Mr. Manning, of Chatham, opposed the amendment. He said the Comunittee in reporting the substitute took into consideration the fact that in after years the increase of populatom in the State would demand an increase of the judicial circuits, and the General Assembly in its wisdom could provide for the demand and the necessity of calling a Convention or altering the Constitution by the expensive process of Legislative en-

Mr. Chamberlain advocated the amendment.

Mr. Barringer favored the substitute and opposed the amendment, but gave notice of an amendment requiring its reference to the committee for revision before final adoption.

Mr. Jarvis stated that there was already a provision in the rules requiring every ordinance adopted to be referred to a special committee, co.a. posed of the chairmen of all committees, for revision. Mr. Barringer then withdrew his amendment.

Ordinance from the Judicial Committee to amend sec. 3, art. 4, providing that the judicial power of the State shall be vested in a Court for the trial of impeachments, a Supreme Court, Superior Courts, Courts of Justices of the Peace, and such other Courts inferior to the Supreme Court as may be established by law,

Mr. Bennett, Dem., from the Judiciary Committee, in reply to a question of Mr. Badger, said the bill as it Mr. Badger offered an amendment | came from the Committee would auas follows: "But the General Assem- thorize or allow the re-establishment by the Legislature hereafter, when it may be deemed necessary, of the old Courts of Pleas and Quarter Sessions. Messrs. Buxton, Albertson, Barringer and Tourgee opposed the bill as it came from the committee, but did not favor the amendment of Mr. French. Mr. Buxton thought the County Court system had proved a nuisance and that it was so considered by the people of the State. Mr. Tourgee wanted the bill to define in positive terms what Courts may be established hereafter, and left with the power to increase at therefore moved its recommittal to the committee in order that it may be made more positive in its character. There were gentlemen on his side of the house that wanted amendments of this character, and wanted to vote for the measure. Mr. Coleman, Dem., opposed the recommittal of the bill. The gentlemen who opposed the bill acknowledged that they did not know exactly what change they wanted, and hence be thought the whole question should be placed in the hands of the Legislature, in order that that body may act in the future on this matter as the necessities of the hour may demand. The General Assembly had time to consider this question, and the time of this Convention was limited.

Mr. Badger said the people of this portion of the State could not live under the present court system, as in counties the size of Wake eight weeks of court could not relieve the criminal docket, the civil docket being left untouched, and he favored the bill coming from the committee, leaving the question with the future General Assembly.

Mr. Barringer moved to amend by inserting the words "arbitration and award" after the words "Superior Courts," in order that the public mind may be relieved of any idea of the reestablishment of the old County

Mr. Manix favored the idea of this Convention defining what courts shall be established, and not leaving the matter open to the legislation of any future body which might allow partisan feeling to control its actions.

Mr. Faircloth, Rep., said it was the uncertainty of the Courts to be estab lished, as the bill would indicate, that he objected to, and he thought would also prove objectionable to the people. The fact that the whole question was left subject to annual changes at the hands of the Legislature was of itself objectionable, and he thought it best that the whole matter be defined and decided here. He knew of no disposition with those who co-operated with him to offer any factious opposition to the measure, as every one was compelled to acknowledge the necessity of some to the effect that all sensible people

Mr. Boyd, Rep., explained that he himself and not Mr. "Byrd" introduced an amendment yesterday restricting the power of the Legislature to the making of twelve Judicial Districts.

Smyth, col., arose to a question of personal privilege. Several of the newspaper reporters of the city persisted in appending "colored" to his name when "Mr." was applied to other members upon the floor. He "did not see why such privileges should be taken with his name, as he had no particular familiarity with those reporters, and he should like to be treated as other delegates."

to amendments, already adopted, were laid upon the table. The resolution to defray the funeral expenses of the late Wm. A. Graham, delegate-elect to the Convention from the county of Orange, was

The committee reported adversely thereon. Mr. Avery favored the passage of the ordinance as a matter of justice to the whole people of the State. Mr. Bennett, from the Judiciary Committee, stated the reasons which actuated the Committee in reporting adversely upon this measure, that they did not want to see this court made peripatetic in its character.

Mr. Durham asked it as a measure of jus her to the West, that a term of the Supreme Court be established either in Morganton or Asheville, or to leave this power in the hands of the Legislature. Mr. Albertson opposed the measure, The rotation of the Supreme Court would work hardship to persons of almost every section.
