THE NORTH CAROLINA RE RUBLICANS.

Greensboro (N. C.) North State. It is now understood that a majority of the State Executive Committee of the Republican party in North Carolina, by letter to the chairman. has decided that it is impolitic to hold a State Convention this year. and have therefore instructed the chairman not to call a convention. By what course of reasoning members of the committee who are opposed to a convention persuade them selves that the State Committee has the power to decline the call of a ate and referred to the Committee on Nava convention we do not exactly see, nor do we admit the right of the members of the State Committee, whose duties are merely ministerial under the party law, to determine the policy of the party or to do any act relative to its action or government save the strict performance of the duties which devolve upon them under our plan of organization. There ought to be a State Convention, and it should be held at a day as early as possible. The Republican organization should be kept intact, and in thorough condition for an active, aggressive campaign. At no time since the first contest of the party with the Democrats in this State have the circumstances been more auspicious for a Republican triumph. Defeat has obliterated the bitterness of contending factions in the party. The loss of patronage has taken away the strife incident to applications for appointments to office, and the party finds itself with its true and tried following still clinging to it, and ready to do battle for its patriotic principles, and to these will be added numbers of honest, sincere men, who are disgusted at the duplicity and falsehood of the Demjoin with the Republicans and aid them in driving from power a party | to be then continued in secret session. whose only principle in common is hunger and thirst after public plunder. Of course if the committee shall remain unmoved in its refusal to call a convention, the people have a remedy, and that remedy they will most certainly apply. The party being without the necessary machinery for the prosecution of this and of future campaigns, will meet in mass convention, and will proceed to organize and select officers to be intrusted with the execution of the party

Liverpool made a much better report on Thursday, giving a buoyant opening to the market, the advance amounting to 14@16 points from the lowest figures for the week. Then came a reaction under sales to realize. A partial recovery last evening was followed by a fresh decline to day, under a sharp decline at Liverpool and rumors of a failure at Manchester, but there was a steadier closing. Cotton on the spot was dull, but quotations were without change until yesterday, when there was a nominal advance of 1-16c. Today the market was dull and heavy, but quotations were unchanged at 9 9 16c. for middling uplands. The total sales for forward delivery for the week are 346,700 bales.

FORTY-NINTH CONGRESS. PIRST SESSION.

The resolution offered by Mr. Coke, Saturday, discharging the Committee on F urday, discharging the Committee on Finance from the further consideration of the joint House resolution directing the payment of the surplus in the treasury on the public debt, was taken up, but, on a statement by Mr. Sherman, that in all human probability a joint resolution would be reported to morrow for ection by the Seneta ported to morrow for action by the Senate, the matter went over.

Mr. Ingalls offered a resolution (which was adopted), requesting the President to communicate information concerning the alleged detention of A. K. The committee amendment provides that the money shall be expended under supervision of a board composed of one-half civilians and half army engineers, and the scope of the board is extended to embrace the entire system of water supply for the district. The committee amendment was adopted.

The reading of the bill was interrupted to permit Mr. Dawes to report from the Committee on Appropriations the Fortifications bill. He gave notice that he would call it up as soon as the Deficiency bill was passed. The House bill to increase the naval establishment was laid before the Sen-

The reading of the Deficiency bill was resumed. An item was inserted to pay Edwin B. Smith $2,000 for legal services rendered the government in the Guiteau case. The reading of the bill being completed and all amendments reported by the Com mittee on Appropriations being disposed of, the bill was open to general amendment. Items were added of two hundred and for-ty-eight thousand dollars for repayment to importers of duties paid in excess. Also, $626,714 on account of mail transportstion over non-subsidized railroads oper-ated by the Central Pacific Railroad Company for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1886, and prior years.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES. Mr. Holman, from the Conference Com mittee on the Legislative, Executive and Judicial Appropriation bill, reported disagreement. Mr. Holman stated that the real point of difference was the Senate amendment providing for Senators' clerks. The other points of differences were more formal than real. Mr. Oates moved that the House recede from the Senator's clerks amendments. The motion was lost, yeas 96, nays 121 and a further conference was ordered.

Mr. Henley, of California, from the Com

Mr. Henley stated that the distinctive difference between the two bills was, that while the Senate bill forfeited the grant from Wallula Junction to Portland, the House bill included also the forfeiting of the grant from Bismarck to the Pacific ocean. The House bill forfeited 3,300,000 acres more than the Senate bill. As an earnest, he said, of the determination of the Democratic party to fulfill the pledges made in its platform there was now brought forward bill to forfeit the most valuable of all grants which had ever been made in the history of the government to any corporation. The Democratic party proposed to make this bill a test of its fidelity to its pledges. Complaint had been made in the Senate that if this and other made in the Senate that it this and other forfeiture bills were passed, rank injustice might be worked to the railroad corporation, and this complaint had been made as though it were possible for Congress to work divestiture of any legal rights.

Mr. Price, of Wis., could find nothing in the platform of any political party which could justify Congress in violating an ex-pressed or implied contract, as was done in pressed or implied contract, as was done in the House bill. He was not willing to bow so abjectly before the communistic cry of "Damned be railroads," as to break contracts and to break the pledges of par-ties in national conventions. It was demagoguery in the lowest and meanest sense.

Mr. Voorhees, of Washington Territory, favored the House bill, declaring that there were high reasons of public policy why the land grant of the Northern Pacific Company should be taken from its control, as far as this could legally be done. He pictured what he characterized as oppression of the railroad company as practiced in Washington Territory, asserting that it dictated laws relating to railroad taxation and set at defiance every legislative action

Mr. McMillan remarked that there was a parliamentary question as to the right of the House to give these instructions, and remove the conference from being a "full and free conference." ration of the Surplus resolution. Mr. Dawes, who had charge of the Fortification bill, stated that as the bill came from the House it appropriated $6,200,000, although the estimates of the department were about $3,000,000. The amount added to the bill was $620,000, so that it now appropriated $6,630,000. Although the Senate was impatient at debate, he thought it would contribute to a speedy disposition of the bill if he should as briefly as possible, explain what had led the committee to make such a recommendation. He quoted approvingly from the letter of Sam-uel J. The following is the extract read by Mr. Hawley: "The apathy of Congress on this subject would be insteadible if it did not confront us. It centrasts with the rivaly which is so conspicuous to insist on our taking a high tone toward foreign nations on every occasion of difference between them and us. It contrasts, also, with the favor which is shown to schemes of prodigality and schemes to waste public esources on things known to be absolutely useless. Among the people the desire for liberal appropriations towards means of public defence is well nigh unanimous. I am well informed as to the popular feeling from the circumstance that more that seven hundred newspapers, from all parts of the country, and representing all political par-ties, containing expressions upon the subect, have been sent to me. Consideration of the bill was again inter rupted, and Mr. Allison, from the Confer-ence Committee on the Legislative Appro-priation bill, submitted a report which was agreed to. He explained that the two subjects of difference between the two houses were the item for the collection of internal revenue and the item respecting statistical information as to marriage andivorce. RALEIGH, N. C., July 25 .- A new and important question has been raised under the local option law since liquor was voted out of Raleigh Township. The law makes it unlawful to sell liquor until the result of said elections has been reversed by an election. There is a corporation in this township known as the "Capital Club," and, among other things incidental to the main social purposes, the said club furnishes refreshments to it's members such as liquor, wine, beer, cigars, and meals, for their convenience and accommodation, at a price fixed by the House before the Senate a message from the House to the effect that it had instructed its conferees to insist on striking from the bill the items as to Portage Lake and Lake Superior Ship Canal, Lake Michigan and Profit upon the article so furnished.

A LITTLE SUFFERER Cleansed, Purified and Beautified by

It affords me plessure to give you this report of the cure of our little grand wild by your Currcura Remedies. When six months old his left hand began to swell and had every appearance of a large boil. We poult ced it, but all to no purpose. About five months after it became a running sore. Soon other sores formed. He then had two of them on each hand, and as his blood became more and more impure it took less time for them to break out. A sore came on the chin beneath the under lip, which was very offensive His head was one solid soab, discharging a great deal. This was his condition at twenty-two months old, when I undertook the care of him, his mother having died when he was a little more than a year old, of consumption (scrotula of course). He could not, get up if he fell down, and could not move when than a year old, of consumption (scrofula of course). He could walk a little but could not get up if he fell down, and could not move when in bed, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with the CUTICURA REMEDIES, using the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAF freely, and when he had taken one bottle of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT his head was completely cured, and he was improved in every way. We were very much encouraged, and continued the use of the Remedies for a year and a half. One sore after another healed, a bony matter forming in each of these five deep ones just before healing, which would finally grow loose and were taken out; then they would heal rapidly. One of these ugly bone formations I preserved. After taking a dozen and a half bottles he was completely cured, and is now, at the age of six years, a syrong and healthy child. The scars on his hand must always remain: his hands are strong, though we once feared he would never be able to use them. All that physicians did for him did him no good. All who saw the child before using the CUTICURA EMERIESS and see the child now consider it a wonderful cure. If the above facts are of any use to you, you are at liberty to use them. MRS. E. S. DRIGGS.
