Here is great excitement in Germany over an alleged conspiracy to kill old Emperor William on his journey to Gastein.

Some whites broke up a colored society's dance at Steubenville, Ohio, stole the beer and used dynamite, which partly destroyed the building.

The Game Yesterday-Henderson 9,

Again the home boys have been hit in the same old place, and another defeat is added to the long list of disasters. When the game opened yesterday and the home team scored four runs it looked as if there was a picnic ahead of them, but as it progressed it became more evident every minute that our boys had encountered a snag and it would take all the strength they had to pull them through successfully. Bacon got down to his work in fine style and twelve men went out on strikes before the deceptive pitcher of the Seasides. Gibson ably seconded his efforts and did all he could behind the bat, but it was not destined for two men to win the game, and when the ninth inning closed the monotonous cry of "Seasides beaten again" was heard all over the field.

Rosenthal did some good work at short, and Creech, though playing in a new place to him, and one of the most difficult places on the diamond, held his position well.

Fleming pitched wildly at first, but controlled his ball well during the latter part of the game and was hit but little.

Overton played, as he always does, a fine game, and the Henderson nine, who are without doubt the finest association in the State, ably assisted their battery and won the game honestly and fairly.

It was a good game and the same nines will play again this afternoon, when the gates will be thrown open to the public, free of all charges, and we hope there will be a large audience to cheer our boys on to victory;as it is about time they were winning a game and if our citizens turn out to see them they will win-for they could not afford to lose when everybody is watching them

Palmer alias Farmer.

Henry Palmer alias Farmer, the young white man whose arrest on the charge of larceny of clothing from Mrs. Woodcock's boarding house on Market street, was published in the STAR yesterday, was arraigned before the Mayor yesterday morning. He offered no defence, and as the evidence against him was conclusive, he was committed to the custody of the Sheriff in default of a justified bond for his appearance at the present term of the Criminal Court.

Palmer, as he now calls himself, had a lot of letters and papers on his person. He also had $355 in Confederate money, mostly in bills of the denomination of $20. Besides these there was a check on the Bank of Charleston, S. C., for $680, payable to A. J. Pearce and signed by T. B. Edwards; a letter addressed to A. J. Pearce from Hotel Jerome, Columbia, S. C., signed Ned Gaston, and a telegram to A. J. Pearce from S. C. Brooks, Washington, D. C. The last three were in the same handwriting and were evidently forgeries. Palmer has a swarthy complexion, is spare built, about 5 feet 7 inches tall, with a restless demeanor and a remarkably long thin head.

Thurber & Gore.

Mr. Albert Gore leaves for Chicago to-night, where he goes to engage in business. A new commission house is to be established there under the firm name of Thurber & Gore, the partners being Messrs. W. I. Gore, Sun & Co., and B. G. Empie of this city, and Mr. George S. Thurber, of Chicago. Backed by ample capital, energy and capacity, the new firm will commend itself to the hearty support of the people of this section.

The STAR feels a peculiar interest in the success of Thurber & Gore, as the partners, one and all, are among its warmest friends. And sincerely as we regret to see Albert and Brooke leave us, we must admit that, viewed from a business standpoint, they are taking a step that will bring them fortune, if not fame.

It is not yet definitely determined when Mr. Empie will leave us; but he will probably spend the month of August in Chicago, return to Wilmington, where he will remain several months, and then go to the city of short ribs and cereals to locate per manently.

The old and well established house of W. I. Gore, Son & Co., will continue business here as usual.

The Weather Yesterday and To-Day. The cooler weather predicted by the STAR for this city yesterday afternoon came to hand in due time. The temperature approached its usual high altitude during the early part of the day, but some time after noon the effects of the slight high pressure became noticeable, and the mercury dropped accordingly. The high ba rometer, however, is not very decided, and its effects will soon pass away and the temperature take another rise; but not, according to present indications, anywhere near the point reached during the past few days.

The maximum throughout the State vesterday varied greatly. Charlotte reported 102, the highest for the day: Raleigh and Lumberton registed 100. Heavy rains occurred at Wadesboro. and the temperature only reached 86. Florence, S. C., still maintains its record for the past few days, at 104.

In this city, the highest recorded, as reported by the Signal Service, was 96 degrees.

The Lawn Party.

The lawn party given by the ladies in aid of the fund to buy a flag for the Wilmington Light Infantry, was patronized very meagrely. A fact which was much to be regretted, as the ladies had gone to much trouble and no little expense to get up this entertainment. Probably the threatening weather kept away many who otherwise would have been there. The harpers furnished the music for the occasion, and no doubt it was much enjoyed.

There was a quantity of ice cream and cake left over, which the ladies will be glad to dispose of to-day at the City Hall at a most reasonable
