Here is a story of "ex-rebel" officers at Richmond, as told by the Washington correspondent of the New York Herald, who avers that it is a true bill: On the night before the unveiling of the Lee statue about a score of them, with their friends, were sitting in the Westmoreland Club, when one of them, an officer of high Confederate rank, now a resident of New York City, said:

"I see that Representative Flower, of New York, has introduced a resolution asking Congress to give $250,000 toward building a monu-Palmetto Railroad Co. ment that city promised to erect to General Graut. I hope it won't be done. New York should redeem her promise, and it is to her shame that she has not. I see that Congress proposes to give $300,000 to erect a monument in Washington. That is right. Grant should be buried at Arlington.

"Now, I have been prosperous and have means. I propose to wait until September 1, and if at that date New York has not-raised the money ON THE TURNPIKE THESE FINE AFerect I intend to start a subscrip-The North Carolina Presbyterian tion of Southern wen and head it with $20,000. Then, in quick succession, others rose and pledged various sums, until within a few minutes $50,000 had been thus raised. If names could be given the public would see that these The Paper for the People, were no idle boasts, but the words and presents in its columns matter to interest and instruct all ages, classes and conditions of the people.

If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a peculiar medicine, possessing, by virtue of its peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation, curative power superior to any other article, A Boston lady who knew what she wanted, and whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below:

Get

"In one store where I went to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me buy their own instead of Hood's; he told me their's would last longer; that I might take it on ten days' trial; that if I did not like it I need not pay anything, etc. But he could not prevail on me to change. I told him I knew what Hood's Sarsaparilla was. I had taken it, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other.

Hood's

When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable, suffering a great deal with dyspepsia, and so weak that at times I could hardly stand. I looked, and had for some time, like a person in consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me so much good that I wonder at myself sometimes, and my friends frequently speak of it." Mrs. ELLA A. Harper's Young People. AN ILLUSTRATED WEEKLY.

The Eleventh Volume of Harpen's Young Prople, which begins with the Number for November 5, 1889, presents an attractive programme. It will offer to its readers at least four serials of the usual length, and others in two or three parts, namely. "The Red Mustang," by William O. Stoddard: "Phil and the Baby," by Lucy C. Lillie: "Prince Tommy," by John Russell Coryell; and "Mother's Way," by Margaret R. Sangerre: two short serials by Hjalmar Hjorth Boyesen. Two series of Fairy Talcs will attract the attention of lovers of the wonder-world, namely, the quaint tales told by Howard Pyle and so admirably illustrated by him, and auother series in a different vein by Frank M. Bicknell. There will be short stories by W. D. Howells, Thomas Nelson Page, Mary R. Wilkins. Nora Perry, Harrier Presectt Spofford, David Ker, Herriah Boytheworth, Sofhie Swett, Richard Malcolm Johnston, etc.

A subscription to HARPER'S YOUNG PROPLE secures a juvenile library. There is useful knowledge, also plenty of amusement.—Boston
