LOCAL DOTS.

Items of Interest Gathered Here and There and Briefly Noted. - This is a 25-cent day on all boats and trains to the seaside.

- The management of the Carolina Central have decided that Wilmington is not "in it."

- It is stated as probable that on account of the delay in the river and harwork will soon be closed on the Cape Fear river.

-Thanks, thanks, to the owners of the Karolina Sentral! Passenger and mail service magnificent! Train connects with everything and everywhere except Wilmington!

- A large number of Minnie balls were washed up on the shore in front of the "Oceanic," at Carolina Beach, yesterday. Hunters of war relics were "in clover," or words to that effect.

- The Atlantic Coast Line will sell round-trip tickets on account of the Race meeting at Raleigh at reduced rates. Tickets to be sold August 16th. 17th and 18th, good to return until August 20th. The rate from Wilmington will be $4.85.

- Rev. A. D. McClure, of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, will be at Warsaw to-morrow, and Rev. W. McC. Miller will preach at 11 a. m. and Rev. Mr. Kelley, of the M. E. Church South, will preach in the evening, at St. Andrew's Church.

-The excursion by the Second Regiment Band was not largely attended yesterday on account of the rain. Nevertheless the band went down. It was leave the train, and came back to the city. Tickets sold to parties who didn't go will be good on this evening's train.

THE FAST MAIL.

A Boston Paper Urges its Continuance Senator Butler Hopeful.

position yesterday on account of bad The Boston Herald of June 28th contains the following editorial:

"We trust that Congress will take speedy action for the continuance of the special fast mail service from New York through Tampa, Fla., to Cuba. The fast railway mall route from New York South has been in existence for some time, and has amply justified its cost by the widespread benefits which it has conferred. The Postmaster-General, pursuing the policy announced in his last annual report of cutting off all appropriations for special fast railway mail service, failed to recommend any appropriation for the New York and Tampa route. "In the present condition of the National Treasury we should be the last to urge the expenditure of an unnecessary dollar for any purpose, but there are reforms which are far too costly to be made, and this, emphatically, is one of them. The expenditure involved is trival in comparison with the good obtained from it. The stoppage of this fast mail service would be a very serious check to the growing prosperity in the South, for it would involve a material loss of time in postal communications of large importance both commercially and so

"Under the present arrangements the mail train for Tampa leaves New York at 4 a. m. and goes through without delay, but if the special pay provision were given up, the mail, which would then have to be timed to accommodate passengers, would probably be held back till 9 a. m., with further delay on the road. To cut off a service which has proved so beneficial would be liable to set back the hands on the clock of progress. The commercial race with other countries is keen, and Congress cannot afford to handicap our Southern trade by the adoption of a cheese-

Senator Butler, of South Carolina says he is confident that there are enough favorable votes in the Senate to secure the passage of the appropriation for continuing the fast mail facilities along the Atlantic Coast Line in spite of the Senate committee on appropriations, and the STAR trusts the Senator's port of the weather in June, of which confidence may not be misplaced.

Missing Mail Matter.

Mr. G. Z. French, our postmaster speaking of the missing registered packages alluded to in yesterday's STAR. said the statement that registered packages are receipted for by letter carriers the evening before they receive them is erroneous; that the carriers receipt for these packages in the morning, after arrival of the train from the South, and then and there take possession of them for delivery. This, he says, is the rule of the office. It is only in cases where carriers are unable to find persons to whom packages are addressed that the latter are retained in the office, and this is very rarely the case, as not more than one per cent. of the packages are brought

SENATOR VANCE.

His Arrival in the City Last Evening-En Route to Wrightsville-Mrs. Vance and Other Members of His Family in the Party.

Senator Zeb Vance and family reached the city yesterday afternoon at 6 o'clock, in President Elliott's private car on the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad, from Washington, D. C. As soon as the train stopped at Front street depot a few citizens and a STAR representative boarded bor appropriations, that all government | the train and met Senator Vance, Mrs. Vance, one of his sons and Mr. H. Martin, his stepson. Senator Vance was interviewed by the reporter, to whom he said: "I left Washington this morning at half-past journey all the way through." He seemed | paid. to be much better than usual, and was in a cheerful mood and seemed to be the same old joking Zebulon of many years ago, although he was still quite feeble, and is suffering with sciatic rheumatism, and this is the reason he is going to the Hammocks to see it the sea breeze won't help him. If he notices a change for the better in his condition he will remain there during the month of July; if not he will only stay a week. He stated that now he was feeling much better and thinks he is improving rapidly,

Just before the reporter left he paid high compliment to the officials of the Atlantic Coast Line, and said: "I hope the A. C. L. officials who have treated me so kindly will go to heaven without having to pray." He said. also, the Wilmington & Weldon railroad was not only the prettiest, but the best road he had ever been over. To the few friends who met Senator Vance he told a few anecdotes.

The Senator had very few visitors at ining so hard, however, they didn't the car, because it was generally understood that he would come down in the city, and for the additional reason that his friends thought that after the fatigue of a day's travel he would prefer not to receive company.

After bidding his friends good-by, the train pulled out at 7.15 for the Hammocks. Senator Vance says that if the seashore doesn't do him any good he thinks meeting his old North Carolina triends will.

Mrs. Vance is a handsome lady, of fine presence and a most charming conversationalist. She was exceedingly pleasant to the visitors, who were delighted with her winning manners and her devoted attention to her distinguished husband.

Struck by Lightning.

A one-story frame house near Chad bourn's mill, was struck by lightning last Thursday night, and one side of it was literally torn to pieces. Fortunately, there was no one in the building at the time, Mr. Chas. Howe and family, the occupants, being on a visit to friends in the country. No damage was done to the furniture, with the exception of a table, which was broken up. The house belongs to Mr. W. H. Chadbourn.

During the storm yesterday lightning entered the power house of the Street Railway Company, but did do material damage, the lightning-arrester directing the current to the ground.

At Meares' Bluff, or "Navassa," a few miles up the river, lightning struck the store of Mr. W. W. Reynolds, but the damage could not be learned. A colored man named Daniel Freeman, who was in the store at the time of the visitation, was seriously hurt.

COLORED DEMOCRATS.

A Club to Be Formed in Savannah, The News announces that Savannah s to have a colored Democratic club. It will be organized in a few days. and, paring policy in regard to the Tampa it is said, willistart out with a membership of about 100. One of the causes which is bringing about a change of political faith among the colored people is said to be the fact that President Harrison dismissed some colored employes from the White House who had been retained for twenty years under both Republican and Democratic administrations. They think the President is not as good a friend of the colored race as he might be, and, therefore, many here have turned Democrats, and intend to vote for Cleveland.

Historic Flags. It was the battle-flag of the 51st N. C regiment -not the 52d-that was used in the decorations at the Opera House Thursday night. This flag was cut from the staff and preserved by Lieut. A. A. McKethan, of Company B of the 51st, at the time of Gen. Johnston's surrender. Capt. Jas. Lippitt was in command of the regiment.

Another historical flag used on the occasion was the Confederate garrison flag of Fort Caswell. It was given to the commandant of the Fort-Capt. Ino. L. Cantwell-by the captain of a schooner that "ran the blockade."

Ootton Region Bulletin.

The rainfall in Wilmington for the 24 hours ended at 6 p. m. was 2.01 inches. Raleigh reported 1.27 inches, Weldon 1.85, Cheraw .90 of an inch, Greensboro .79, Goldsboro .20, and Charlotte .16. There was abundant rain throughout the cotton belt, but it was heaviest in the Wimington district.

REV. THOS. DIXON

To Lecture at the Y. M. C. Rooms Tuesday Night.

Don't forget that the box sheet for the lecture by Rev. Thos. Dixon, Jr., will be opened at Yates' book-store this morn ing. The "Whatsoever Circle" of King's Daughters own in Bellevue Cemetery lot for the interment of worthy strangers who may die in our midst, irrespective of denomination, thus ministering not only to the living but also to the dead It is to raise funds to enclose and beautify this lot that they have secured Mr Dixon's services, and such a noble cause should meet with the most generous patronage. Mr. Dixon is conceded to be one of the foremost orators of the day, and four o'clock, and had a very pleasant | those attending will surely feel amply re-

The Ashland, Ohio, Press says this: When Rev. Mr. Dixon first appeared on the stage last Friday evening, his audience smiled. When he arose to speak his audience smiled again, and he smiled; they at his ungainly tallness, he at their smiles at his ungainly tallness But when that Patrick Henry voice and form began to act, amusement changed to interest, and the lecturer held his hearers from start to finish. A giant in stature, a giant in intellect, a prodigy in oratory is Dixon.

Dixon is a second Beecher, a rival of Talmage. Thrilled and alive with his subject, the sentiments of his massive mind rush in uncontrollable madness to the nerve centres throughout his body, and, revivified the lecturer sends out to always attentive hearers, noble thoughts, rich humor, pathos and wit, and perfect gems of philosophy. His audinence is entranced, delighted, astonished that such a long, lank, lean man could pour forth such a flood of oratory, so enriched with truth hidden beneath a cloak of rare sarcasm, irony and wit.

ETERANS ENCAMPMENT. Probability That It Will Have to Be Aban-

The prospects for an encampment and eunion of State pensioners and other Confederate veterans at Wrightsville this Summer are not very flattering. The paramount question of obtaining supplies is still unsolved, and if a more favorable turn does not take place in this matter within a few days, the proposed encampment will have to be aband oned Col. E. D. Hall, who has used his best efforts in behalf of the project, says that all other obstacles have been removed; that the State authorities will render all the aid in their power, and that through the kindness of Mr. T. M. Emerson, of the A. C. L., arrangements have been made with all the railroads in the State for free transportation of pensioners and greatly reduced rates for other veterans.
