and it is said that Richard Croker is a large owner of stock, but he denies that. Roosevelt said in one of his speeches in Colorado that reading a list of the stockholders in that Trust was like reading the roll of Tammany. He knew that was false when he said it. But one thing noticeable in this business, (if the Ice Trust is the Democratic institution that Roosevelt represents it to be) is that the first exposures of its methods, and con-two leading Democratic papers of New York, the Journal and the fought it relentlessly from the beginning, and have done more to ex-

Republican politicians and organs

Roosevelt and his organs are now trying to make a national issue out of this Trust, and to hold the Democratic party responsible for it. But while these New York papers which we have named were fighting it and putting its managers in the pillory, what did Roosevelt do to remedy the evil and relieve the people from its extortions? He was called upon by these Democratic papers, which we have named, to remove Mayor Van Wyck, because,

as they charged, he secured his stock in the that Trust, in violation of a State law. He was and still is Governor of New York.

If that Trust was in violation of the State law, as charged, he had the authority to institute proceedings against it. Did he do it? He never made a movement in that direction, which may, doubtless, be accounted for by the fact, as alleged, that all the directors in it are Republicans, and presumbably friends of Roosevelt. And yet he has the gall to be holding that Trust up to condemnation as a Democratic institution, apparently oblivious of the fact that when he does he condemns himself.

What an unscrupulous mountebank.

A WAIL OF DISTRESS. There are two Hannas who are figuring in the politics of this country-Mark, who is well known to fame, and H. H., who is not so well known. H. H. calls himself a Democrat, but he plays so obediently into the hands of Mark that a good many people suspect him of being a mere puppet of the gentleman who has charge of Mr. McKinley's campaign. Four years ago H. H. Hanna engineered the business for the socalled sound money Democrats, who ran the Palmer and Buckner side show. They didn't think it advisable to run that side show this year because so many so-called sound money Democrats have gone back into the party and are now supporting Bryan and Stevenson that there wouldn't be enough of them to make it worth while to call out the

But Mr. H. H. Hanna hasn't entirely given up hope, and thinks he can play a little side show of his own under the sound money tent. He opens the performance with a grand scare a la Mark Hanna. Here is a sample of his first wild scream, which we find in the Washington Post, with appropriate comment which such insanity would suggest It reads thus:

"Executive Committee of the Indian apolis Monetary Convention of the Boards of Trade, Chambers of Com merce, Commercial Clubs, and Other Similar Commercial Bodies of the ditions, to realize that we are on the verge of a calamity that will certainly destroy the present commercial prosperity.

"If the Bryanites control the lower House they will certainly express re-sentment of the gold standard by the passage of a free silver bill. The Senate would not confirm it, but the simple fact that one House of Congress, so soon after the enactment of the gold standard law, should consent to take such a step would undo our present splendid financial rating. Creditors would lose faith in our stability or continuity of purpose, and commercial confidence would be shaken to tremendous, untold loss. Labor and capital would suffer several years of inactivity and distress.

"With these statements accepted as the plain truth, will any thoughtful man be willing to take any risk? Will any thoughtful man rest content without effort in this campaign? What is to be done? Every patriot who loves his country's good name, every citizen who understands the vital necessity of the employment of our people, must bend his back in another effort to resist the wrong with which the demagogue would burden us.

Can we depend upon you? If so send us the names of ten important men in your town or county who are wavering and whom you believe we could influence by personal letters, and oblige, faithfully yours."
H. H. HANNA, Chairman.

This wail was addressed to some one in Norfolk, Va., and is presumably a sample of the kind that are being sent to all the close districts in the country, where there is any hope of defeating the regular Democratic nominee for Congress. We have no doubt that some of them have been sent into North Carolina districts where the Republicans will agree to support a "McKinley" or has been ordered by the Dowager "Sound Money" Democrat. The agreement was reached because the mine operators consented to an advance of ten per cent. in the wages of the miners, which they had stubbornly refused to grant when the miners asked for an increase although strenuous efforts were made by prominent gentlemen, representatives of various religious denominations, to effect a settlement. The mine operators were then obstinate and arrogant and flatly refused to make any concessions. We were informed several days ago that Mark Hanna, who was fearful of the political effect of the strike, visited New York and had an interview with John P. Morgan, one of the large capitalists interested in the mines, and besought him to use his influence with the mine operators to come to some agreement that would cans in the doubtful districts, but it and Drift to Bryan.

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 25 .-Mr. M. J. Lamson, representative of the largest gas and electric fixture day companies in the United States, and whose territory extends north to Toronto, south to Richmond, and west to Chicago, is firm in the belief that Bryan will be elected. In speaking of the situation yesterday Mr. Lamson "Ever since I reached my majority I have voted nothing but the Republican ticket, but during the past four years I have become so dissatisfied with the present administration that I have determined not only to vote for Bryan, but to use every means in my power to secure his election. I have recently teen in all sections of the Middle West, and find the sentiment most favorable to the success of Democracy.

"In Chicage Mr. Bryan will carry the city by a majority that will astonis the country. To give you an idea of the sentiment that prevails, I went into one of the largest wholesale houses in Chicago, and as I am in this fight in earnest, took a poll of the salesman employed there. Out of thirty-two men, twenty-six signified their intention of voting for Bryan, three were non-committal, and three were for McKinley. To ascertain just what change had taken place in favor of Bryan. I then took a poll of how many of those same men had supported him in 1896. I found, to my res astonisnment, that only eight had voted for the Nebraskan, while the renainder had cast their ballots for McKinley. "I then talked with these men as to the feeling existing throughout their respective territories. Several of them had taken polls of their customers, and had found that the feeling was strongly in favor of Bryan, and that many former Republicans are going to support him. One of these men. whose name I am not at liberty to use. but who travels through the State of Illinois, told me that he believes Bryan will carry that State by at least a

Of course it may sound foolish to talk of carrying Ohio, but it would not surprise me to see McKinley beaten in his own State. My business carries me a great deal among factories, and in three instance in Cleveland l made a poll of factory employes, and found that Bryan is the almost unanimous choice of the workingmen, large number of whom supported Mr.

McKinley in 1896. "Few people can appreciate the influence that 'Golden-Rule' Jones is going to throw to Bryan. He is a man of wonderful popularity, and all of those who supported him for Governor last year will follow his lead at this election. The rural districts of Ohio can be depended on to support Bryan, and with the workingmen following Jones in the cities, I believe the State will surely swing into the

The noose had slipped to his chin when the trap fell tearing opening the wounds which he made when he attempted his own life on the 14th of September, severing the arteries and the blood flowing profusely. He was placed on the gallows the second time at one o'clock, by swinging him on the trap-door and raising him up, springing the trigger immediately. Life was then pronounced extinct in eight minutes.

The Sampson Light Infantry was on the scene as a guard under orders. The body was sent out to the home father in Honeycutt's township, for interment. The ministers present held short divine service just before the execution by reading scripture and prayer. Perfect order prevailed throughout.

The sad news of the death of Mr. Charles Peter Mallett, originally of Fayetteville, at Mount Pleasant, Ga., yesterday morning, was received in the city by members of his family yes terday. His death was very sudden and particulars could not be learned. Mr. Mallett was the son of the late Chas. B. Mallett, of Fayetteville. He moved to Georgia about fifteen years ago to engage in the milling business and has since resided there. He was about 58 years of age and is survived by three daughters, and a son, Mrs R. Lee Holmes, of this city, Miss Marion Mallett, of Fayetteville, Mrs. Harry Overman, of Salisbury, and Mr. Aiken Mallett, of Mount Pleasant, Mr. Mallett was a gallant Confederate soldier, a Lieutenant in the Fayetteville company of the Third regi ment N. C. State Troops, Army of Northern Virginia. He was captured at the battle of Spottsylvania, May 12th, 1864, and until the close of the war was a prisoner at Fort Delaware. He had many warm friends in Wilmington who will mourn his death and deeply sympathize with the sorrowing family in their sad affliction.

Mr. J. E. Mr. Pogue is .thoroughly enthusiastic over the prospects for a successful event, and says his conference with the railroad people here was perfectly satisfactory. Though no definite arrangement can be announced, Mr. Pogue says it may be depended upon that the Atlantic Coast Line will give an equitable rate and one in keeping with its spirit of progressiveness in this particular in the past. Speaking of the Fair, Mr. Pogue says that the outlook is better than in any previous year. It will be a six day's eyent, whereas heretofore only five days has been devoted to it. The attractions will be varied and of high order. The Vanderbilt exhibit of products and stock from his Bilt more estate at Asheville will be larger than ever before. None of this exhibit will, however, enter into the competition for premiums for the reason that Mr. Chas. McNamee, president of the State Agricultural Society, is manager of this feature of the Biltmore estate.

Mr. Pogue is a "State Fair enthusiast" and the great interest manifested this year coupled with his experience during a preceding term as secretary of the Fair, ensures for the occasion the success it richly merits.

Mammoth Business in a Big Building or North Prost Street - Completed the Work of Moving Yesterday.

GAYLORD'S NEW STORE.

Wilmington's Big Racket Store, Mr. George O. Gaylord, proprietor, together with the branch store formerly conducted by Mr. J. R. Boyd on corner of Fourth and Campbell streets and the Bee Hive, recently purchased by Mr. Gaylord from his brother, Mr. W. H. Gaylord, are now all comfortably installed in the mammoth new store recently built for the proprietor on North Front street opposite the Sea board Air Line building. Mr. Gaylord and his corps of salesmen and salesladies, numbering about twentyfive, were "at home" to customers for the first time yesterday and those who had occasion to visit "the biggest store in Wilmington and in the State" were pleased to note the cheerful and busi nesslike appearance of the entire stablishment.

Mr. Gaylord's idea, cherished for a number of years, of a building which would permit the carrying of a business such as his, seems to have found a realization in the new store, which is of brick with pressed brick front and elegant red stone trimmings. It has practically four floors and was erected at a cost of more than $15,000. In a basement 20x30 feet are the electric plant for the elevator and the coal cellar. The first floor is 50x125 feet in size and will be occupied by the retail department. The second floor of equal size is devoted to the millinery department under the careful direction of Miss Alma Brown, who has just returned from a northern trip, where she has been studying latest styles and fancies in the art. The third floor is given over to the wholesale stock in original packages. It is also used for trunks, mattings, carpets and other goods of this character.

The fourth floor is 60x50 feet and is used as a wareroom. Mr. Gaylord is to be congratulated upon his good fortune in securing such a handsome stand for his already large and growing mercantile business.

- Columbus News: The water famine continues, Some of our people have to haul their water. Many have dug their wells deeper in order to get water. Lakes in the White Marsh that were never before known by the oldest inhabitants to go dry, have completely dried up and it will take many years for the marsh to again become stocked with fish.

- Mount Olive Advertiser: Mr. Edward Quinn, team driver for Messrs. Reaves & Bell, lost his life last Monday in a very distressing manner. He was on his way to Mount Olive with a four horse load of green lumber, and it is supposed that he left his seat on the wagon and walked down the ton gue to mount the saddle mule, when he lost his balance, and, falling to the ground, the heavy wheels passed over his head crushing his skull and causing his death in a few minutes.

- Sanford Express: There is a scarcity of negro labor in this section and many of the farmers find it difficult to employ hands to gather their cotton — The Carthage Blade says many of the people are moving from in that section to the cotton mill. Moore county has furnished the mills at Rochingham with a large number of operatives. Several families went from this county to the Rockingham mill two or three weeks ago.

- Wadesboro Messenger-Intelligence: S. W. Caldwell, colored com-monly known as the "Big 'Un," who was severely whipped and driven out of town, by regulators, about two weeks ago, was again "attended to," last Friday night. Caldwell came here from Cheraw late Friday afterternoon and stopped at the depot. About night it became known to some of the regulators that he was here and they at once organized and went to the depot after him. On ariving there he was not to be found but, it becoming known that he was at Russeville, four miles above here, a number of them boarded the train which came along about that time, for that place. On arriving at Russelville Caldwell was seized just as he was stepping on the train. He was taken off some distance and given 20 lashes with a piece of sole leather, after which he promised never to set foot in Anson county.
