triotic citizen of the republic; but if we heed the teachings of history we shall not forget that in the life of every nation emergencies may arise when a resort to arm gencies may arise when a resort to arms alone can save it from dishonor. No danger from abroad now threatens the people, nor have we any cause to distrust the friendly professions of other governments. But for avoiding as well as for repelling dangers that may threaten us in the future we must be prepared to enforce any policy which we may think wise to adopt.

The report of the Postmaster General is a gratifying exhibit of the growth and efficacy of the postal service. The receipts from postage and other sources during the from postage and other sources during the past fiscal year were $36,785,397 97. The expenditures for the fiscal year were $39,251,736 46. The deficit, supplied out of the general treasury, was $2,481,129 35. The attention of Congress is again invited to the subject of establishing a system of saving depositories in connection with the Postoffice Department.

Great reductions have recently been made in the expenses of the Star Route service. The investigations of the Department of Justice in the Postoffice Department have resulted in the presentation of indictments against persons formerly connected with that service, accusing them of offenses against the United States. I have enjoined upon the officials who are charged with the conduct of the cases on the part of the Government, and upon the eminent counsel who before my ascension to the Presidency, were called to their assistance, the duty of prosecuting with the utmost vigor of the aw all persons who may be found chargable with fraud upon the postal service.

The acting Attorney General calls attention to the necessity of modifying the present system of the courts of the United States. A necessity due to the large increase of business, especially in the Supreme Court. In view of the fact that Congress has already given much consideration to this subject I make no suggestions as to detail, but express the hope that your deliberations may result in such legislation as will give early relief to our overburden-

For many years the Executive, in his annual message to Congress, has urged the necessity of the strongest legislation for the suppression of polygamy in the Territory of Utah. The existing statute for the punishment of this odious crime, so revolting to the moral and religious sensibilities of Christendom, has been persistently and con-temptuously violated ever since its enact-ment. Indeed, in spite of commendable efforts on the part of the authorities who represent the United States in that Territory, the law has in very rare instances been enforced, and for a cause, to which reference will presently be made, is a dead letter. The fact that the adherents of the Mormon Church, which rests upon polygamy as its corner stone, have recently been peopling in large number Idaho, Arizona and other of our Western Territories, is well calculated to excite the livehest interest and apprehension. It imposes upon Congress and the Executive the duty of arraying against this barbarous system all the power which, under the constitution and the law, they can wield for its destruction. Reference has been already made to the obstacles which the U.S. officers have encountered in their efforts to punish violators of the law. Prominent among these obstacles is the difficulty of procuring legal evidence sufficient the most notorious offenders owing to the fact that the secrecy attending the celebration of marriages in that Territory makes the proof of polygamy very difficult, and the propriety is suggested of modifying the law of evidence which now makes a wife incompetent to testify against her husband. This suggestion is approved. I recommend also the passage of an act providing that in the Territories of the United States the fact that a woman has been married to a person charged with bigamy shall not disqualify her as a witness upon his trial for that offense. I further recommend legislation by which any per-son solemnizing a marrige in any of the Territories shall be required under stringent penalties, for neglect or refusal to file a certificate of such marriage in the Supreme Court of the Territory. Doubtless Congress may desire other practical measures for obviating the difficulties which have

Although our system of government does not contemplate that the nation should provide or support a system for the education of our people, no measures calculated to promote that general intelligence and virtue upon which the perpetuity of our institu-tions so greatly depends have ever been re-garded with indifference by Congress or the Executive. A large portion of the public domain has been from time to time devoted to the promotion of education. There is now a special reason why, by setting apart the proceeds of its sale of public lands or by some other course, the government should aid the work of education. Many who now exercise the right of suffrage are unable to read the ballot which they cast. Upon many who had just emerged from a condition of slavery were suddenly devolved the onsibilities of citizenship in that portion of the country most impoverished by . I have been pleased to learn from report of the Commissioners of Education that there has lately been a commendable increase of interest and effort for their instruction; but all that can be done by local legislation and private gen-erosity should be supplemented by such aid as can be constitutionally afforded by the national government. I would suggest that if any fund be dedicated to this purpose, it may be wisely distributed in the different States according to the rate of illiteracy, as by this means those localities which are most in need of such assistance will reap its especial benefit.

be proposed to that end.

I advise appropriations for such internal approvements as the wisdom of Congress may deem to be of public importance. The necessity of improving the navigation of the Mississippi river justifies special attention to the subject.

In my letter accepting the nomination for Vice Presidency I stated that in my judgment no man should be the incumbent of an office the duties of which he is for any cause unfit to perform-who is lacking in the ability, fidelity or integrity which a proper administration of such office demands. This sentiment would doubtless meet with general acquiescence, but opinion has been widely divided upon the wisdom and practicability of the various reformatory schemes which have been suggested and of certain regulations governing appointments to public office. It seems to me that the rules which should be applied to the management of the pub-lic service may properly conform in the main to the conduct of successful private usinesss. Original appointments should be based upon ascertained fitness; the tenre of office should be stable, and positions f responsibility should, so far as practicale, be filled by the promotion of worthy nd efficient officers.

- Mr. Edward Atkinson believes that there will be a railroad panic and a commercial crisis in the next seven years, but that there will be 117,000 miles of railroad in this country by 1890, and 209,000 by the close of the century. He expresses the opinion that we shall then have railroads enough, assuming that Massachusetts has now reached that point, having one mile of road for 4.12 square miles of surface, which is the largest in the world.

Statesville Landmark. Anentsthe discussion as to whether the tariff, or internal revenue taxes, or both, should be reduced, it is worth while to remark that but for the four years, just ended, of Democratic supremacy in Congress, there would be no surplus revenue to fuss Warsaw Brief Mention.

But, if the News-Observer desires the tax on tobacco and liquor removed, we wholly disagree with our able contemporary. Let the U. S. tax remain, and let Congress make haste to admit duty free all articles of prime necessity and to reduce the duties on all manufactured goods to the minimum point to which the needs of revenue will permit if it takes the last cent off. A protective tariff is an iniquity. It robs one class to enrich another. The class robbed is composed of the many the poor. A protective tariff creates a privileged class of a few nabobs. who roll in wealth by grinding the faces of the poor. Away with pro-tection! To this end keep the tax on liquors and tobacco. and welfare of the State. Weldon News. We see the subject of revenue discussed in our exchanges, most of them favoring the abolition of the whole system. A reduction in the tariff rates is also demanded by many. These two ways of raising revenue affect each other materially, we think. The country requires money for all the machinery of the government and for the payment of the national debt, principal and interest. The money must come from somewhere, and if the internal revenue system is abolished, undoubtedly the government must derive its support from

tures should be protected in the out-set against foreign factories by levying an import duty upon all or certain imported fabrics. Fact, experiment, history point to free trade as the only true principle in every political economy. Any writer upon political economy who advocates protection or even a tariff for revenue, when any other source of revenue is possible, is set down as a quack. It stifles commerce, it hinders communication with the rest of the world, it is unprogressive. England, for whom protection would have been a blessing if to any country, tried it for centuries, and when, in 1846, she was forced to adopt free trade as an experiment, her commerce revived and she is to-day a great manufacturing community, standing firmly by a policy which New England and

New York Financial Chronicle. NEW YORK, December 2.-The movement of the crop, as indicated by our telegrams from the South tonight, is given below. For the week ending this evening (December 2) the total receipts have reached 216,-170 bales, against 221,876 bales last week, 224,420 bales the previous week, and 224,685 bales three weeks since; making the total receipts since the 1st of September, 1881, 2,269,683 bales, against 2,538,057 bales for the same period of 1880, showing a decrease since September 1, 1881, of 268,374

The exports for the week ending this evening reach a total of 84,526 bales, of which 38,921 were to Great Britain, 13,947 to France, and 31,658 to the rest of the Continent, while the stocks as made up this evening are now 966,598 bales. Monday and Tuesday opened low-er and closed dearer; Wednesday was firmer throughout, but did not sustain the highest figures of the day. Thursday was slightly lower through out. To-day the opening was dearer on favorable advices from Liverpool and Manchester, but the close was slightly lower. The Senator, in a short communication of December 3, says, "This person says, I take it for granted that the official acts of public officers are legitimate subjects of respectful criticism." And I also 'take it.' that a man who is a man is neither afraid nor ashamed to criticise a 'public officer' over his proper name and address. Now if 'W.' will put his own name to that criticism, and he be not an attorney of the Richmond & Danville monopoly, I agree to give him a candid and respectful answer to all his objections. I believe I am able, and I know I am willing to defend myself in this matter."

THE FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE OF THE NURSERY.—The following is an extract from a letter written to the German Reformed Messenger, at Chambersburgh, Penn.: A BENEFACTRESS. Just open the doer for her, and Mrs. Winslow will prove the American Florence Nightingale of the Nursery. Of this we are so sure, that we will teach our "Susy" to say, "A blessing on Mrs. Winslow" for helping her to survive and escape the griping, colicking, and teething siege. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup relieves the child from pain, and/cures dysentery and diarrhea. It softens the gums, reduces inflammation, cures wind colic, and carries the infant safely through the teething period. It performs precisely what it professes to perform, every part of it—nothing less. We have never seen Mrs. Winslow—know her only through the preparation of her "Soothing Syrup for Children Teething." If we had the power we would make her, as she is, a physical saviour to the infant race. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle.
