"Now call Foote," said Mr. Webster. At the door Mr. Webster dismissed the carriages of two friends and took them in his. And during that ree miles ride, from the heights of Georgetown to rusi's Saloon in Washington, he poured forth such stream of cloqueuce as our informant said he never and before or since from the lips of mortal man, on greatness and glory of our Union. In the course this outpouring, he supposed an American citizen riving at a foreign court, and being asked, "From hat country do you come?" replying, with a glow of strictic pride, "From the United States of America!" Under what flag do you sail?" "Under the stars and ipes!" And here Mr. Webster dilated upon the wonrful growth of our population, the extent of our ter ory, the power and influence of our government, the ctorious career of our "stars and stripes," and the d, throughout the civilized world. But then he supposed that this glorious Union is ssolved. Some of its stars have "seceded," as they re then, (as now,) threatening to do. Mr. Webster posed another stranger arriving at the same court sked, "From what country do you come?" "From och Car-o-li-na," replies the stranger, with length el emphasis. "And where the h-ll is that?" utter in the deepest tones of that wonderful voice. "Unwhat flag do you sail?" "Under the Palmetto nner!" Cheer after cheer, perfect uproar of cheers, greeted this scene.

STOP THAT STORY!-It is no easy thing to stop a selood. Some one has said that "falsehood will e whilst Truth is putting story about an "Extraordinary Speech from a South-Congressman," has certainly got the start, and eps in too, of Truth. It represents the Hon. Emer-Etheridge, of Tennessee, as making a speech in Inma, and advising his hearers to vote for Lincoln, in ere Bell had a chance. The story has been emphaty contradicted, yet it still goes the rounds. We find the Newbern Progress of Monday. The only parts which are true are, that Etheridge delivered a ch in Indiana and that he will vote for Bell.

ANOTHER .- We would suggest to the N. Y. Times to eep possibilities, if not probabilities, in view, in relat az its stories. That paper, in view of its expectation hat Lincoln will be elected, has become very offensive the South. Until lately its habit has been to accomthy any malignant article with another of a conservasses to have private information that a confession was xtorted from a slave in Alabama "by the application eight hundred lashes to his back." Now we think if by thing before he received half of eight hundred

COME TO THE FAIR.

THE SEVENTH ANNUAL FAIR of the Cumberland 1 County Agricultural Society, will be held at Fayetteville on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, the 14th, 15th and 16th days of November next. The Annual Address will be delivered by Col. W. F. LEAK of Richmond County.

No pains will be spared to make the arrange ments for the Fair complete; and we now appeal to the people of our County to come forward and prove that they have county pride enough, with industry, enter prise and public spirit to back it, to make this Fair ex cel any previous one and to rank far ahead of any other County Fair in the State.

The importance of such an institution for advancing the interest of the Farmer, the Mechanic and the Manufacturer, cannot be doubted. It has for its object the creation of an honest and laudable spirit of emulation among them, by increasing their efforts to excel in their respective departments. This is an age of improvement and progress, and it is the interest of all to keep pace One important step in accomplishing that ob ject is to build up and sustain exhibitions of industry and enterprise where all may meet together, view ca other's works, compare notes, increase in knowledge, and take fresh courage in their respective pursuits. An institution having such objects in view cannot fail to meet the approbation and support of all.

We now invite our fellow-citizens to come and join with us, and to bring with them for exhibition every thing they may have; and we promise to do every thing ur power to make the occasion one of interest, profit and pleasure to every one. We trust that our citizens generally will exert themselves to make every departent of our exhibition complete.

We look to the ladies to fill Floral Hall. They have always performed this part well, and as the time is rapidly approaching, we hope they will be ready again to prove that those who look to them in a good cause we invite the citizens of the surrounding counties to
