

THE COMPROMISE MEASURES.

Hon. S. S. Phelps, late Whig Senator from Vermont, has written a letter to...

WHO ARE UNIONISTS?

Are they Unionists who, with all their force and by all their votes, opposed the...

It appears to me that we have but one alternative, either to carry out the law...

The ship of our Union, beaten by a storm of disaffection, the counterblasts of Northern and Southern treason, lay on the...

Your long-bred doctrine of Secession is no doubt a fine thing for getting ashore...

What we, under this government, are all embarked on a common bottom. We cannot see...

After disposing of the subject of the constitutionality of the law, the Judge...

From the Richmond Whig. Republicanism and Anarchy.—We often meet, in the Philadelphia papers, such notices...

The "Fillibusters" of the saloons of Philadelphia made their usual preparations...

The murderous scenes described above, have, for years, made, in the Kensington and some other quarters of Philadelphia...

Senator Phelps says of the agitation which is continually going on in regard to the law, and of those who are concerned in it...

He concludes with expressing his approval of the course pursued by Mr. Peck...

FROM THE BALTIMORE AMERICAN.

Another splendid Baltimore Street Establishment.—We have heretofore referred to the improvements which have been made...

New York has been, for some seven years, infested, through a large and populous region, with a lawless and bloody combination...

These things are done in the older and more orderly parts of the country. In the newer, more lawless, under the name of "lynching"...

Yet, with all this despotism of brute force—this blind, sudden and cruel tyranny of whole bodies of violent men at once—this utterly arbitrary and irresponsible...

The building is owned by Mrs. S. H. Norris, and was built after designs furnished by Messrs. Dixon, Baltimore & Dixon, architects.

CONSTITUTION OF INDIANA.—NEGRO EXCLUSION.

In the new Constitution of Indiana, recently adopted, there was an independent clause prohibiting colored persons from emigrating into that State...

The third story, together with the warehouse in the rear, will be entirely devoted to the shirt-making business...

The whole business will be conducted on the most extensive scale, rivaling similar establishments in Boston and New York...

The intelligent correspondent of the St. Louis Republican, gives the following sprightly sketch of a new actress, who is about to make her debut in Paris...

"This lady is only about thirty years of age, but her life has already been varied enough to suit the most greedy romancers. First, abandoned by her mother in the streets of Paris, she begged her bread from door to door...

But let us look back to the history of this country. So far as the States of this Union are charged with the introduction of slaves into this country...

A writer in the Georgia Sentinel expresses a wish that the devil had the South Carolina traitors. We can't see what the devil is to do with them.

lay an old woman, groaning in pain. The child went to her and spoke to her, whereupon the old hag started as if she had been bitten, but immediately turned her face to the wall again.

The interior of the building is finished in the most modern style, and with all the improvements which can add to the convenience and business facilities of the occupants.

The building is owned by Mrs. S. H. Norris, and was built after designs furnished by Messrs. Dixon, Baltimore & Dixon, architects.

The poor husband regretted not having authority enough to bring about a reform and stop the desperate course of his wife.

Among the saloons of the elegant world where gambling was allowed, there was one more dangerous than the others, because the worst of gambling was permitted...

Madame X. set out for the country, without regretting Paris and her disastrous pleasures. After so much excitement, a country life seemed delightful to her.

Madame X. set out for the country, without regretting Paris and her disastrous pleasures. After so much excitement, a country life seemed delightful to her.

Madame X. set out for the country, without regretting Paris and her disastrous pleasures. After so much excitement, a country life seemed delightful to her.

George Pharaoh, hung at West Chester, Pa., on Friday, was a son of Jabez Boyd, who was hung at West Chester on the 21st of November, 1845, for the murder of Wesley Patton, a lad. Pharaoh was hung on the same gallows, and with the same rope.

From the Cincinnati Enquirer.

Strolling through our city, we chanced into an auction room to see what bargains we could make. The auctioneer was upon the stand with a piece of calico.

"Eight cents a yard!—who says ten?" "I'll give you ten," says an old lady. "Going at ten! Going—gone! Yours, madam; walk in and settle."

"I didn't bid on it," exclaimed the old lady, advancing. "Well! thank persons not to bid if they don't want an article," said the auctioneer.

"No one came up—all eyes staring in various parts of the room." "Gone, then, at fourteen! Yours, sir; walk up here!"

The auctioneer, now quite mad, sprang down, and was about collaring the old man, when a person right behind him, cried: "Don't strike him! It was me that said you stole them!"

"Did you know my departed brother?" "Oh yes! Me deacon in his church."

Madame X. had a magnificent cat; Monsieur C. amused himself one day by killing it, for want of something else to do.

"The Fillibusters."—This term is not generally understood, but the New Orleans paper which gives the definition, says, "it was familiarly used in the French and other languages, as descriptive of a class of adventurers of all nations, who, during the last half of the seventeenth century, infested the West India islands and the coasts of Central America, for the purpose of piracy, and were in English more commonly termed Buccaneers."

When junces call us fools without proving us to be so, our best resort is to prove them to be fools without condescending to call them so.—Lacox.

New Cotton.—The first bale of new cotton sold in this market this season...

The Crops.—One of our leading letters on Pom Pot river furnished us with some very interesting information in regard to the Rice and Cotton crops of that region.

The Cotton, he informs us, through the proper Sea Island region, was universally prostrated by the late season, and the plants, loaded with fruit, were in an upright position.

Singular Phenomenon.—It is stated by the Bangor Mercury that "a few eggs as large as a hailstone fell recently at shower at Danbury, Connecticut."

The Remains of Paul Jones.—The correspondent of the London Times says:—"The following memorandum is a friend who has taken some pains to ascertain the last resting place of the late Paul Jones, about which some correspondence has taken place in the English press."

Among the anecdotes detailed by Bushnell in his sermon at Litchfield, the narrative of the Age of Homespun, was the One of the aged Divines of that country still living, was married during the Revolution, but under singular difficulties.

Madame D. had a magnificent cat; Monsieur C. amused himself one day by killing it, for want of something else to do.

The United States Mail Steamer Atlantic has made the most remarkable trip on record. She left New York for Liverpool on the 6th of August, and arrived on the 17th.

Daleville, Miss.—Colonel MacWilliam, in the course of his speech at Daleville, on Tuesday last, declared that Congress had become a "great central abolition society."

TO MY SIBS WITH AN IMPROMPTU. THE BOX NOW PRESENTED TO YOU MY DEAR SIBS. START NOT CONTAINS MEN, though in thirty-two pieces.

OH FA TIE... who desire please give... NEWS FROM DESPATCHES... THE MERCHANT INST... THE LOSS WILL, AT ANY RATE, BE VERY GREAT... THE DESTRUCTION BY THE STORM WAS LIMITED TO THE SEASON, THOUGH IT HAS ITS GREATEST VIOLENCE IN EXTENDING OVER THE ENTIRE STATE, AND EVERY WHERE LEFT DESTRUCTION IN ITS TRACK.