

WILLIAM H. BERNARD. PUBLISHED DAILY EXCEPT MONDAYS. RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION, IN ADVANCE.

THE MORNING STAR.

VOL. XL.—NO. 142.

WILMINGTON, N. C., SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1887.

WHOLE NO. 6536

REDUCTION IN PRICE.

Attention is invited to the following reduced rates of subscription:

DAILY STAR, By Mail: One Year, $6.00; Six Months, 3.00; Three Months, 1.50; One Month, .50.

To City Subscribers: Three Months, $1.56; One Month, .52; One Week, .12.

WEEKLY STAR, By Mail: One Year, $1.00; Six Months, .60; Three Months, .30.

The reduction in price will, we are confident, add materially to our already large circulation, thus making the paper more valuable than ever to advertisers.

Our telegraphic news service has recently been largely increased, and it is our determination to keep the Star up to the highest standard of newspaper excellence.

OUTLINES.

The Roman Catholic College, at St. Meinrad, Ills., was destroyed by fire Friday night; loss $300,000; no insurance. The attorneys for the Chicago hoodlums claim to have made a startling discovery by which they hope their clients will escape punishment. All kinds of securities advanced very rapidly yesterday in the New York stock market, and the scenes have never been equalled in the history of the street. A buoyant feeling is reported in the London stock market, and all securities have largely advanced. Some miscreants attempted to wreck a train near Chatsworth, Ills., but it was unsuccessful. Masked men took Chas. Coleman, colored, from jail at Flemingsburg, Ky., and hanged him, for a criminal assault on a young white lady. Labor organizations of Pittsburg, Pa., paraded yesterday; 15,000 men were in line. The Northwestern National Insurance Company has been boycotted by the Chicago Underwriters. New York markets: Money easy at 3 1/2 per cent, closing off at 3 per cent; cotton firm at 10 1/2; southern flour unchanged and dull; wheat rather quiet and generally steady; No. 2 red September 80 1/2; corn dull and rather weak; No. 2 September 49 1/2; spirits turpentine steady at 32 1/2; resin steady at $1 @ 10.

Gov. Gordon is giving much satisfaction to the Georgians.

Gen. Miles, the Indian fighter, has had the misfortune to break his leg at Los Angeles.

Mr. Raskin is reported as perfectly sane and quietly travelling in Southern Europe. The English liars ought to hold up.

We notice that the Southern Protection papers are very happy at Randall's alleged success in the Allentown Convention. Do you see?

The New Orleans States puts the working capital of that city at $78,893,850. That is a grand sum and shows well for the mercantile capacity of a Southern city.

The last letter from Stanley, the African traveller, was interesting but did not settle the fate of the explorer. His letters show that the natives were hostile to him. We expect to hear of his death yet.

There is quite a boom in canned goods. That is bad for the North Carolina farmers. Cabbages are high and that is another lick at the farmers who depend upon New England and Norway. Short crops have given a decided upward start to all canned goods.

Col. John N. Staples, of Greensboro, is reported as saying: "I do not believe you could like a corporal's guard in North Carolina in favor of the present internal revenue system."

Is the Colonel in favor of free drinks and free smoke, and in favor of taxing blankets, wool hats, trace chains, cheap crockery, medicine, food and cotton ties? We happen to know a good many scores of people who are in favor of taxing the luxuries and taxing them high.

The Iowa Democrats indorse the Administration for its economy, courage, honesty and patriotism and call upon the Congress "for an immediate revision of our Tariff laws to a reasonable basis."

and they declare that they "favor the retention of the internal revenue tax on intoxicating liquors and tobacco, and protest against its proposed reduction for the purpose of continuing the present high tariff on the necessities of life."

The New York World calls itself Democratic but it is jubilant over Randall's supposed triumph over Tariff reformers in the Pennsylvania Convention. It says it is a "rebuke to free trade," and that "Pennsylvania Democrats emphatically repudiate false doctrine" and "silence the clamor for free trade." Why all this false statement? What did the Reform Democrats ask for that is "false doctrine" or "free trade?" The World should have more regard for truth and fairness. Randall seems to be as near and dear to the World as he is to the treacherous Sun.

Personal. Mr. J. H. Hardin and family returned last night from a summer jaunt to the Western part of the State.

Mr. M. M. Katz left last night for the Northern markets to purchase his fall and winter stock of goods.

Leut. Gov. Stedman returned home last night, after a sojourn of six weeks in the western part of the State.

Mr. Jno. H. Currie, of the firm of Wooley & Currie, is at home again from a visit to friends in Cumberland and Chatham.

Dr. W. J. H. Bellamy will leave tonight for Washington, D. C., to attend the International Medical Congress as a delegate from this State.

Mr. J. H. Clark, sr., and Mr. J. H. Clark, jr., passed through Wilmington yesterday on their return to Clarkton from a visit to the Northern markets.

Mr. Nick W. Schenck, formerly of this city, is manager of the North Carolina Land and Immigration Bureau, No. 22 Dey street, New York. The bureau will act as the Northern advertising agent for all persons or corporations desiring its services.

Recaptured. The Mayor received a telegram yesterday from Supt. Steers of New York stating that the thieving washerwoman Josephine McElroy alias Rose Nesbitt, whose arrest and escape were mentioned in the STAR, has been again arrested and would be held for a requisition until 10 a. m. Wednesday. Sergt. F. T. Skipper, of the police force of this city, left here last night for Raleigh to procure the necessary papers. He will thence proceed to New York and bring the woman back to this city.

The following telegram in relation to the second arrest of the woman, was received by the STAR last night: Josephine McElroy, the young mulatto, who escaped from police headquarters Thursday, was recaptured yesterday, and was arraigned in the police court to-day. She is wanted in Wilmington, N. C., on a charge of embezzlement. The woman with her child was remanded to the next requisition from the Governor of North Carolina. She was captured through the efforts to regain possession of her child which she could not carry away when she escaped.

The Gulf Cyclone. No developments took place in the cyclone yesterday which indicate its character or show its probable course. The atmospheric pressure had undergone no perceptible change at any point along the Gulf coast; by 3 p. m. in the next reports of observations received at the Signal office at 10 p. m. Key West and Titusville, Fla., were missing, and nothing definite can be stated as to the atmospheric condition in that quarter. Other places along the coast were about the same as at 3 p. m. The trouble which caused the non-receipt of the reports of southern Florida was not given, but it is probable that the cyclone is the cause of the non-reception of news from the places mentioned.

Local Notes. Only one marriage license issued the past week by the county register.

Johannes Omberg, a drunken sailor, was arrested and locked up last night.

Beware of the treacherous grape hull, or you'll find that there's many a slip between the pavement and the curbstone.

The Board of County Commissioners will meet in regular monthly session at the Court House to-morrow afternoon.

At St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church, English services will be held to-day at 11 a. m. and German services at 8 p. m.

The receipts of cotton yesterday were 572 bales; the same day last year 27 bales. Prices declined an eighth on all grades.

"Frank, the dude," colored, was escorted to the guard house last night by two policemen. He had presumed too much on his gait.

Mr. B. H. J. Ahrens has bought two lots on Campbell street, between Sixth and Seventh, where he will erect a factory for the manufacture of ice.

Mr. Duncan McEachern has opened a grain and feed store at No. 126 North Water street, where he proposes to keep a full supply of goods in his line and to sell as low as the lowest.

At Blowing Rock, on the 31st of August, there was a heavy white frost, and the thermometer registered 36 degrees above zero. Come home, boys, and go to work before you get "snowed under."

The hour for evening service at St. Mark's church on Sunday, hereafter, will be 8 o'clock. The Rev. Dr. Carmichael will officiate and preach this evening and every Sunday evening during the rector's vacation.

The last regatta of the season will be sailed Tuesday the 15th inst., over the course of the Carolina Yacht Club, at Wrightsville. Captains are notified to enter their yachts at least forty-eight hours before the time of the regatta.

A meeting will be held at the Mayor's office to-morrow evening, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of organizing a Building and Loan Association. We already have one of these admirable organizations here, in successful operation, but there is room for another.

We note the arrival of a car load of furniture at Raleigh for the Peace Institute. Also, that it was manufactured in Asheville. Well, we don't make any furniture here, but the Acme Manufacturing Company, of this city, can furnish the material for the mattresses, &c.

The lowest temperature in this cotton belt yesterday was 52 degrees at Lumberton; the maximum at the same place was 86. The highest temperature was at Weldon, 93 degrees. Wilmington reported a maximum of 81, Salisbury 85, Wadesboro 90, Raleigh 85, Cheraw, Florence and Charlotte 87.

Referring to the car coupler, heretofore described in the STAR, in which several of our people are interested, the Charleston News and Courier says the models have been examined by a number of railroad men in that city, and all of them have pronounced in favor of the new invention.

The Atlantic Coast Line will run excursion trains to Philadelphia for the benefit of those who wish to witness the grand ceremonies on the occasion of the centennial anniversary of the adoption of the Federal Constitution, Sept. 15th to 17th inclusive. Single tickets, round trip, from Wilmington, $19.00; Fayetteville, $17.35; Goldsboro, $15.60; Wilson, $14.60. To military companies and other organizations, in parties of 25 or more, one solid ticket, the rates are much lower. Tickets good until Sept. 23d.

Full of Work. Great activity prevails in the shops of the Wilmington and Weldon railroad in this city. And the same pleasant state of affairs exists in the shops of the Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta at Florence, and of the Carolina Central at Laurinburg.

Artesian Wells. Col. Brink writes that the artesian well bored on the premises of the Crescote Lumber and Construction Co., at Ferdinandina, Fla., cost $3,400 (not $1,200 as stated in the STAR). He says: "It gives us 8,100 gallons of pure soft water per minute. A similar well or supply of water would be worth to the Carolina Oil and Crescote Co. the interest on thirty thousand dollars. We have a pressure that carries the water seventy feet high and distributes it to all points of the works without engine or pumps."

Rocky Mount Fair. The stockholders of the Rocky Mount Fair held their meeting yesterday and concluded to have their next Fair November 16th, 17th and 18th, inclusive. Each stockholder paid in ten dollars to start with, intending not to go in debt. Supervisors to each department were appointed. The racing will be a special feature. The premium list will soon be made out and published.

Row in the Hollow. There was a lively row in the Hollow last night, and in the melee police officer Flanagan lost his hat and police officer Green got a cut over the left eye. But the policemen captured their man—a burly West India negro sailor—and locked him up in the guard house.

The negro was drunk and disorderly, and when the policemen attempted to arrest him made a desperate resistance, drawing a pistol with which he endeavored to shoot the officers, and a horde of half drunken men and women rushed to his assistance.

The trouble began at the corner of Mulberry and Nutt streets, and after the officers had secured their prisoner the crowd followed them to Front street, throwing stones and making several attempts to rescue the man. After great difficulty he was taken to the City Hall and locked up. One of the men engaged in throwing stones was taken in custody by the Mayor himself, who happened to be on Front street near Mulberry, at the time of the disturbance.

About the same time that this disturbance occurred, a row began in Mrs. Bryson's dance house on Nutt street, near Walnut. There were about seventy-five men and women in the room. Two colored women pitched in for a fight with a white sailor, and for a time there was a perfect pandemonium in the place. Officer Kunold, who was on that beat, went into the place to quell the disturbances, when the women jumped on him, knocked him into a corner of the room, struck him with a chair, tore his coat, and in the melee robbed him of his watch and chain. He managed to capture one of the colored tergamagants, however, and fighting his way out, lodged her in the guard house.

A conjured Darkey. A young colored man applied to Justice Millis yesterday for a warrant for the arrest of a woman who had cast a deadly spell upon him—a spell that he was sure would work his speedy dissolution. The magistrate didn't know that he could do anything for the sufferer, but asked him to explain, and possibly he might discern some salient point or projection upon which "a case" would hang. The trembling darkey, hopeful of relief, at once told his story. He had been paying attention to a dusky damsel whose charms had captivated his fancy, and had presented this object of his adoration with his "pictur"—a tin-type of the highest order of art. Recently his sweetheart "had gone back on him," and he learned to his horror, had driven a nail through his picture, at the place where his heart was supposed to be. He was certain that his death would result from this unless he could secure the picture, draw the nail, and heal the wound, and he implored the justice to bring all the powers of his learned legal mind upon the case and give him the aid he sought. When he was told that it was beyond the power of the law as laid down in the Code to give him the relief he craved, he was distressed beyond expression, and took his departure in tears and trembling.

A Young Girl Entrapped. The police were instrumental yesterday in saving a young girl from a life of infamy and shame. The girl was found in a disreputable house on South Fourth street, where she had been an unwilling inmate for the past three days. She was a plain country girl, plainly dressed, with a face that was not unattractive. She gave her age as sixteen years, and said that her home was in Sampson county, a few miles from Clinton.

The women of the house offered no opposition to her leaving and she readily accompanied a policeman to the City Hall, where she told her story. She said she came to the city on an excursion train, and at the invitation of a young woman she called "Carrie," and whom she had known in Sampson, went to the house as a guest to spend a few days, not knowing its character.

She said that she was anxious to return home, but was entirely without means to do so, and some members of the police force, in the kindness of their hearts, made up a purse and paid her fare to her home, putting her in charge of the conductor on the north bound train that left the city last night.

Advertisement. A CARD. In reply to the communication in yesterday's Messenger, signed by Preston and Secretary of the Laborers' Union, we have to say: 1st. The rate of wages at Charleston, S. C., is $4 and $4.50 per day on the nine hours' system. 2d. The fact that more cotton is stowed here than at some other ports, is owing to the superiority of the work done by the Compresses here and to vessels receiving the bales direct from the presses; whereas, at other ports the bales are transported after compressing, by rail and drays; the repeated handling causing it to swell and become hard and more bulky. 3d. We emphatically deny any attempt to form an organization of contractors. 4th. At least one-half of the laborers furnished contractors by the Laborers' Union are unskilled labor; their only qualification being that they belong to the Union. If the contractor was permitted to select such men as he thought competent to do the work, there would be no objection to the price demanded, and the cost of stowing cotton could be materially reduced. KURE BROS., Contracting Stevedores.
