At McNeil's Station, S. C., Pickens Bryant so inhumanly beat his wife that she died. He fled. He deserves hanging without the benfit of clergy. He is a brute with white skin.

The Mississippi Baptists are moving in the matter of divorce and will ask the Legislature to make the laws more stringent. This is needed in all the States but South Carolina.

John Taylor, Brigham Young's successor as President of the Mormon people, is dead. He was of English birth and was 79 years old. He was a miserable old sinner and had many wives.

The hottest day this year only showed 96 degrees in our office and 95 degrees at our residence. We have not noticed as low a record in any exchange reporting the local temperature on the hottest day. A recent convert to Mormonism near Yorkville, S. C., got 25 lashes and a notice to leave the State by a party of men. His name is Richard Harkness. The salacious old misstonaries that bamboozled him deserved the lashes.

mind, endowed with directness, vigor and boldness, at work in North Carolina it is brother Mills.

The Warrenton Gazette has begun its sixteenth year. Under brother Foote's management it has been true to principle and of great service to Warren and Warrenton. It ought to be liberally sustained. It is pleased to refer to a person connected with the STAR in very kind terms, and to point to him as a suitable person to undertake the preparation of a history of North Carolina. With many thanks for the good opinion it is proper for this to be said; he abandoned all aspirations and purposes in that direction in 1875, and much against his inclination. Toil, poverty, infirm health and advancing years alike forbid any such undertaking.

Some paper mentions Col. Mc-Clure, of the Philadelphia Times, for the Presidency. On what ticket ! We have never been able to exactly locate the Colonel as to politics. He is a protectionist and something of a Democrat. He is a man of fine ability and delivers a right view, we think, when he says:

"The day when the newspaper was regarded as a stepping stone to political pre-ferment is long passed. Newspaper work has become an exacting profession, one that will permit of no divided allegiance. and its rewards are dearly hought-but the satisfaction that comes in doing faithful public service can be abundantly carned in the office of any journal."

Rev. Dr. Robert Piggot, who was the oldest clergyman in the Episcopal Church, died at Sykesville, Md., on last Saturday. He was born in 1795 and was in his 93d year. Bishop ral months, and much of the time White ordained him in 1823. Sixty four years had he been in the minis try. He only ceased active work four years ago. . He was a gifted atist and engraver and was a Low Churchman.

A young woman was saved by her bustle on the Seaboard road. The Norfolk Virginian says:

"The locomotive struck Miss Jaques and hurled her from the track. The train was stopped and backed to the place where she was supposed to be lying a mangled corpse. The trainmen and passengers, however, were amazed to find a very much frightened and exceedingly angry young lady, who had escaped all injury except having the back of her dress torn out, having been saved from a terrible death by her bustle.'

The Bulletin, isssed by the N. C. Department of Agriculture, is a publication of real interest and value to intelligent farmers. It costs 25 cts a year and is issued monthly. The July number has a full report of the recent session of the Board of Agriculture, a report from the Experiment Farm and other articles that are suggestive and instructive.

Mrs. J. W. Smith died in New Orleans, aged 100 years and 8 months. She was a grand-daughter of Maj Gen. Lord Sterling, of the Revolu tionary Army. It is so remarkable for any one to really attain to such an advanced age that it is thought to be necessary to telegraph the fact through the country.

The editorials are too well known to need comment. They have not been improved, because the editor has always given his best work to his paper. The STAR's opinions are often different from ours, but we wish for it the full appreciation that is due it from the people of Wilmington and the State. It is essentially North Carolinian.

-- When shall we have another game?

-- Most of the Wilson excursionists left last night, much pleased with their visit. -- Though corn is going up, still there is a syndicate in the city resolv-and Loan Association.

- The quid nuncs are now figuring on the first bale of new cotton for Wilmington. The guesses run all the way from the 10th to the 20th of Au-

- Col. W. P. Canaday is having extensive improvements made at the residence he has recently purchased on the southeast corner of Nun and Second streets.

- It is amusing to see the little steamer Pet tackle a large threemasted schooner and tow her about in the harbor. But the Pet "gets them there all the same."

- The moonlight excursion to Carolina Beach last night was well patronized. The boat returned about 12 o'clock, the excursionists reporting a most enjoyable time.

- It is said that a popular young minister of this city undertook to drive to Wrightsville, a day or two since, by the old "dirt road," got lost, and had to camp out until next morning. It isn't often that a preacher has to hold a camp meeting by himself.

- The indications are that the cotton receipts of this port for the coming season will be materially increased; and if no accident should happen to our compresses they will be kept constantly employed for seveooth night and day. This will be good for the compresses, and good for Wilmington.

- The Charlotte Observer offers this conundrum: "Well, now, did you ever see a stuttering negro?" We should say we had, unless "Stuttering Dick," the patent duplex electric pole-climber of the Western Union Telegraph Co., repudiates the term 'negro" and classifies himself as a 'gemman of color." The District Conference of the Wilmington District Methodist E. Church, South, will convene at Clinton, Sampson county, on Wednesday next, the 3rd of August. It will be composed of the Presiding Elder, travelling and local preachers of the district, and delegates elected from the various charges. Fifth Street Church-Messrs. W. J. Toomer, F. A. Newbury, J. J. Le Gwyn and J. T. Sholar.

The delegates from Brooklyn Chapel have not yet been announced.

Accident on the Turnpike.

John G. Norwood, Sr., the well known carpenter, a worthy colored man of this city, met with an accident last Tuesday by which one of his legs was broken. He was driving from town to his place on Greenville sound, in a buggy, when the horse ran away. Norwood was thrown out of the vehicle, and sustained a fracture of the bone of one of his legs, near the hip. He was taken to his home at the sound.

BASE BALL.

Wilmington 13, Wilson 3. Again has victory perched on the banners of the Wilmington club, after a long absence, and gladly was she welcomed. The game yesterday was called promptly and all were on the qui vive to see on whom the gods were propitious. The Wilmington club went first to the bat and the first inning was indicative of how the game was going, for our boys scored five runs by errors of their competitors. The Wilmington club showed their superiority over Wilson at the beginning of the game and maintained it throughout the whole seven innings; but it is only justice to the Wilson club to state that their catcher had not recovered from the hurts received the day before, and therefore it was impossible for him to play his regular game. Latouche was handicapped by the poor condition of Cacey and was batted freely.

The fielding of the Wilson team was loose and Blount, Gardner and Deans were the only ones especially worthy of mention.

Bacon had only two clean hits, and his curves kept the boys continually guessing. Bacon as a box-man is a success.

Ed Moore played without an error, having eight chances and accepting them all.

Rosenthal fully demonstrated to the public that he was not only a first class first baseman, but was also a capital short stop.

The weak spot on the home team was Rigby, the first baseman; he making four of the six errors.

Albertson beat the team on batting but in fact all of the Wilmington club did well in this particular.

The Wilson team were obliged to leave the field at the end of the seventh inning, in order to catch their train. They are a most gentlemanly set of men, and their visit here will be remembered with pleasure. Below is the score:

Weather Indications.

The following are the indications for to-day:

For North Carolina, local rains in the southern portion, fair weather in the northern portion, stationary temperature and variable winds generally southerly.

For South Carolina, local rains, winds generally southerly and stationary temperature.

The Alabama Cyclone.

The cyclone that was reported central at Montgomery, Ala., Wednesday, has made very little progress and has evidently decreased in energy. Yesterday morning it had hardly moved beyond the immediate vicinity of Montgomery, and by 10 p. m. it barely extended to the northern boundary of Alabama and Georgia, with a considerably reduced intensily. But, while the storm may centre in that locality with an extended area, it may at most any moment concentrate, and proceed on a northward course, with increased force. This locality is, however, apparently free from a visitation of the storm, but nevertheless a strange freak of natural laws may bring the disturbance in this direction. Nothing but excessive rain indicated the presence of the storm in the Gulf States. A glance at the mean rainfall of the general Cotton Bulletin will readily corroborate this Raliroad Matters. This is from the Raleigh correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch All the arrangements for extending the "short-cut" branch of the Wil mington and Weldon road southward from Fayetteville have been perfected, and it is said that work is to at once begin. What is now known as the "short-cut" extends from Wilson to Fayetteville, via Selma. The new line will, it is stated, extend to Florence, and will cut off all the 'elbow" of the old line by way of Wilmington. It is not unreasonable to suppose that in a few years Wilmington will be on the branch line, and that the "short-cut" will become the main line. It is quite on the The branch line will be all right, and Wilmington will not be damaged commercially by the extension of the "Short-cut." The through traffic will go over that line, while more of the local traffic of the W. & W. and the W. C. & A. railroads will come to Wilmington than we have ever received before. The removal of the through traffic from those two roads will cause the managers to foster the local business, as something must be done to replace the lost revenue on through traffic, and the local will pay better than the through busi-

Our people need have no fear of the "Short-cut" if they exercise a proper degree of energy. It may possibly injure the hotel business here; but there is no cause for alarm so far as general business is con-

If the proposition of the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railway Co. had not been rejected, a large and profitable business would have come to our merchants from the West, and we would have struck the "Short-cut" right in the middle at Fayetteville.

For the State Penitentiary.

Sheriff Manning takes four prisoners up to Raleigh this morning for consignment to the State penitentiary. Three of the four are whitestwo of them sailors from a foreign port and the other a stranger who had been in the city but a few days. The sheriff says that this is the first nstance in thirteen years when more whites than negroes have been sent up from this county. The list is as follows:

W. H. Farmer alias W. H. Palmer, three years. Hiram Myers, three years.

Albert Dunbrey, three years. Henry King (colored), three years.

A DOWN TOWN MERCHANT, having passed several sleepless nights, disturbed by the agonies and cries of a suffering child, and becoming convinced that Mrs. Winslow's Boothing Syrup was just the article needed, procured a supply for the child. On reaching home and acquainting his wife with what he had done, she refused to have it administered to the child, as she was strongly in favor of Homosopathy. That night the child passed administered to the child, as she was strongly in favor of Homosopathy. That night the child passed in suffering, and the parents without sleep. Returning home the day following, the father found the baby still suffering; and while contemplating another sleepless night, the mother stepped from the room to attend to some domestic duties and left the father with the child.
