions will average to last a month.

THE ACME MANUFACTURING CO.

MANUFACTURERS OF Fertilizers, Pine Fibre and Pine Fibre Matting.

Wilmington, - - N. C.

THE REPUTATION OF OUR FERTILIZERS THE ACME and GEM is now established, and the results of three years' use in the hands of the best farmers of this and other States will attest their value as a high grade manure. THE MATTING, made from the leaves of our native pine, is conceded to be equal to any wool carpet for comfort and durability and the demand for it is daily increasing. It has virtues not found in any other fabric. THE FIBRE or WOOL is extensively used for upholstering purposes, and as a filling for mattresses is almost equal to hair, being light elastic and proof against insects. Certificates from reliable parties using our goods can be seen at our office, or will be mailed upon request.
