ARCHBOLD'S
CRIMINAL PLEADING AND EVIDENCE.
2 vols. Price $12.
JUST PUBLISHED:
A COMPLETE
PRACTICAL TREATISE
ON CRIMINAL PROCEDURE,
PLEADING AND EVIDENCE,
In Indictable Cases,
WITH
MINUTE DIRECTIONS AND FORMS,
For every Criminal Case that can arise, either at Common Law under the English Statutes, or under the statutes of the several states.
COMPRISING THE
"NEW SYSTEM of CRIMINAL PROCEDURE, PLEADING AND EVIDENCE." By Mr. Archbold. And also the fourteenth and last London Edition of Archbold's Pleading and Evidence in Criminal Cases, by Messrs. Jarvis and Welsby. To which are added COMPREHENSIVE NOTES, containing all the American and English Decisions to the date of Publication.
BY THOS. W. WATERMAN,
COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW.
Seventh Edition.
"THE first part of this work is devoted to criminal practice, and the second part to the discussion of the several crimes, the indictment for each offence, and the requisite evidence. It will be found to embrace the entire field of Criminal Law; every proceeding, from the arrest of the offender to his final punishment, being minutely detailed, with forms and directions for every supposable case.
"Archbold has been a standard authority for the last half century. Fourteen successive English and half as many American editions show how it has been appreciated.
"A very considerable period of time and a great deal of labor have been expended upon this edition. Most of the notes have been entirely re-written; and all of them have been re-modeled and re-arranged. A thorough analysis of each subject has been made, which, with a very full index to each volume, it is thought will furnish all needful facilities for reference. The matter has been a good deal condensed, by omitting whatever seemed theoretical rather than practical, by dispensing with such of the English statutes as have no bearing upon American law or practice. The notes in their present form contain, however, a large amount of new matter, and several subjects are introduced which were not treated in the former edition. The authorities have been carefully re-examined, and all of the reported, and numerous manuscript cases in each of the several states, down to the date of publication, added. The criminal statutes of sixteen of the states have been digested and distributed under the appropriate heads, together with such English statutes, the construction of which from their similarity to our own, seemed likely to aid the American practitioner. A concise outline of all the more important cases cited by Mr. Archbold has also been given; thus presenting, in a convenient and accessible form, all of the leading English criminal cases."

JOHN BELL'S RECORD.

THE SLAVERY QUESTION IN 1860.

In the Senate of the United States on the 3d, 4th, 5th and 6th days of July, 1850, Mr. Bell gave his views on the slavery question in all its varied aspects. His opinions on all the material points involved in the subject will be found in the passages from his speech which we proceed to give:

TERRITORIAL RIGHTS OF THE SOUTH.

"In the opinion of by far the greater number of the most eminent jurists of the United States, the laws of Mexico prohibiting slavery at the time of the cession are still in force, and must remain so until they are expressly repealed, either by Congress or the local legislature. This is the opinion of the distinguished Senator from Kentucky [Mr. Clay] himself. Such is the opinion of the scarcely less distinguished Senator from Michigan, [Mr. Cass:] and such is the opinion of the able and eminent statesman, the Senator from Massachusetts, [Mr. Webster:] three leading champions of this bill. I do not forget another Senator from the South, of high rank in his profession, [Mr. Badger,] who is also a supporter of this bill. Thus, sir, slavery, if it goes into New Mexico at all, must force its way there, in despite of all the obstructions of local laws, and of the interdict imposed by this bill on the territorial legislature. Still it is contended that the South is secured in the full benefit of the doctrine held by some of the most distinguished champions of its rights, who maintain that the Constitution proprio vigore, that the flag of the Union protects the citizen in the enjoyment of his rights of property of every description recognized as such in any of the States, on every sea, and in every territory of the Union. And this doctrine, it is said, is well founded, and if it shall be so declared by the Supreme Court, will authorize the introduction of slavery into New Mexico. The soundness of the general doctrine held upon this point, I think, cannot well be questioned or disproved; and if the question related to a territory situated as Oregon was, when the United States came into possession of it, property in slaves would be entitled to the protection of the laws and Constitution of the United States; but the question is more doubtful and formidable to the interests of the South, where it is raised in reference to New Mexico, where there had been an organized society and government for two centuries, and where slavery was prohibited by the local sovereignty before and at the date of the cession to the United States; and where under that prohibition slavery had ceased to exist. The Constitution, in its application to this Territory, is expected not merely to protect property in slaves, as in case of Oregon, before there was any exercise of sovereignty upon the subject one way or the other, but to supercede the local laws in force prohibiting slavery, when the United States came into possession of it. If the obstructions interposed by these laws were removed, then the principles of the Constitution would be left to their full and fair operation and the South might look, with some confidence, to the protection of slave property in this territory, through the courts of the United States."

Mr. Bell was in favor of removing these "obstructions," in order that the "principles of the Constitution" might be left "to their full and fair operation," and that "the South might look, with some confidence, to the protection of slave property in this teritory," as will appear by his vote in favor of the following amendment to the Compromise bill offered by Mr. Davis, of Mississippi:

"And that all laws or parts of laws, usages or customs, pre-existing in the territories acquired by the United States from Mexico, and which in said territories restrict, abridge or obstruct the full enjoyment of any right of person or property of a citizen of the United States, as recognized or guaranteed by the Constitution or laws of the United States, are hereby declared and shall be held as repealed."

The yeas on the adoption of this proposition to repeal or abolish the Mexican laws prohibitory of slavery were as follows:

YEAS—Messrs. Atchison, BELL, Berrien, Clemens, Davis of Mississippi, Dawson, Foote, Houston, Hunter, King, Mason, Morton, Pearce, Rusk, Sebastian, Soule and Yulee.—18. [See Congressional Globe, vol. 21, part 2—page 1254.]

Mr. Bell also voted against an amendment offered to the bill by Mr. Baldwin, declaring that "the Mexican laws prohibiting slavery should be and remain in force in said territory until they should be altered or repealed by Congress." [See page 1146 of same volume.]

He voted, also, against the following amendment offered by Mr. Seward:

"Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, otherwise than by conviction for a crime, shall ever be allowed in either of said territories of Utah and New Mexico." [See page 1134, same volume.]

He voted also in favor of an amendment offered by Mr. Berrien, of Georgia, providing against the passage of any territorial law "establishing or prohibiting slavery." [See same volume and page.]

THE CAUSE OF FREEDOM WRAPPED UP IN THE CONSTITUTION AND THE UNION—"A WRETCH WHO DOES NOT DESERVE TO LIVE."

"The gentlemen from Ohio, [Mr. Chase,] New York, [Mr. Seward,] and New Hampshire, [Mr. Hale,] talk about the cause of freedom. I wish, sir, I had the strength to speak about the cause of freedom. Paradoxical as it may appear, this question is one that concerns the cause of freedom in the South as well as in the North. It is not a question whether you will permit a few slaves of the South to go and toil in California and New Mexico, but it is a question of freedom everywhere. The cause of freedom is wrapped up in the Constitution and the Union. These are the great bulwarks—the Chinese wall of freedom. These once broken down, anarchy and military despotism become our inheritance. This is the stake to some extent at issue now. If we allow faction—fanatical or political—preconceived opinions—prejudice or partiality for particular plans or modes of adjustment to sway our course, we strike a blow at the common liberty. No man can be justified before the country, under such circumstances, in taking the position that he will accede to nothing but what his own judgment prescribes. * * * * * *

"No, sir, if I could dictate the course of Congress in the pending difficulties, I would say let the adjustment be made in the real spirit of concession, compromise and conciliation. Let us have some assurance that the promised harmony shall be permanent. Stay this agitation; allay this burning fever that threatens to consume the system. Terminate this suspense, which is more intolerable than open rupture. If we of the South have made up our minds to yield nothing; endure nothing; or if a better spirit actuates us, and we are prepared both to yield something and to endure something, and yet cannot bring our Northern brethren to any terms of just and equitable arrangement, and they will continue to vex and harrass us, now and forever, let us resolve, and let them suffer us, to manage our own affairs in our way. I trust it will never come to this issue. Sir, to suppose that there is one member of this body who is not ready to sacrifice, to concede something of his individual sentiments to secure an adjustment of these questions—were he untrammeled by pledges, to which he may owe his position here, and which he may not violate without dishonor—to suppose there is one man here from the North or the South, who, upon a cold and selfish calculation of personal advancement, would insist upon extreme issues, is to suppose him a wretch who does not deserve to live."

HUMANITY AND JUSTICE OF THE DIFFUSION AND EXTENSION OF SLAVERY.

"The fanatics and sentimentalists of the North, with all the countenance they receive from the more just and sober-minded opponents of the institution of slavery, would not have been able to conjure up this storm, but for their alliance with other auxiliary and exciting elements of agitation—sectional jealousies, the interests of party and personal ambition. * * * I am not to be deluded, Mr. President, by the appeals from the North, upon the subject of human wrongs and the violation of human rights. I am not to be misled as to the real and
