ERANSON & FARRAR,

EDWARD PAYSON HALL

WOULD respectfully announce to the public his con-stant and utmost willingness to give instruction to as many as may feel inclined to attend at his Academy, near Christ Church, Rowan county, N. C. His method of communicating knowledge being principally by short oral and practical lectures, the number of pupils he feels himself capable of permanently benefitting would be by no means limited; and during the present dismost impassioned earnestness among teachers, his soul burns with the liveliest real to extend to every child within his reach the benign influence of education. He would briefly state the following, as the leading features of his plan:—

1. That the chief lesson and the chief habit to be inculcated is OBEDIENOE 2 A habit of observation should be formed in the stu-dent. This will inevitably insure his future progress in learning The business of education is half completed, whenever this habit is formed.

oral and practical lectures. All the lessons, both in foreign languages and in English, in the Higher Mathematics and the Natural Sciences, (not even excepting English Grammar and Orthography,) are first pronounced and explained by the teacher, and repeated by the pupil, till the latter understands the import and correct intonation and pronunciation of every word. By this means knowledge is much more rapidly acquired—every thing being learnt correctly, there is nothing to unlearn and as the pupil is compelled to exhibit his understand ing of the subject. Rote and vague verbal description

5. The method of teaching the Latin and Greek is that pursued in the Italian Universities and the Univer-sity of Otho at Athens. By adopting this course, the pupil, without much metaphysical or grammatical training, is immediately introduced to a practical acquaintance with the languages. The Polish youth learn Latin thus, in every town of that country, in a period scarcely ever exceeding two years.

6. That punishment should constitute the exception not the rule in school-government.
