A Cincinnati phrenologist has asked Mr. Harrison's permission to examine his head. He should wait until after the election, when it will be less of a job, for Mr. Harrison's head will not be so large then.

Mr. Cleveland has designated the 20th inst. as the day to meet the committee which is to notify him of his nomination.

Henry M. Stanley will not sit in the British Parliament for the reason that he didn't get votes enough. It they ever get up a Parliament in Africa he might stand a chance there, as his electioneering methods might pan out better in that country than among the bluff Britons.

The British House of Commons consists of 670 members. They get no pay but still there is never a shortage of patriots who are willing to run the gauntlet of clubs, paving stones, hard ginger cakes, lime bags and flour bags to give the country the benefit of their wisdom and ser-

The Detroit Free Press, Democrat, says the tariff question has brought the centre of political gravity from New York Westward, and that the battle-ground is really in Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana and Michigan. It will be a good thing for this country when that thing has happened and any one State will cease to be a pivotal State.

An eminent civil engineer in London has been reconciling Londoners to their fogs by attributing to them the low death rate of that city. He says the sulphur, hundreds of tons of it, sent into the air by the combustion of so much coal, causes the fogs, and fogs attend to the rest of the business and get away with the germs of disease.

Judge Gresham puts a quietus on the rumor that Mr. Harrison would appoint him to the vacancy on the U. S. Supreme Court bench, as a reward for refusing the third party nomination for the Presidency, by saying that he didn't know what Mr. Harrison's intentions might be, but | ing considerable complaints now of the he did know that he would not accept the appointment from Mr. Harrison if tendered.

Wm. F. Harrity, of Pennsylvania, who has been strongly urged as chairman of the National Democratic Committee, announces that his official, professional and business engagements are such that he could not accept the position, if tendered. The probabilities now are that ex-Secretary Whitney will be the man, as he was holding back with the hope that Harrity would get into harness.

THE MORNING STAR.

VOL. L.-NO. 97.

WILMINGTON, N. C., TUESDAY, JULY 12, 1892.

The Wisconsin Democrats have had some experience in redistricting that State. The legislature did that job and the Supreme Court, when the test was made, decided the act unconstitutional because some of the districts were not formed of "contiguous territory." A special session was called and after the adjournment it was discovered that the Senate and the Assembly had passed different measures, which leaves the districts just where they were at first. Our Democratic friends up there seem to have blundered considerably in that business.

Mr. St. John declares that Gen. Bidwell, the Prohibition candidate for the Presidency, didn't make any of his money in the manufacture of brandy and wine from his vineyards, and that he hasn't any vineyards, for after losing $50,000 in the business he destroyed the vineyards and gave his stock of wine to a hospital. So it seems that it was the loss of $50,000, not conscience, that caused the remainder of the summer. the change of heart in Bidwell. It didn't pay.

The friends of Senator Vance throughout the State and elsewhere will be delighted to learn that he is making gratifying improvement since his arrival at the Hammocks. Even within the short space of one week this improvement is marked, and if it continues, as there is every reason to believe it will, it will be but a short time before he is himself

CORNELIUS HARNETT'S WILL. An Old Document Unearthed at the County Court House.

The will of Cornelius Harnett, of Revolutionary fame, which has for many years been on file in the County Court house here, has been recorded by Col. Ino. D. Taylor, Clerk of the Superior Court, and the original document, neatly framed, now hangs on the wall in the Clerk's office. It is dated April 28th 1781, and devises to his "dear wife Mary," all his estate, real and personal. It concludes with the following para-

I. Cornelius Harnett, having executed the within written will, think it not improper to add that as I have ever considered expensive funerals as ostentatious folly, it is my earnest request (and from my present circumstances now doubly necessary) that I may be buried with the utmost frugality.

Samuel Ashe and William Hill are named as executors, and Mrs. Harnett as executrix, The witnesses are Anne Hooper, Thos. Maclaine and J. W. Huske. The following endorsements are on the back of the document :

New Hanover county, January Term, 1782; This within last will and testament of Cornelius Harnett, Esquire, was exhibited in court and proved by the oath of Thomas Maclaine, a subscribing witness thereto, who swore that he saw the testator sign, seal, publish and declare the same to be and contain his last will and testament. Also, that he was of sound and disposing mind and memory. Ordered: That letters testamentary do issue to Mary Harnett, executrix to the said will. At the same time

Mrs. Harnett qualified agreeable to law. THO. MACLAINE, Clerk. This will was filed in my office by H. H. Robinson, Clerk of Bladen County Court, this 20th January, 1846.

After the routine proceedings were through with, Mr. Henry Newman presented a handsome gavel to the company. The gift was accepted in behalf of the company by Mr. Martin Ruthjen, the President, in an appropriate speech, and will be cherished as one of its most valued

A Leap For Life.

Benjamin F. Smith, colored, a workman employed on the new court house building, had a narrow escape from death yesterday. Smith was carrying brick to the workmen, and when on the scaffold, about 35 feet from the ground, stepped on the end of one of the crosspieces which gave way. He had presence of mind enough to jump, or he would have fallen on projections of the scaffolding below, but by jumping he saved himself, landing on the ground on his feet. He was considerably shaken up, but the doctor called to attend him
