BOERHAVE'S HOLLAND BITTERS

Such as Indigestion, Acidity of the Stomach, Colicky Pains, Headaches, Loss of Appetite, Nausea, Constipation, Bilious and Nervous Disorders, all kinds of Rheumatism, Neuralgic Affections, It is in numerous instances proved highly beneficial, and in others effected a decided cure.
This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared on a strictly scientific basis, under the supervision of the celebrated Holland Professor, Boerhave. Because of its great success in most of the cases mentioned, it has become the favorite medicine of the world, and is especially so for those of our Northern and Southern States, who are afflicted with indigestion, and other ailments of the stomach and bowels.
It is particularly recommended to those persons who constitute the business of the country, and whose health is of great importance, and whose health is of great importance, and whose health is of great importance.
The great popularity of this celebrated Remedy has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing any medicine not provided with any thing else, until you have seen Boerhave's name on the wrapper. One bottle will convince you how infinitely superior it is to all these imitations.
Sold at $1.00 per bottle, or six bottles for $5.00, by the Wholesale and Retail Druggists.

NORTH CAROLINA READERS. NUMBERS 1 AND 2.
PREPARED WITH SPECIAL REFERENCE TO THE WANTS AND INTERESTS OF North Carolina.
UNDER THE AUSPICES OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF COMMON SCHOOLS, BY Rev. F. W. HUBBARD, PROFESSOR OF THE LATIN LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE IN THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA.
NUMBER 3, CONTAINING A FAMILIAR HISTORY AND DESCRIPTION OF NORTH CAROLINA. Selections in Prose and Verse; many of them by eminent citizens of the State.
HISTORICAL AND CHRONOLOGICAL TABLES, And a variety of Miscellaneous Information and Statistics, by C. H. WILEY.

Number 3 is a new and revised edition of the North Carolina Reader, first published in 1851. Numbers 1 and 2, just issued, complete the series, which, as a whole, exceed in any other series of Readers in the United States, and are complete.
The Editor (Prof. Hubbard) in his Preface to Number 1 deems it proper to allude to a few of the peculiar advantages aimed at by the Superintendent of Common Schools while making efforts to have this work completed. These are,
1. The uncongeniality of a feeling of self-dependence, and the establishment of a regular system of instruction in the State and its institutions. It was not thought important, however, to have more than one number of Readers of merely a local interest.
2. To remedy the evil everywhere complained of in common schools, of a perpetual change in text books; an extensive list, and one which figures the Schools by preventing the children from being classified. A series of home Readers, it was supposed, would be certainly used, and this great evil thus avoided.
3. Economy, the popular system of Readers being long and being made so often merely to add to the profits of authors and publishers.
This series is to consist of fewer numbers than those generally used, and it is believed that these numbers are sufficient, while if the system were universally used in the State, the sum saved to persons and children would amount to several thousand dollars annually.
4. To put in the hands of children learning to read compositions sufficiently familiar but not of the character called school books, containing, in lessons easy enough for all ages, correct specimens of every kind of matter, and inculcating proper morals, and religious instruction.
The prices are, for No. 1, 25 cents; No. 2, 37 1/2 cents, and No. 3, 75 cents. A liberal deduction from these prices to Merchants and School Teachers.
E. J. HALE & SON.

Fire Insurance.
WE refer our readers to the annual statement of the Etna Insurance Company, of Hartford, which will be found in another column. This successful institution was incorporated by the Legislature of Connecticut in 1819, with a paid-up capital of $2,000,000, and its accumulations exceed $800,000 more, making its entire assets over $2,800,000, invested as detailed in the statement referred to. These results indicate that during the period of nearly forty years since its organization, (without a single change of its chief officers,) its institution has been conducted with judgment and prudence. It has been thus far successful in an eminent degree, discharging, as we are informed, all its obligations by the payment of about ten million dollars for losses, without a day's delay in any instance. It has had but little litigation, and notwithstanding the immense number of transactions made. In order to attain as much certainty as possible in such a business as insurance, it has been the practice of the Company, for several years, at great labor, carefully to classify and arrange their risks into about fifty distinct classes, so as to ascertain the amount insured on each class, the amount of premiums received thereon, and the amount of losses upon each. This classification, extending over a long period, and covering property to a very large amount, furnishes reliable data, and presents a substantial basis of actual experience, upon which to conduct its business. Insurance is not a matter of luck or chance, as many suppose; its hazards are ascertainable, and its principles capable of being reduced to a system, the practical working results of which are as certain as that of any other business. The Etna Company, by adhering rigidly to its system, and placing its business upon a healthy basis, has obtained the confidence of the community to an extent surpassed by no other Company in the U. States, and has increased its business since its first year of issue from year to year with a steady growth. One great source of its security is the wide distribution of its risks—a policy which it pursues with great strictness—limiting the amount to be covered in each locality. By this course it has passed, with comparative impunity, through some of the most sweeping and destructive fires, which have swallowed up other companies less cautious in their business. It is a system like this, based upon experience, which gives stability and soundness to a company, and to the assured confidence and security.—Baltimore Patriot.
