"The number of robes from the Upper Missouri is larger than last season's receipts. The collections from the Red River of the North, or the robes sold at St. Paul, are some 3,000 less than last year's, and a falling off of some 4,000 robes is also noted in the collections from the Upper Platte and Arkansas rivers, as the hunting grounds in that direction are becoming frequented by gold hunters, and the place of the Indian is being occupied by the whites. In the receipts from the Osage country there is a falling off this year of "The buffalo robes from the Upper Missouri this year, as we learn from the two houses which receive them, number 66,000, besides the usual proportion of other furs. Of these were received 28,000 robes, together with the usual proportion of other furs, by the steamer Spread Eagle, recently arrived from the upper Missouri, 350 miles above the mouth of the Yellow Stone, consigned to and sold by Robert Campbell & Co. Since then the steamers Key West and Chippewa, which ascended the Missouri all the way to Fort Benton, arrived in St. Louis with Pierre Chouteau & Co.'s collection, consisting of 38,000 buffalo robes, 50 packages or 1,300 red calf skins, 2,270 wolf skins, 2,800 prairie fox skins, 5,000 lbs. deer, and 9,860 lbs. elk skins; 8 bales of bear skins, 7 bales of antelope, &c &c. The Prince Across his Mother's Knee .- The Rochester Democrat relates the following on the authority of an eye-witness, a gentleman now re-

"Some thirteen or fourteen years ago, her No. 5, Green St. Majesty, accompanied by the Prince Consort and the Royal children, visited Scotland for the first time. The yacht in which the party travelled by water called at Aberdeen, and of course the loyal inhabitants of that city turned out in large numbers to do honor to their beloved Sovereign. A chants of the place, was formed, and paraded on the edge of the dock to which the vessel was moored at just sufficient distance to prevent people from stepping on board. Seats were erected on the bank, tier, above tier, like those in a c rcus, to accommodate the thousands that assembled to gaze on the spectacle of an anointed Queen. "Her Majesty good naturedly remained on deck to gratify as much as possible the curiosity of the bonny Scots, and promenaded about in full view of the immense crowd. The Prince of Wales, then a child of five or six years old, was with her. Among the other articles of furniture placed on the deck for the accommodation of the Queen was a splendid sofa ornamented with tassels, and the Prince, like other boys of that age, being of a destructive turn, began to pull at one of them in a manner that threatened to detach it. His mother observed the act and ordered him to desist. He did so, but, as soon as her back was turned, seized the tassel again and gave it another jerk. The Queen appeared to have expected something of the kind, for she was at the moment watching him from the corner of her eye. In an instant 1000 Sides Sole Leather, Hemlock & Oak. she turned, and, seizing the luckless heir apparent of England by the "scruff of the neck," elevated one of her feet upon the sofa, hoisted the youngster over her knee, adjusted him in a position mutually familiar to parents and children generally when such ceremonies are to be performed, and gave him a sound spanking. "It may be proper to mention, en passant, for the information of youths who sometimes find themselves similarly circumstanced, that the illustrious sufferer kicked and bellowed under the afflictive dispensation quite as lustily as children ot lowlier birth are wont to do. "The amazement with which the spectators witnessed the example of royal domestic discipline may be imagined, but scarcely described in fit-Cotton Yarns and Sheetings at Manufacturer's ting terms. A dead silence followed for a moment, but it was suddenly broken by a tremendous shout of laughter and applause, which could not be repressed by any thought of decorum, respect for the Queen, or sympathy for the victim of her displeasure. The explosion recalled the royal mother to a sense of her position, and, hav? ing turned toward the crowd for a moment, she hastily descended into the cabin, and was seen no more by the expectant populace.

Growth of the City of Boston .- It has already been mentioned that the valuation of real and personal property in Boston, for the present year, The Mother's Maskey's Masonic Jurisprudence; shows an aggregate of $276,339,900, which is an Flora's Lexicon; Downing's Fruits and Fruit Trees increase of $12,910,900 over last year. Of this increase $7,465,000 is in personal estate. The amount of tax to be raised is $2,530,000, which is at the rate of 93 cents per $100. This is a re-Wood's Practice of Medicine:
