All of the musical critics in New York and Brooklyn are very enthusiastic in their praise of Patti as "Marguerite." Her triumph was very splendid. She got $4,000 for making it. Here is the way she appeared: "Her dress was apparently white satin, embroidered with flowers, She wore diamonds in her heir, in her cars, on her neck, on her arms, and on her wrists and on her fingers. If there had been any other place where a diamond brooch, pin or solitaire could have been advantageously put it would have been. The little lady literally plossomed with brilliants, and as she coquetted from foot to foot, teetering like a boy with tight boots, her fortune fairly blazed upon us. She sang like she always sings—like half a dozen nightingales rolled into one; never tired; never at a loss."

WILMINGTON, N. C., SATURDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1881. VOL. XXIX.--NO. 59.

WHOLE NO. 4999

Two new singers in Mr. Mapleson's company made their debut in New York and with pronounced success -one achieving something very brilliant. The Times says:

"Mlle. Paulina Rossini achieved a genu-ine triumph as Aida. This lady is slightly below the medium height, possesses a good figure, a brilliant eye, and a very expressive and mobile countenance. She is at home on the stage, and understands the art of the actress in an uncommon degree. Her voice is a pure and powerful soprano, with a range of nearly two octaves, beautifully clear and distinct in the lower notes, and in perfect command throughout. Her debut was the most brilliant musical event known in operatic circles since that of Mme. Gerster, and her second appearance will be awaited with interest, Mile. Cobianchi seemed to be rather a mezzo soprano than a contralto. She sang the music of the role of Amueris with power, and, although she suffered by comparison with a former representative of the part, she was earnest and showed much artistic ability.'

A medical expert summoned to Washington says a Democratic "crank" came to Washington a few days before Haves was inaugurated to kill him because he was a fraud. He practiced daily with his pistol, but was captured and incarcerated in the Government Insane Asylum.

- Mr. Tom Emry, of Weldon, was thrown from a vehicle and knocked

- Kinston Journal: The Festival at the Court House on Thursday and Friday nights last for the benefit of the Oxford Orphan Asylum was quite a success, having cleared over $100.

- Tarboro Southerner: Hayti blew off in a first-class row on Saturday night. Colored men and women blended and figured in the melee, amid the gleaming of knives and the cries of the cut and bruised. The Inferior Court will investigate them in January.

- It wasn't loaded. A New Berne white lad was handling a darkey's pistol wanted to sell it. A bang and scream. Here is the result as given by the Nut Shell: "The ball had struck the colored boy's head, just over the eye, and ploughing around under the skin, buried itself in the flesh just behind the car.'

- Weldon News: A colored child about two years old, was fatally burned at Halifax last week. — One day last week Mr. W. T. Purnell was walking along the road near Halifax when a negro man attacked him, knocking him over. Mr. Parnell went for the negro with his knife and gave him a severe wound in the

- Elizabeth City Carolinian: A corresponent of the Wilmington STAR calls attention to the population of a number of the towns of the State as reported by the census of 1800, just eighty-one years ago. Now it is over 3,500. is rumored as among the probabilities that another railroad, by a rival line, connect-ing Norfolk with Elizabeth City, will be

- Charlotte Observer: Mr. Jas. Lee Grier, a most substantial and highly respected citizen of Steel Creek, died Mon day night of pneumonia, in the 60th year of his age. -The wheat and oat crops of this section are, the farmers report, better than they have ever been known. —The roomy and elegant mansion of Mr. W. J. Yates was crowded last night with a bril liant company assembled to witness the marriage of Dr. I. Wellington Faison, Duplin county, to Miss Sallie S. Yates, daughter of the genial host.

- Monroe Express: Mr. John Pierce, living near Stouts, a few days ago had a cartridge, which he was handling, to explode in his hand, tearing off the end of his thumb and one or two of his fingers ----We learn that an affray took place at Wm. Meaks' bar-room, in Anson county, about three miles from Polkton, on Satur day evening last, between Hugh Horn, Bright Horn and David Hargett, in which Hargett was shot two or three times by Hugh Horn and afterward knocked in the head with a stick by Bright Horn. It is said that they would have killed Hargett, but bystanders interfered and stopped

- Washington Press: Judge Rodman's gin house, in the lower part of this county, was burned, together with its contents, on Wednesday night last. Loss esti mated at $3,000. No insurance. -Mr Asa Hardison's cotton gin, saw mill, and grist mill which were located about eight miles from Washington were destroyed by fire on Thursday night. -Mr. J. L Jones died at his residence, a few miles from town, on last Friday night, from congestion. —We have been presented by Mr. Jas. T. Winfield with a fine large sweet potato, and we learn that his crop is un usually large this year, yielding several hundred bushels to the acre.

- Laurinburgh Enterprise: We don't suppose there can be any doubt that the commissioners will favorably consider this proposition, provided, as Gov. Jarvis in his reply to Dr. Canedo suggests, the company can give reasonable assurance of their ability to carry out the contract. We hope they can, and that the road will be sold. We desire to see the connections made which are contemplated in the charter of the road, and this cannot be accomplished by the present management without aid from the State, and that will never be extended. - St. John's church has been designated as a station by the Conference, and Rev. T. W. Guthrie has been appointed pastor. We understand he will be paid a salary of $1,000.

- Elizabeth City Carolinian: The Bay Line to Baltimore have lately put on the lime a new iron steamer, called the Gaston. It is a good name and dear to North Carolinians. — The steamer Pam-lico, between Washington and Elizabeth City, was compelled to make an extra trip on Saturday, owing to the crowd of freight.

—Capt. Dan. Hayman, of Kittyhawk, left here Saturday morning for Bridgeport, Connecticut, to take charge of the new steam yacht of the Kittyhawk Shooting Club and bring her to their headquarters. —John Bennett, an expert master work-man in wood and iron, died in Winfall on Monday, the 14th ult. He was a useful man and will be much missed. -- Camden crops: Cotton has yielded about twothirds of a crop, and the quality has been extra good. The staple is unusually good. Price good. Corn has been a full crop.

Rice about half a crop. - Goldsboro Messenger:

Corkill, attorney for the prosecution in the Guiteau trial, telegraphed to Dr. Eugene Grissom on Saturday, requesting him to testify as an expert in the case of Guiteau. He replied that his official duties required his attention. — We regret to learn that the large and commodious dwelling house of Mr. Thos. H. Atkinson, in the Hore's store section of Johnson county was Hare's store section of Johnson county, was destroyed by fire on Monday last together with most of his furniture, a quantity of corn and about four bales of cotton. Loss fully $5,000; no insurance. — Mr. W. J. Best says he has no idea of relaxing his efforts to secure the Western North Carolina railroad because the commissioners have, as yet, and perhaps may altogether deeline to declare a forfeiture of the contract. He will transfer the contest to the courts, and while he admits that there will be delay, his friends say that he is entirely confident of success ultimately. - The opening of the Messenger Opera House in this city has been fixed for December 20th, 21st, 22d and 23d. A firstclass troupe has been engaged and charming plays selected, assuring a series of en-joyable entertainments. The Opera House is being handsomely fitted up, and supplied with beautiful stage scenery, comfortable opera chairs, gas light, and seating capacity for 900 people.

- Raleigh News-Observer: The internal revenue collections in this, the fourth district, for the month of November were $107,935 44. — Died: At Como, Panola county, Mississippi, Col. Norfleet R. Sledge, in his 70th year. He commenced life as a salesman in the store of his brother-in-law, the late Ruffin Tucker, in this city, and it was here he laid the ground-work of his future business success. -Forty-one drummers' licenses were issued from the Treasury Department during the month of November. — During November the register of deeds issued fifty marriage licenses, of which 31 were to white and 19 to colored couples. —The record kept by the Chief of Police shows that ninety-three arrests were made during the month of November. -J. F. Reynolds. special agent of the Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, is in this city, and we learn, will introduce them here. —A countryman with a head so bruised and beaten as to make one shudder to look at him, was a street sight yesterday. The "head had been put on him," it is said, at low groggery at which rows are frequent, so much so that the place has a reputation as one of the most disgraceful the city has ever contained. Night after night, it is said, crowds of debauched white men and negroes gather there and drink and fight, while, like hell's door, the portal wide lets out a glare of light until long after mid--On motion of the defendants, in the Federal Court yesterday, the cases against the board of canvassers of Halifax county for throwing out the vote of a precinct, and against the poll-holders of another precinct for substituting a ballot-box for the one in which the votes were deposited, were both postponed until the June term, 1882. —We learn from President Battle that Mr. J. S. Rich, executor and son-in-law of Mr. Joseph Caldwell, nephew of the distinguished President of the University of the same name, has, at the request of his testator, caused to be erected at Marion, Wayne county, New York, a granite monument, on which are to be inscribed the names and dates of birth and death of Dr. Caldwell and his mother, and other members of the Caldwell family. Dr. Caldwell was born in Lawington, New Jersey, April 21, 1773, and died in Chapel Hill, Jan. 27, 1835. Walter P. Williamson, Esq., of Tarboro, is in the city. He reports that on Tuesday night, when the train on the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad was within about six miles of Goldsboro, some one threw a large stone through a window into a passenger car. Columbus, was in town yesterday. - An absconding witness, by the name of Laura Blalock, was arrested as the depot yesterday afternoon, by Officer J. W. Bryan, as she was about to take the train for the South. There was a coosiderable fall in the barometer during Thursday night, and at 3 A. M. the thermometer in the STAR office registered 53, and at 6.30 A. M. 48 degrees, followed by rising temperature during the day.

Colored Confidence Man at his

A colored woman from Flemington, who gives her name as Dinah Alderman, and says she was on her way to Fayetteville, complains that she was a victim of a very sharp transaction on the part of one of her own color. She states that she purchased a number of articles, including a pair of shoes each for the two little children she had with her, which were placed in a bundle, and she was down the street waiting for the hour for the steamer Wave to start. on Thursday afternoon, when a strange colored man accosted her, professed to be well acquainted with her people and a good friend of herself, and finally succeeded in so ingratiating himself into her confidence and good graces that she not only complied with his request to allow him to take her bundle to the boat, where she had already sent her trunk, but to lend him a dollar and a half on the promise that he would return it as soon as they both got on the boat. It is hardly necessary to state that the woman has not seen her "good friend" since, and although a State warrant and a search warrant were issued by Justice Millis, at the woman's request, and three officers explored "all the regions round about" in quest of the sharper, not the slightest trace of him could be discovered.

Criminal Court. The following cases were disposed of by this Court yesterday: The case of Hiram Merritt and Sarah Merritt, charged with larceny and the receiving of stolen goods, knowing them to have been stolen, which was continued from yesterday, after argument of counsel and the charge of his Honor, was given to the jury, who soon afterwards returned a verdict of not guilty and the defendants were discharged.

One of the Murderers.

John Brodie, one of the murderers of the lamented Thomas M. Lynch, of Oxford, who, with his companion, was forcibly taken from the jail in that town and hung, as stated in a telegram to the STAR yesterday morning, came to this city from Granville county and worked for some time in the tobacco factory at the time of its first establishment. He finally returned home, however, and remained for a considerable time, when he came back and again began work in the factory, continuing to work there until a few weeks ago, when he once more left and returned home and to the fate which was destined so soon to overtake him in revenge for a terrible crime. Brodie was quite a young man, and had a mother living in Oxford.

Dr. Bernheim's Probable Successor. Rev. F. W. E. Peschau, a Lutheran minister, arrived here from Nashville, Tennessee, yesterday evening, and will preach at St. Paul's church to-morrow (Sunday) morning and evening. The reverend gentleman has been stationed at Nashville for some time past, and comes to Wilmington, under an arrangement with the trustees of St. Paul's church, with the view of assuming the pastoral charge of the same, soon to be made vacant by the terms of the resignation of Rev. Dr. Bernheim, provided it shall hereafter be determined mutually agreeable. He will preach in English in the morning and in German at night.

A DOWN TOWN MERCHANT, having passed several sleepless nights, disturbed by the agonies and cries of a suffering child, and becoming convinced that Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup was just the article needed, procured a supply for the child. On reaching home and acquainting his wife with what he had done, she refused to have it administered to the child, as she was strongly in favor of Homœopathy. That night the child passed in suffering, and the parents without sleep. Returning home the day following, the father found the baby still suffering; and while centemplating another sleepless night, the mother stepped from the room to attend to some domestic duties and left the father with the child. During her absence he administered a portion of the Soothing Syrup to the baby, and said nothing. That night all hands slept well, and the little fellow awoke in the morning bright and happy. The mother was delighted with the wonderful change, and although at first offended at the deception practiced upon her, has continued to use the Syrup, and suffering crying babies and restless nights have disappeared. A single trial of the Syrup never yet failed to relieve the baby, and overcome the prejudices of the mother. Sold by all Druggists, 25 cents a bottle.
