It is very important in this age of vast material progress that a remedy be pleasing to the taste and to the eye, easily taken, acceptable to the stomach and healthy in its nature and effects. Possessing these qualities, Syrup of Figs is the one perfect laxative and most gentle diuretic known.

At about half-past 8 o'clock this morning a blaze of fire was seen on the roof of the house on Mulberry street, between Seventh and MacRae, occupied by Mr. James L. Yopp. The family were at once notified and for a few moments the neighbors "hustled" around quite lively and succeeded in extinguishing the flames without giving a general alarm. A small hole in the roof was the extent of the damage.

We regret very much indeed to learn, as we do by telegram received in the city this morning, of the death by drowning at the University of the South, at Sewanee, Tenn., yesterday, of William L. London, Jr., third son of Capt. W. L. London, of Pittsboro, N. C. There are no particulars in the dispatch other than that the remains have been taken to Pittsboro for interment. The deceased was about 18 years of age, and was as noble, high-toned and chivalrous a lad as ever gladdened a parent's heart; of Christian character and bright intellect, with every prospect of a bright future before him. The news of his death has caused deep distress among a large circle of friends and relations in this city.

Have you ever visited Hot Springs? Alas! You meet there so many instances of terrible blood poison, evidenced by disfigurement of face and form. Hither, rush sufferers from scrofula, syphilis, eczema, salt rheum, ulcers, blemished skin, twisted and aching joints, limbs made crooked by rheumatism, etc., etc. Some find relief, some do not and come away poor in purse and grievously disappointed. It costs money to visit and sojourn at Hot Springs. The experiment of going there cannot be indulged in without considerable expense. How thankful then should every one be to know there is a remedy even more beneficial in cases of blood poison than Hot Springs. We refer to Botanic Blood Balm (B B B) as to its merits thousands will testify.

Z. T. Hallerton, Macon, Ga., writes: "I contracted blood poison. I first tried physicians, and then went to Hot Springs. I returned home a ruined man physically. Nothing seemed to do me any good. My mother persuaded me to try B B B. To my utter astonishment every ulcer quickly healed."

Jas. L. Bosworth, Atlanta, Ga., says: "Some years ago I contracted blood poison. I had no appetite, my digestion was ruined, rheumatism drew up my limbs, so I could hardly walk, my throat was cauterized five times. Hot Springs gave me no benefit and my life was one of torture until I gave B B B a trial, and surprising as it may seem, the use of five bottles cured me."

Yesterday in the City and Vicinity.

The streets of our city were almost deserted yesterday and those who were seen appeared like "lone wanderers in a strange land." The heat was intense and at an early hour all who could leave started for Carolina Beach or Wrightsville and Ocean View, while those who concluded to remain in the city kept as still, quiet and cool as possible in and around their own domiciles. A well observed Sunday could not have been more peaceful and orderly; and at night, when those who had visited the seaside resorts returned from their day of pleasure, they were too tired and hot to disturb the prevailing quiet.

AT CAROLINA BEACH.

There were about 1,000 of our citizens who visited this popular seaside resort during the day, the Sylvan Grove and Passport making extra trips for the accommodation of the people. There was a brisk breeze blowing in from the ocean, which was doubly grateful to the heated and perspiring multitude, a nice surf rolled in for the enjoyment of the bathers, who disported themselves to their heart's content in the tumbling, boisterous breakers. There was music for dancing in the pavilion, and a good many had the courage, notwithstanding the heat, to indulge in this pleasant amusement. The Germania Cornet Band was there and gave a delightful evening festivity, which added much to the interest and pleasure of the occasion, by playing some of their best selections in excellent style. There was also a fine display of fireworks, which to those who had never witnessed pyrotechnic exhibitions was an entrancing sight, not soon to be forgotten. There was no drunkenness, and the most perfect good order and good nature prevailed throughout the day. No serious accident marred the pleasures of the day, although some little excitement prevailed at one time by the fainting, while in the surf, of a couple of ladies, but they were happily extricated from their helpless and perilous position before any serious damage was done, and with the aid of proper restoratives were soon all right again. Capt. J. W. Harper, of the Sylvan Grove, was, as usual, on hand and watchful for the safety and comfort of all on board, and it was his strong hands that drew one of the fainting ladies from the surf.

AT THE HAMMOCKS.

Extensive preparations had been made by the officials of the Seacoast and Ocean View Railroads for the transportation of the large throng that was expected to visit the Sound yesterday, and so near perfect were the arrangements that all were conveyed there and back without accident of any kind and with but very little delay. It is estimated that there were between 6,500 and 7,000 people passed over the roads yesterday, the last of whom were returned at 11:55 o'clock last night. Of this number it is safe to assume from the best information we can obtain, that at least nine-tenths went to Ocean View, although nearly all stopped at the Hammocks, either going or coming.

Rev. C. L. Arnold delivered the prizes to the winning boats in a neat and felicitous manner. There were fireworks at Ocean View, the Hammocks and also at the Atlantic View Hotel. There was a sparring exhibition at the Hammocks and most excellent music by Prof. Miller's band. Much credit is due to the management of both roads for the efficiency of the transportation service and for the care and pains taken for the comfort of visitors.

AT WRIGHTSVILLE.

At Capt. E. W. Manning's Atlantic View Hotel there was a gathering of thirty of New Hanover county Farmer Alliance, where they sat down to a hearty and excellent dinner prepared expressly for them by their noble hearted host. And thus ended the festivities of the glorious Fourth of July, 1890.

Off for the Summer.

Nearly all our citizens, who generally leave the city for awhile in the heat of the Summer, have left and Carolina Beach, Wrightsville, the Hammocks and Ocean View are full of our people. They will probably remain away until the first of October, when we shall welcome them back to the city again. The can't-get-away club will remain and look out for the best interests of the city.
