An eminent physician now declares that it is his belief that apples elevate the moral standard. Doc, you must admit, however, that an apple was the cause of the first circumstance of conjugal infelicity.

If it is true that the doctors "burnt out" Senator Tillman's throat it stands to reason that the Republicans can look out for some hot stuff when he gets up on his hind legs again.

Ab, there, Judge Parker! It seems to be coming your way whether or not you hand down any opinion on the alleged issues of the day.

More than likely, the reason why the "Democrats" do not get together is because they are not all Democrats.

The A. & N. C. "nigger in the wood pile" seems to be sawing wood but his saw hasn't made much fuss up to now.

We have been advised to follow the rule of frugality. Thank you. The rule of frugality is good enough for us.

The fall of Port Arthur is now a side issue to the job we got by the fall of Cotton.

Spirits Turpentine. June Bilby, a young colored man employed in Slaton & Zoeller's pharmacy, at Tarboro, committed suicide Thursday night by taking laudanum.

Asheville has begun work on a new auditorium. Raleigh will break ground for an auditorium that will seat 3,500 people on the 15th day of March, 1905, and it will be ready for occupancy by State Fair attractions in October of that year.

Clarkton Express: The Charlotte News, in speaking of what Col. Fuller said about never seeing or hearing of anybody who "came from" Bladen county, says: "We suspect that Mr. Fuller is sorry he asked his question. Not to know Bladen county is to argue oneself ignorant of the history of North Carolina."

Charlotte News-Gazette: The penitentiary has at last been made to pay, under its present management, but not to be outdone the Nash county poor house comes to the front with a record of not only supporting itself but of paying a surplus into the county treasury.
