During the past six weeks Judge Pfeffer, of the Kansas Farmer, has addressed twenty-one meetings of the Kansas Farmers' Alliance, averaging an attendance of nearly two thousand each. At Lyons he spoke to 8,000 people. He says that the farmers of the State are in revolt against the McKinley bill, and awake to the fact that their ills will never end until tariff taxes are re-

As an evidence of how the culture of tobacco has increased in Nash county, in this State, where the culture was introduced in 1884, it is stated that one thousand tobacco barns have already been erected in that county, and that many more will be erected before the crop matures. The Chinese population of San Francisco by the new census will not exceed 15,000, but that census was taken at a time when all the Chinese not permanently employed were at work in the interior. Thousands of them have been in the adjacent counties picking strawberries for the past month. They will be employed in the country till the fruit season is over: then they will come back to the city. The Daily Examiner estimates that if there are 15,000 Chinamen in San Francisco now, there will be 30,000 in Decem-

The trade journals of the country Palmetto Railroad Co. have been canvassed by the Dry Goods Economist on the subject of the McKinley bill, and of forty one replies nineteen were opposed to the measure, seven were in favor of it, and fifteen were non-committal. Among the last were several representing the editor as personally opposed to the bill, and considering it agreat party mistake, but declining to commit the paper. It is becoming a question where, outside of Pennsylvania and the Wool-Growers' Association, support for this revision of the tariff is coming from.

The growth of the tariff reform sentiment is illustrated by the announcement that Mr. M. D. Harter, a leading manufacturer, has yielded () UR PRIVATE STOCK 1876 RYE IS UNto a strong pressure and consented doubtedly the best WHISKEY sold in the to accept the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Mansfield (Ohio) district should it be tendered him. Although a prominent manufacturer and employing several hundred hands Mr. Harter occupies an advanced position on the subject of tariff reform, and has ably discussed the matter in public addresses in the leading manufacturing centres of the State. He is thoroughly posted on the subject, and would make a notable addition to the tariff reform column in the next Congress.
