knowledged.

It is purticularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continuous use of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in effect, it finds its way directly to the seat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping spirit, and, in act, intusing new health and vigor in the system.

NOTICE—Whoever expects to find this a beverage will be disappointed; but to the sick, weak and low spirited, it will prove a gesteful aromatic cordial, possessed of singular remedial properties.

CAUTION:

The great popularity of this delightful Aroma has induced many indications, which the public should guard against purchasing be not persuaded to buy anything else until you have given Boer have's Rolfand Bitters a fair trial. 2. To roundy the evil everywhere complained of in common schools, of a perpetual change in text books: an expensive habit, and one which injures the Schools by preventing the children from being classified. A series of home Readers, it was supposed, would be certainly used, and this great evil thus avoided.

3. Economy, the popular system of Readers being too long and being made so often merely to add to the profits of authors and publishers.

This series is to consist of fewer numbers than those generally used, and it is believed that these numbers are sufficient, while if the system were unishing the compare with any either at the North or numbers are sufficient, while if the system were universally used in the State, the sum saved to parents and children would amount to several thousand dollars.
